Dead Man's Family Met for First Time at Grave.

Two men met the other day at the inquest over Michael H. Ahern, 83 years old, a former real estate dealer of Creston, Ia., and learned that for 50 years, Ahern had been the father of two large families neither of whom knew the existence of the other.
 At the inquest the two men stepped forward and identified the body as that of their father. A conversation between the two convinced both, however, that each was right.
 Ahern died suddenly at a Chicago hotel. The sons who met for the first time are Wm. Ahern, 60 years old, who lives in Chicago, and Matthew Ahern of Creston, Ia., 40 years old.
 Wm. Ahern declared his father had left a wife with four small children in Ireland 50 years ago and had come to America. The younger man, taking up the story, said his father had married in Galesburg, Ill., in 1865 and seven children had been born, all but one of whom are still living in Illinois and Iowa. His mother, he said had been dead 9 years.
 The elder man then told of coming to America with his mother, who is still living, after the four children had become of age and finding the father in Chicago. Ahern divided his time between the two families, keeping each in ignorance of the other.

The Twins; Reciprocity and Free List.

The Democratic House of Representatives is the hustlingest set of Congressmen that have been in Washington during the present generation, says the Newton Enterprise. Already the Canadian reciprocity bill has been introduced and will be passed before the present week runs out. And following right on the heels of reciprocity, comes a running mate in the shape of a free list, embracing about one hundred items, which include about every tool and machine used on the farm.
 Senator Simmons and Congressman Webb, Pou, Doughton, Page and Gudgeon wished to combine the two bills, but the majority thought it best to send the reciprocity bill over to Canada without amendment. If neither government changes it, delay will be avoided. There is much good and little harm to any body in the reciprocity bill. Its ratification should not be endangered or delayed. But there is much more good in the free list. It is just as sure to pass the House as the Reciprocity bill is. It is also sure to pass the Senate unless the insurgent Republicans vote differently from the way they talk. And President Taft will have to sign it, or take refuge in a cyclone pit.
 Verily, it looks as if the power of the trusts is tottering, a thing that looked to be a far way off up to the sweep of the Democratic tidal wave last November.

THE ROCKY RIVER ROAD.

An Historic Old Highway That Runs Through This County.
 There is many an historic old highway in this country over which the pioneers of the early days travelled. Such an one is the old Rocky River Road that runs through this county. Of this road Mr. C. E. Hinson writes to the Waxhaw Enterprise as follows:
 "This is the route on which Lord Cornwallis pursued General Green. It begins at Camden S. C., leads through Kershaw, S. C., past Buford battle ground, west of Monroe, is the main street of Concord, N. C., through Salisbury and is almost a straight line to Yorktown, Va., but the name Rocky River only applies in this section of the country.
 "History says that after the battle of Cowpens, in which the Bloody Tarleton was defeated, Cornwallis became so angered that he rushed forward to defeat Morgan. Morgan evaded him and immediately joined forces with Green, who began marching northward towards Virginia, and where he began operating against Traitor Arnold. Cornwallis pursued them as far as the Dan river in Virginia—Greene came on back to South Carolina, where he began a vigorous campaign against Lord Rawden, and Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown.
 "This road is also the watershed of this country for a long distance. In several places the water that falls on the eastern side flows into the Pee Dee river and that on the western to the Catawba. The Rocky River road is about the best road in Buford township. It is nearly level and has a clay foundation with plenty of rock along the line.
 "Back when Monroe and Lancaster were only crossroads (if that) the people used this road to go to Charlotte and Camden. It is also said that there has been more whiskey hauled along this road than any other in North Carolina. And judging from the number of deep cuts in the road they must have hauled a lot of good old honest corn whiskey—the kind that makes grandpa's mouth water. But that has been a long time ago."
 The Journal is of the opinion that Mr. Hinson is mistaken in some of his statements. Certainly he is mistaken in his inference that Cornwallis went from the Dan river to Yorktown, or that he ever pursued Green over this section of the country.
 After Cornwallis defeated Gates at Camden, and that soldier outstripped the remnant of his army in flight, Greene was sent down by Washington to gather up the fragments of the American army and make a stand, if possible, against Cornwallis, whose plans were now ready for the subjugation of North Carolina, as he had South Carolina under his heel. But in Green he met more than his match. He did pursue Green to the Dan river, but he failed to catch him there and started South. Greene, being ready to fight at last, posted himself on Guilford battleground, and there Cornwallis met the disaster that sent him crippled to Wilmington, thence to Yorktown. The battle of Guilford court house was fought in March and Yorktown in October.
 While parts of Cornwallis' army may have been in this section it is not likely that he came this high up on his march from Camden to Charlotte.

We use Live Leather only

Some shoe dealers will tell you they can't give you a good, durable shoe for $2.00 or $2.50. They are right, they can't. The $2.00 shoe they sell is made to fill a demand at this price—not to wear. It is made of seconds—from sole to heel.

The Southern Girl $2.00 Shoe $2.50

is a revelation to every woman who tries it for the first time. In style it is the equal of shoes that cost double the money. It makes the foot feel perfectly at home. It wears better than any shoe you ever bought for $2.00—because we use live leather—a quality sole, insole, counter, heel, linings. How can we afford it?

Go to the Craddock dealer in your town; he knows—he will tell you. Look for the Red Bell on the Box.

A Lost Opportunity.

You often hear the expression, "It takes money to make money." It is true. The failures stand around and wait that if they only had money at a certain time, they could have made money—lots of it. Sure thing. The burning question then is how to get the money. You will not find it rolling up hill nor be able to pluck it off the bushes. You had just as well face it squarely. There is but one way if you are trying to make a start. It is to save. Start a bank account. As soon as you can, lay another dollar beside the one in the bank. Your signature will bring them when the opportunity comes to invest. The failures may see opportunity but it is lost to them. It will be open to you if you have the cash at the bank. Start now. Be ready. The secret of all business success is the ready dollar.
