Notice—When our mercantile business was discontinued last spring there were a great many accounts due us on book, by note, mortgage, etc. These were not sold but were held on for the convenience of our old customers. Some of these had been carried on from year to year. We have been lenient with those who owe us, and while we very much appreciate the custom of the past, the time has now come when the business must be finally settled up. Business is business, and accounts can no longer be carried. We expect settlement from all who owe us right away. Mr. J. D. McRae will be at the old stand on the corner, now Flow & Phifer's, until about the last of October, ready for settlement. After that he will be out of town. We shall be compelled to put into the hands of an attorney all accounts not paid by that time. Don't neglect this matter, but come as soon as possible; see him, and arrange matters. Mr. C. C. Kieffley, who lives near Hornshero, reports that 5 members of his family on one day last week, picked 1665 pounds of cotton. As this is a good deal more than 300 pounds for each one, it was picking some.

All this week the Mack and Hastings Comedy Company will be in the Opera House. The Reek Hill papers say it is one of the best that has ever been there. The prices will be 15, 25 and 35 cents.

At the Dixie tonight there will be a fine comedy "Swat the Fly." Also a fine picture showing relics of George Washington, Mount Vernon, and other things connected with the Father of his Country. Also a song by Mr. Fairley, "In the Land of Harmony."

Dr. E. W. Sikes of Wake Forest College lectured at the Baptist church Sunday morning in the absence of pastor Craig, who is holding a protracted meeting at Hamlet. Dr. Sikes was on the way home from the Kings Mountain Association.

Last Sunday afternoon a commission of Mecklenburg Presbytery organized a Presbyterian church at Rehobeth school house, two and a half miles southeast of Waxhaw, with a membership of 35. The new church begins its existence under very favorable conditions.

Mr. A. J. Greene, carrier on route 9, who keeps his eyes open for the queer and the quaint, has brought to the Journal office a big sweet potato and its vine. The potato is not so large, but the vine is a caution, being eighteen and a half feet long. It was grown by C. F. Doster, colored.

Last week, in mentioning the boys and girls that were going off to school, The Journal made a mistake in saying that Matthew McCauley and Percy and Fitz-Henry Dillon had gone to Fishburn Military Academy, Waynesboro, Va. They will, instead, pursue their studies at the Porter Military School at Charles ton.

Mr. Frank Ogburn of Durham came home Saturday to see his parents here. On Sunday morning Mr. Ogburn, who has a fine tenor voice, made a valuable addition to the choir of Central church. A quartette composed of Mr. Ogburn and his sisters; Mrs. J. W. Yates and Mrs. H. R. Laney, and Mr. Laney, sang most beautifully, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." The four voices, long trained together, are most harmonious and beautiful.
