Spencer to Have a Socialist Mayor.

Salisbury Post.

East Spencer will probably enjoy the solitary distinction of being the only town or city in North Carolina having a Socialist as its executive head after the municipal election in May, for the nomination in the mass meeting last night by citizens of that place of Mr. Howard C. Bueck is conceded to amount to an election. Mr. Bueck is a machinist in the Southern's Spencer shops, a young man of strong convictions and a long time champion of Socialism. He was on the Rowan county Socialist ticket last year and dared all comers.

Words to Freeze the Soul.

"Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless." These appalling words were spoken to Geo. E. Blevens, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C., by two expert doctors, one a lung specialist. "After 3 weeks' use," writes Mr. Blevens, "he was as well as ever. I would not take all the money in the world for what it did for my boy." Infallible for coughs and colds, it is the safest, surest cure of desperate lung diseases on earth. 50c. and $1. Guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free. English Drug Co.

Tan of 86 Kills Himself.

Tired of life because of ill health, although he had plenty of this world's goods, being one of the largest real estate owners in the city, Mr. Harman Lushbaugh, who had reached the ripe old age of 86, ended it all today by shooting himself in the mouth with a pistol. He is survived by a large family.

Personal experience with a tube of Manzan Pile Remedy will convince you it is immediate relief for all forms of piles. Can be applied directly to the affected parts, reducing inflammation, swelling and itching. Guaranteed. Price 50c. Sold by all dealers.

Seaboard Improvements at Wilmington and Good Work of Mr. Fetter.

Wilmington Star.

The big dredge Vim of the Maryland Dredging and Contracting Co., which has been at work since the first of the new year on the inland waterway at Beaufort, N. C., reached the city yesterday and will begin work Monday morning in dredging at foot of Brunswick street for the extensive docks and slips which will be a part of the Seaboard Air Line's extensive terminal improvement at this port.

Mr. V. E. McEes of Raleigh, who will be the engineer in charge of the work for the Seaboard, has been in the city this week and has everything in readiness for the beginning of work. The dock is to be dredged to a depth of 24 feet at mean low water so that the largest vessels may receive and discharge cargo into two large warehouses that are to be built on either side, these being 150x500 feet in size and fitted with all the latest appliances in elevators, track, etc. The buildings will be of wood with corrugated iron sides and top and will have immense capacity for the Seaboard's constantly increasing tonnage at this port. These warehouses will have large receiving platforms, 60x120 feet in size, and the present system of warehouses already operated by the Seaboard will be rearranged and re-equipped, so that the terminals will be second to none of their class on the South Atlantic coast.

In addition to the warehouses a large freight depot is to be erected on the site of the old passenger shed which has been torn away. This will be for handling the large local tonnage at Wilmington, and on the second floor will be offices for the Wilmington agency, which is now in charge of Mr. F. A. Fetter, Jr., and to whose personal efforts and executive management a large measure of the Seaboard's Wilmington popularity and prosperity is due. The freight traffic of the Seaboard is constantly increasing on the old Carolina Central division and the building of the new terminals will, without a doubt, attract even a larger tonnage to the port.

Assistant General Freight Agent Cheatham of the Seaboard spent yesterday in Wilmington and talks interestingly of the road's attitude towards the local port. Not only is the Seaboard making a strong bid for local tonnage in the efficiency of its freight movement from here, but the management has and still is exercising its efforts toward locating enterprises here, all of which inure not only to the benefit of the company but to the city as well. The feeling in Wilmington towards the Seaboard is the most friendly and is growing more so in the company's manifest purpose to more than meet the city's half way in needed improvements. (Mr. Fetter is a son of Rev. F. A. Fetter of Monroe).

The Biggest Baby in the World.

"The biggest baby in the world" lives at No. 1617 Washington avenue, this city. He is John Wilson Webb, three years old, and weighs 120 pounds. His mother, who weighs 290 pounds, finds it difficult to carry the baby Jumbo round in her arms, but says that every day she handles him her strength increases. She occasionally takes John Wilson across her lap and applies the maternal slipper, but confesses that it is hard work. Whenever Mrs. Webb and her 120 pound baby appear upon the streets they cause a blockade of traffic by attracting curiosity seekers. Street car conductors invariably demand two fares for mother and son, and as the latter is of adult size the mother has trouble in convincing the conductors that he is only a baby three years old. John Wilson has been in almost perfect health since his birth. His only sickness was a mild case of measles, which reduced his weight merely a pound or two. He cries sometimes, but so loudly that persons in the vicinity who hear him imagine a riot is in progress. Mrs. Wilson is a widow and her infant son contributes to her support. Sometimes he earns $10 a day in public exhibitions as "the biggest baby in the world." The father, who died recently, weighed about 250 pounds.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Oneonta, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children, as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid spring medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion. English Drug Company.

