WON'T HURT LOCAL MERCHANT.

Cal Merchants,

John M. Stahl, legislative agent of the Farmers' National Congress has made an inquiry into the workings of the parcels post in coun-tries where it has been long established, asking particularly, "Do you think that your parcels post has done more harm than good to the shopkeepers in your villages, towns and small cities?" Dudley W. Wal-ton, editor of "Advertising," London, states that it has done the lo-cal merchants good; they "use it both ways," and there is no complaint of its workings. The same Hungary.
