Death of Mr. Harry Stewart.
 Charlotte Observer.
 Mr. Harry Stewart died Wednesday night at 10:40 at his home, No. 6 South Graham street, after an illness which began with a stroke of paralysis on August 10 of last year.
 Mr. Stewart was living at that time in Waynesville, where he had moved from this city six or eight months earlier. He then returned here and his strength gradually ebbed away.
 Born 41 years ago on the old Stewart place two miles east of Charlotte, Mr. Stewart has spent a large part of his life here. He was the youngest son of the late W. S. Stewart and Martha Stewart. He is survived by four brothers, Messrs. John C., S. W., Thomas and Richard Stewart, and one sister, Mrs. Daisy McLaughlin, all of this city. He is survived also by his wife, who was formerly Miss Annie Hoover of Paw Creek, and four children, Royce, Ethel, Maggie and Hazeline of this city.

Mr. Stewart was for a time engaged in the mercantile business here and later was for several years associated with the Yarbrough-Bellinger Company. Prior to coming to Charlotte he had farmed for some time on his grandfather's estate in Union County. In Waynesville he was a commission merchant. He was a member of the West Avenue Presbyterian Church, and also of the Knights of Pythias. A man of sterling integrity who commanded the confidence of all, he won many warm friends who became deeply attached.

A Surprise Marriage.

 About 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, just after prayermeeting, Miss Ruby Viola Funderburk and Mr. A. Coner Robinson were happily married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Knight. A few friends had been invited to a supposed birthday party given in honor of Miss Alice Knight. They were entertained by Miss Alice Knight, and refreshments were served by Misses Pearl and Blanche Watts. The guests were soon surprised by the entrance of Mr. and Mrs. Knight, followed by Rev. W. M. Huggins, who met the bride and groom in the middle of the room, and there solemnly pronounced them man and wife.

Miss Funderburk had held a position as saleslady with the Page Land Mercantile Company for two years, and was one of the most popular young ladies of the town. Mr. Robinson is a fine young business man and is engaged in saw mills and other industries. His home is a few miles from Waxhaw, N. C. This popular young couple has a host of friends, with whom we join best wishes in extending congratulations and best wishes. They will make their home near Waxhaw.

Did Up the Alderman.

Goisboro, Feb. 26.—J. W. Cole, a prominent merchant and member of the board of aldermen of the city of Goisboro was viciously attacked on Slocumb street near his store by a white man named George Franklin Monday afternoon.

Mr. Cole was walking down the street cleaning his finger nails with a small pen knife, when Franklin rushed up behind him, and with an oath, struck him. Mr. Cole at first tried to ward off the blows, but when he realized that Franklin had a knife and was cutting him, he ran, and doubtless saved his life by so doing, as Franklin has the reputation of being a very dangerous man. When he ran off he dropped his hat in the street and the other man in his rage, picked it up and cut it into small strips with the knife with which he had been attempting to kill Mr. Cole.

In the preliminary trial before Mayor Higgins, Franklin pleaded guilty and stated that his reason for attacking Mr. Cole was that he had been making remarks about him. He was placed under bond for his appearance at the next term of the Superior court.

Franklin was slightly scratched on the face by the knife in the hand of Mr. Cole. Mr. Cole's wounds were very slight also, but his clothes were badly cut.

While there was saved to North Carolina something like $3,400,000 last year in human lives, there was nothing said about the suffering, anguish, time loss and money saved in preventable sickness. There were something over six hundred fever deaths from typhoid fever alone last year than the year before, and that means about nine thousand fewer cases of typhoid fever, assuming one death in every fifteen cases. Surely this one item of preventable sickness from typhoid fever alone is worth every dollar put into health work.

A Wise Young Man.

Concord Tribune.
 About three years ago a young man from this city went to Mexico to live. He had secured a job with a mining company and everything looked favorable toward winning fame and fortune in his new home. He arrived at the town where the office of the mining company was located and made himself known. He was given a most cordial welcome and told to make himself at home. After being there a short time an acquaintance gave him a pistol and a long knife, telling him to wear them.

"Why should I wear these things?" asked the Concord youth.

"To protect yourself from the outlaws and cut-throats in case you come in contact with them," he was told.

The young man did not take the weapons. He left the quarters in a few minutes and went to the railroad station. That afternoon he was one of the first passengers to board a train for the border and he kept riding until the porter called "Concord."

MURDER IN ATLANTA.

Travelling Man With Three Wives is Killed by one of Them.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25.—"I don't think I killed my husband. If I did it was God's work," sobbed Mrs. J. A. Applebaum at the coroner's inquest late today over the body of J. A. Applebaum, a Chicago travelling man who was shot and killed this morning in a local hotel. A few minutes later the woman was led to jail at the order of the coroner's jury to be held pending an investigation of the tragedy by the county grand jury.

Mystery surrounding the shooting of Applebaum recalls the strange details in connection with the attack on Eugene H. Grace for which his wife, Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace, of Philadelphia, recently was tried and acquitted here.

After a series of domestic difficulties and an alleged unsuccessful attempt at suicide by Mrs. Applebaum three days ago, the Chicago travelling man was found dead in the bath room of his apartment in a local hotel today. Three bullet wounds from a .22 calibre pistol, two in the right arm and one in the chest, caused death.