Nothing Cheap Up Here.

Monroe has passed a law making it a fine of two dollars to spit on her sidewalks. On this account we advise the citizens of Union to turn their faces toward Wadesboro, where the fine is only one dollar and where special inducements will be offered them by enterprising merchants.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. English Drug Co.

CANNED SQUEAL.

The Cotton Seed.

OUR esteemed contemporary, Cotton and Cotton Oil News, in a recent issue, presents the following to our notice in an editorial way:

"The meat packers of the North boast that they utilize every part of the hog except his squeal. The cotton men of the South should eliminate every item of waste and they will prosper as the meat packers of the North."

Recently a newspaper clipping informed us that even the squeals of the hog were now being utilized. How? By the talking machine men, to be sure. We have canned ham, canned pork, canned pigs feet, and now canned squeal, with the difference lying in the fact that we don't eat the squeal.

Canned squeal has a market value though, and brings more than the other parts of the hog, considering how common it is. However there are limits to the demand for it, so we infer that there may still be many squeals that will go to waste. Since cotton is not endowed with a voice there is no part of it that can be compared with the squeal of the hog. It seems that it is going out to the hog in the utilization of every part and parcel of it. Its white fibre clothes the greater part of the civilized world as well as that part of the uncivilized world that affects clothing to any extent.

Much of the lint which comes from the seed in ginning takes a journey to Europe where our gifted Teutonic cousins succeed in making a very presentable cloth out of it. Some of it, however, stays at home and goes to make sleeping hours endurable for many, many people, as it fills out the striped covers of the mattress.

From the seed comes the oil that shortens the best pastry, and makes the most delicious doughnuts. The up-to-date cook, be she housekeeper or servant, uses nothing else when she has once tried it. The meats, ground into meal and mixed with hulls, feed man's best friends, the dumb animals in the barn, or help to enrich the land which yields its bounty for his table.

And now comes the wonderful knowledge that the stalks are ready to supply us with paper to write on. Can the hog beat that record? We rather think not.

Boy Shot for Looking at Race Over the Fence.

Climbing a fence at Celtic Park yesterday afternoon to see a Marathon race, says the New York World, Thomas B. Daly, a youngster of fourteen, was shot by a special policeman and is lying in a precarious condition in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City, wounded in his left thigh. Charles Hasse, who did the shooting, narrowly escaped with his life. As the boy toppled from the fence a mob of several hundred infuriated persons chased Hasse, yelling "Kill him!" After a dash of a hundred yards Hasse ran into a house. The crowd surrounded the house and made several attempts to get in.

Officials of the athletic meet and several officers held the crowd back, and while the enraged men were planning an attack Hasse's gray uniform was stripped from him and a civilian suit was lent him. In this disguise Hasse escaped through the mob unrecognized. When the crowd dispersed Hasse was arrested and locked up in the Long Island City station, charged with felonious assault. Hasse said he fired the shot in the air to scare Daly and other boys off, after they had thrown stones at him, but Daly and his boy friends declared he emptied his five-barreled revolver at them.

A Mountain Duel.

Sunday afternoon at Sandy Ridge, Stokes county, about 12 miles from Madison, Marvin Shelton shot and mortally wounded Oscar Woolwine, Shelton also being slightly wounded. It seems that a crowd of men were gathered at an old barn in a field and were drinking, when Shelton and Woolwine, the former 16 and the latter 18 years old, fell out. Woolwine's father-in-law took him behind the barn and, it is said, gave him a pistol, while Shelton stepped out in the field a piece and told them to all come on, he was ready for them. Woolwine at once advanced and was fired on five times by Shelton, he himself firing four times at Shelton. One ball entered Woolwine's right side and came out his left, from the effects of which he died yesterday.

Shelton was only slightly wounded, the ball lodging just under the skin of his left side. Both boys are of well-to-do families. The latest news from the scene of the shooting this morning was that Shelton is still at large. The scene of the sad affair is not very far from the famous Smithtown section, nearly all of whose male population are now serving a sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta for blockading.

You should not delay under any circumstances in cases of kidney and bladder trouble. You should take something promptly that you know is reliable, something like DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills. They are unequalled for weak back, backache, inflammation of the bladder, rheumatic pains, etc. When you ask for DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, be sure you get them. They are antiseptic. Accept no substitutes; insist upon getting the right kind. Sold by English Drug Company.

Strange Case of A Negro College Graduate.

New York World.

"The House Fly at the Bar" has nothing to do with free lunch. It is the text book for the year 1909 that is being used by an army of prominent people who have dropped the "Shame of the Cities" to institute a confidence game against the fly population that will result in making it as hard for a fly to find a home port as it is for Mister Cipriano Castro, late of Venezuela, Berlin, Martinique, Trinidad and a few other places.

