WHAT NOMINATION COST.

Money That Was Spent in Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt Campaigns Before Nomination.

New York World.
Gov. Wilson's campaign for the Democratic nomination for President cost about $214,000. Mr. Taft's campaign for renomination cost more than twice as much; Mr. Roosevelt's battle for the Lord at Armageddon cost more than three times as much, the total Taft expenditures being approximately $475,000 and the total Roosevelt expenditures $688,000, according to testimony thus far taken by the Senate committee.

The Taft expenses and the Roosevelt expenses ought legitimately to have been less than the Wilson expenses. Mr. Taft controlled the Republican national organization, and the whole power of the Federal machine was employed to round up delegates for him. Mr. Roosevelt had no Federal machine, but he had a large number of State machines. The Finn organization in Pennsylvania, the Brown organization in Ohio, the Stubs organization in Kansas, the Johnson organization in California, the Hadley organization in Missouri, the Glasscock organization in West Virginia and the Osborn organization in Michigan were all arrayed on Mr. Roosevelt's side, with their armies of State office-holders.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft had been touring the country for years, making speeches in every important State. One of them had been President for seven years and a half, the other had been President more than three years. In the course of their public careers millions of their addresses and speeches had been sent to voters at the public's expense. Moreover, all the machinery of publicity was at their command.

Gov. Wilson, on the other hand, was little known outside of his own State when his campaign for President began. The rank and file of the Democratic party had never seen him or heard him speak. Everybody knew something about Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, but the work of presenting Gov. Wilson's qualifications for the Presidency had to begin at the beginning.

In addition, most of the regular Democratic politicians were against him. He had no machine support anywhere. Every Democratic boss was opposed to him; every Democratic organization was aiding somebody else's candidacy. Yet in the end he was nominated by the sheer power of a public opinion that was not accelerated with money. Not a dollar of his campaign contributions or of his campaign expenditures requires apology. Neither plutocracy nor privilege filled his coffers. No Perkins lugged Wall street contributions to Armageddon for his benefit.

Nothing better illustrates one of the fundamental differences between the Republican and Democratic parties in this campaign than the pre-convention expenditures of their candidates. In the Republican side the admitted expense of Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt exceeded $1,163,000. In the Democratic side the combined expenditures of Woodrow Wilson and Champ Clark were only $265,468. The Taft-Roosevelt campaign for the nomination cost four times as much as the Wilson-Clark campaign.

It is only Republican candidates who can command these tremendous sums of money. It is only the beneficiaries of Republican legislation and policies who can afford to contribute such sums.

Cotton Stealing.

Waxhaw Enterprise.
Cotton stealing is becoming very popular just at this season. Mr. C. O. Stogner, according to the Lancaster News, rounded up three parties at his cotton house one night last week. They were Charlie Gregory and Lee Helms, white and Sam Nelson, colored. They had visited Mr. Stogner's cotton house before and were going to take a bale this time. Before they got away with the goods Mr. Stogner appeared on the scene with a shotgun. The two white men "lit a rag," but the colored man, who was on the inside of the house, did not care to take any foolish chances in facing a loaded gun and quietly surrendered. Next morning the two white men surrendered. They were all placed under a $500 bond.

Some one lifted about 150 pounds of cotton from the porch of Mr. Spurgeon Walters' house, in the College Hill community, one night last week. Mr. Walters had weighed the cotton the evening before so he would know if any had been taken during the night, but next morning he didn't have to weigh it to see if any was missing as it was nearly all gone.

It's strange that people of refinement and in many instances people of means are fooled into buying the cheapest kind of pianos at an unreasonable price, considering the grade of the piano, through the practice of misleading schemes.

has never advocated the sale of cheap pianos nor allowed unbusiness-like methods to enter their business calculated to mislead their patrons. Our motto is to sell pianos at a price that represent actual values and thereby give the public a square deal.

JACK JOHNSON AGAIN.

White Mother Charges That He Has Her Daughter and Will Not Release Her.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion pugilist, appeared before Chief of Police McWeeny today to explain his relations with Miss Lucile Cameron, the 19-year-old white girl, daughter of Mrs. F. Cameron-Falconet, of Minneapolis, for whom the police had been asked to search by the mother.

In a dramatic appeal Mrs. Cameron-Falconet told of her failure to get her daughter from the influences of the negro. She described her anguish when she learned last Friday that her daughter was a frequenter of Johnson's cafe and how he made a hurried trip here to rescue the girl her interviews with the pugilist who she declared insulted her and flouted her plea that he give up the girl.

Johnson, she said, told her: "he could get any woman he wanted." "When I found Lucile I pleaded with her to come back and I would go to any place with her and shield her from criticism back home. She refused to come, being apparently under Johnson's influence.

"Then I telephoned the pugilist. He said he would send an automobile for me.

"When his automobile arrived he was in it himself, although he said it would be empty. When I entered the machine I drew down the shades so as not to be seen. This nettled him.

"Oh, some of the best white women in Chicago ride in this car," is what he said to me.

"I begged Johnson to give my daughter up. He said he would not and leered in my face.

"We rode to a home on Sheridan road where Lucile was staying. She wept and told me she had gone too far to go back.

"I left her undecided. Finally she came to my hotel. We talked of how she could become disentangled. I was convinced at that time that the negro had a hypnotic influence over her.

"She went downstairs to use the telephone, she said, and never returned. Johnson told me he would give every dollar he had to hold her."

Johnson made an absolute denial of unduly friendly relations with Miss Cameron and that infatuation for the Cameron girl was one of the causes of the suicide recently of his white wife. He declared the girl left her position as cashier in his cafe for another position and that his wife had never seen Miss Cameron.

Miss Cameron was taken into custody by the police, tonight after she had refused to leave her companions in Chicago and accompany her mother to Minneapolis. She was questioned by Police Captain Nootbear and later taken to the South Clark street police station for the night. She was arrested on complaint of her mother, but was not booked.