Theories of murder and suicide both have been advised, combining to form a mystery which was deepened with the examination of witnesses at the inquest this afternoon.

Mrs. Applebaum, hysterical and incoherent at the inquest, offered no solution to the mystery. Declaring that her husband was not cruel and abusive, she told of a quarrel with him last night brought about by an alleged attempt on his part to wrest from her a diamond necklace and diamond earrings.

THROWS ICE WATER.

"All night he was trying to get my jewels," she said. "Shortly after midnight he pushed me out of the room in my kimono. Finally he let me return. He kissed me and tried to get me to give him my diamonds. When I refused he threw ice water on me."

"Later he threw me on the bed. He pulled a pistol, shoved it against my breast and threw out his watch. 'It's 2 o'clock now,' he said, 'I'll give you just five minutes more to live.'"

To repeated interrogations the woman replied: "That is all I remember. I don't believe I shot him."

Much of the testimony in connection with the quarrel was substantial at the inquest by G. Cohen, a commercial traveler, occupying the adjoining room to the Applebaum's in the hotel.

Cohen said that he was startled by three pistol shots shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. He ran to the telephone and, calling the clerk, said: "My God, come up here in a hurry. They are shooting each other up."

FAINTS IN CLERK'S ARMS.

P. T. Thompson, the hotel clerk, who found the body, told of receiving Cohen's telephone message. The witness declared that as he dashed to the stairs, Mrs. Applebaum, clad in a kimono, appeared at the bottom of the steps and fell fainting in his arms. Thompson turned the woman over to a physician and proceeded to the Applebaum's apartment. He found the body partially clothed, on the floor in the doorway between the bed room and bath. The pistol was found several feet away. No powder stains were visible on the body.

Just after her arrest, Mrs. Applebaum stated that she had been married to the Chicago traveling man twice. According to her statement they were first married in New Orleans a year ago. She refused to state where the second ceremony was performed.

"Mr. Applebaum also has a wife in Kansas City," she added. "I have only known about her for a few weeks. Yesterday I learned from some of his letters that he was engaged to marry a woman doctor in Saginaw, Mich., next April."

Advices from Kansas City state that a Mrs. J. A. Applebaum, of that place, has identified the body of her former husband from a telegraphic description. She was granted a divorce from him there a week ago last Thursday and awarded alimony.

Mrs. Applebaum, the prisoner, is said to have been married previously. She has refused to discuss her past further than that her mother and father live in Michigan.

Going to the Inauguration

Waxhaw Enterprise.
 Miss Maggie Davis and Mrs. Emily Houston left Saturday afternoon for Baltimore to buy the spring and summer millinery for the Waxhaw Millinery Company. Mrs. Houston expects to go on to New York, returning via Washington for the inauguration.

Mrs. J. C. Steele and children left Tuesday morning for Rock Hill, where she had been called by a message stating that her sister, Mrs. W. P. Neeley, who is in the Pennell infirmary there, was not expected to live. Mrs. Neeley went to the infirmary several weeks ago for treatment.

Mr. L. E. Brown is spending this week in New York markets buying goods for the firm of Rodman and Brown. He expects to return via Washington and take in the inauguration. Miss Pearl Rodman went last week to Baltimore and New York to buy the millinery for Rodman & Brown.

Four Murder Cases.

 There are four murder cases and several others of interest to be tried at the approaching term of court for this county. The case in which Erl Baker, Henry Lowry and Dan Cadieu were accused of the killing of Dan Lockhart colored, on the road between Page Land and Jefferson last July was tried at the September term of court, but the jury failed to agree, and it will be tried again. Dr. W. C. McManus will be tried for the shooting of J. P. Wallace at McBee as a result of a roman candle battle on Christmas eve. Charlie P. Rushing will be tried for the killing of his wife a few weeks ago, and Henry McKenzie colored, will be tried for the killing of Mart Lowery on Sunday, January 19, 1913, about two miles east of Pageland. Besides these, there will be several others of interest, among which the following will appear: Graham Moree for shooting Police-man Munley at Ruby sometime in January; F. L. Goodson charged with obtaining money under false pretense. He was brought back from Florida by deputy McLaurin about January 1, also there is a case against the Melton woman mentioned in the charges against Charlie Rushing. She is in jail charged with adultery.

Law Back of Health Officers.

Recorder James Pender, of Tarboro, set a splendid example when he fined a diphtheria quarantine breaker the other day. People are entirely too careless in the spreading of contagious diseases. In instances where the law takes every precaution to protect others from infection, the law is frequently broken with impunity. In others, where there is no law, people who are exposed spread the disease thoughtlessly more often than maliciously. Especially is this true in cases of children's diseases, such as measles, whooping cough and the like. Lots of people reason that everybody has to have measles. They just as well get it over. As a matter of fact there is no reason for everybody to have measles, and having the disease does not make people immune. And measles is dangerous. Death is not often a result, but weakness of the faculties is all too frequent.

So many cases of illness are preventable that carelessness in allowing infections to spread is wholly reprehensible. Let the law back our health officers to the fullest extent.