Edward Hatch, Jr., of New York is one of the leaders in the movement to make fly paper work a full day for its wage. He is aided and abetted by the Agricultural Department at Washington, the American Civic Federation, the Water Pollution Committee of the New York Merchants' Association and by volunteers in all parts of the nation.

Churches in Montana are singing hymns against the fly, women of Rochester have petitioned the city council to abolish the pest, Boston has put up $100,000 to buy fly traps, sticky paper and otherwise make the Bean City unpleasant for the little visitors, and now special experts are counting the flies which get in traps in various centres where disease is, or where it might be. Profile maps of the gaps made by flies in the populations of American cities show that in July, August and September the fly gets to work in Pittsburgh and New York, devoting only July to Philadelphia and waiting until September to go to Chicago and drive folk off Lake Shore Drive.

Dr. Daniel D. Jackson, who investigated the conduct of the New York flies along the water front, shows that almost all of them are likely to bring typhoid fever. He is sure that of the 7,000 young children that die here annually from intestinal diseases a large percentage are infected by the fly and its bad habits. The campaign against the fly will be pushed with unusual vigor this summer.

Death of General Butler.

Columbia Dispatch, N. Y.

General Matthew Calbraith Butler of Edgemoor, one of the last of the Confederate generals, died to night at 11:40 at a local infirmary. For some weeks General Butler had been ill and had been gradually growing weaker and for several days it had been seen that the end was near. General Butler's death was due to a complication of diseases, induced by an old wound. He lost a leg at Brandy Station, and after recovery continued to serve throughout the war. His wound had not bothered him up to a few months ago.

General Butler was born in 1836 of a distinguished South Carolina family. He served with distinction throughout the Civil war, rising from captain to major general of cavalry in the Confederate service. After the war General Butler took a prominent part in the movement to rejoin the State to the Democratic party and aided greatly in Hampton's victory in the gubernatorial race of 1874. In 1876 General Butler was elected to the United States Senate and served three terms. During the Spanish American war General Butler was a major general in the United States army. After the war General Butler was appointed a member of the Cuban Peace Commission. He is survived by his widow and three children, M. C. Butler, Jr., U. S. A.; Dr. F. W. P. Butler of this city, and Mrs. McNeilly, wife of a naval officer.

On his 73rd birthday, General Butler received a most gratifying notice from the Catholic church. He died within fifty yards of the convention hall in which the secession committee met.

The Postponed Baptizing.

Atlanta Constitution.

The old colored brother prefaced his sermon with the following remarks: "I well knows dat some er you has travelled fur ter see de baptizin' today, but I has ter announce dat dar won't be no baptizin'. Five big alligators has been seen swimmin' derselfs on five logs in de millpond, havin' d'es crawled out fum der long winter sleep; an' hit stan's ter reason dat w'en a millpond sleeps all winter he's mighty hongry w'en he wakes up. Hit may be dat Providence will protect de candidates fer de baptizin', but hit's my opinion dat ter waste into a millpond wid five hongry alligators playin' possum on a log, would be tyin' in de face er Providence!"

$2,120 With Mule and Ox.

The Spring Hope Leader cites the case of John Tyson to prove that diversified farming and hustling will bring money to a farmer. This farmer had a lone mule and an ox for work animals. He made $1,300 worth of tobacco; $135 worth of cotton (3 bales); $240 of corn; $125 of potatoes and $40 worth of peas—total, $2,120.

'T'd Rather Die, Doctor.

"I'd rather die, doctor," said M. L. Bingham of Princeville, Ill. "But you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. Instead, he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of eczema, fever sores, boils, burns and piles abound the world. 25c. at English Drug Company's.

Want Pardon for Dewey.
Governor Kitchin has under consideration the matter of granting a pardon to Thomas W. Dewey, the Newbern banker who went wrong and embezzled thousands of dollars of his bank's money. This is the second time an effort has been made to pardon him. He has served three years of his sentence and has three more to serve. The plea is made for him that he has satisfied justice, that his family needs him, and that his mother is 80 years old and feeble. While there are strong influences at work for him, there is also strong opposition to granting Dewey a pardon, the ground being taken that he stole thousands, that he is no better than any other thief and that his six years' sentence should be served just like hundreds of other men are serving in the State prison.

Will Pay Fine of Nearly $2,000,000.
The anti-trust law of Texas has proved so effective that the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, a branch of the Standard, was convicted and fined nearly $2,000,000 and the judgment was confirmed by the United States Supreme court. The mandate of the United States Supreme court in the case of the State of Texas against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company was expected at Austin last week from Washington. It was said by Judge E. P. Perkins, an attorney for the defendant company, that upon receipt of the mandate the penalty of $1,625,000 and several months' interest at 6 per cent, will be paid the State in cash.
