

The Fact Remains

No amount of misrepresentation by the peddlers of alum baking powders, no juggling with chemicals, or pretended analysis, or cooked-up certificates, or falsehoods of any kind, can change the fact that

Royal Baking Powder has been found by the official examinations to be of the highest leavening efficiency, free from alum, and of absolute purity and wholesomeness.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for making finest and most economical food.

A temporary organization, with Ex-Sheriff E. A. Horn as chairman, has been effected for the promulgation of an oil mill for Marshville. Messrs. J. C. Brooks, F. C. Broadway and A. Phifer have been appointed a committee to look after a site for the plant. This committee will investigate and report at a meeting of those interested in the proposition, to be held at the mayor's office Wednesday night. The citizens of the town and county are lining up nicely in this effort to build an oil mill and it is expected that the stock books will be opened within a few days.

The annual sermon for commencement exercises of Marshville High School will be preached on Sunday, March 22nd, at 11 o'clock a. m., by Dr. S. B. Turrentine, president of the Greensboro College for Women. Dr. E. W. Sikes, professor of history and political economy of Wake Forest College, will deliver the address at 2:50 p. m. on Wednesday, April 1st. Dr. Turrentine and Dr. Sikes are two of the most distinguished characters in the State, and Marshville is fortunate in having obtained their services for the occasion.

Mr. E. W. Flake of Polkton was a soldier in the Civil War and was a good fighter. He was one of the men in charge of the Merrimac when it engaged in that memorable conflict with the Monitor. Mr. Flake is also somewhat of a writer and he has written a most interesting story of the battle between these two small iron-clad vessels that were to make known to the world the fact that the mine as well as the forest must furnish materials for war vessels. This story of that notable battle is neatly bound in booklet form and is sold for 25 cents per single copy or $2.00 per dozen, and it is worth every cent of it.

The continued rough weather has delayed the editors with their annual advice to farmers in regard to the proper methods of farming. But The Home does not feel inclined to criticize newspaper men who feel it their duty to hand out free dope to their friends who till the soil. There is no doubt that good has been accomplished by this class of editorials. A large per cent of the country editors were born on the farm and reared between the corn and cotton rows, and they therefore know something of farm life. It is much easier for a man to tell other folks how to do things than it is to do them himself. And then, too, education confers in ability to think, and if country editors can succeed in getting their readers to do mere thinking along agricultural lines their work has not been in vain.

(From The Wadesboro Ansonian.)

Miss Sallie Clark Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Thomas of this township holds a respectable position with the Hovic Mining Co. of Waxhaw. Miss Thomas is a graduate of a Charlotte business college.

One of the most delightful occasions of the season was the celebration of Dr. E. A. Covington's 76th anniversary Monday night. This was also an anniversary for Miss Kathleen Covington, the Doctor's pretty little granddaughter. A number of friends were present and the evening was spent in pleasant reminiscences of the genial Doctor's long and useful life and also that of his beloved wife. He was happy to have so many of his friends present and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Notably among them was Dr. J. Q. Adams, for many years the pastor of this much-loved couple. His presence added much joy to the evening.

Mr. Thomas Brewer, a prominent citizen of Olive Branch, Union county, spent Saturday here on business.

Hon. R. B. Redwine, accompanied by his wife and five children, spent the weekend with the family of Mr. T. C. Cox.

Mr. C. B. Ross of the farm demonstration department of the Department of Agriculture of the United States has spent the past few days in Anson developing interest in poultry raising. He has made many talks in the county on the subject and it is the purpose to organize a half-dozen or more poultry clubs. Mr. J. W. Cameron, county farm demonstration agent, has been aiding in the work and will continue it.

The following is the will of the late John R. Little, who died a few weeks ago:

John R. Little, Ansonville, Anson County, State of North Carolina.

I do make this my will: If I marry my wife is to be my executor and have my property.

If I do not marry, Lee L. Little is to be my executor. I want to be buried at Ansonville in the graveyard that is enclosed where my mother and father are buried, and am to have a monument of granite base four feet in proportion, don't want it to be too high.

My plantation on Brown creek and Poe Doe river where I am now living with all the growing crops, rouch feed, corn, mules and horses, cattle and all farming tools, gin, saw mill, engine and fixtures, all provisions, all wagons, that are used on the plantation I give to William E. Little, a son of Lee L. Little and Loula Little, who is dead and who was Lee L. Little's first wife.

The rest of my property I give to Walter Little and Sallie E. Little to be divided equally between them. Walter Little is a son of Lee L. Little and Loula Little; Sallie E. Little is a daughter of Lee L. Little and Loula Little was Lee L. Little's first wife.

Lee L. Little has the right to sell and make titles for the children, also to loan money and take mortgages, has the right to make investments for the children.

Signed and Sealed this January 26, 1914.

J. R. LITTLE, (Seal)
Mr. Little was a brother of Messrs. L. L. and R. E. Little. He left an estate worth more than $200,000.

This remarkable will was found among Mr. Little's papers when his big safe was opened. It was a holograph will, having no witnesses, but there was no trouble in proving the hand-writing, which is necessary in such cases. Opening his big safe kept at the First National Bank, required two hard days' work, on the part of an expert from Atlanta. Mr. Little died without giving the combinations and the expert found it a hard task.

There is no correct method yet devised for calculating just what a mule will do under any circumstances and this fact was shown yesterday morning when one of these obstinate beasts, escaped from his rightful owner, Mr. J. B. Sheppard of Ansonville township, and started back to Wadesboro where he was sold by Mr. M. W. Bryant last Friday. Mr. Sheppard and Mr. P. A. Maske followed at a convenient distance in cross country strolls and until his muleship decided to give an exhibition of fancy climbing. This happened at Mr. Walter Lockhart's place where the mule climbed a wall eight feet high and almost perpendicular, jumping the fence into the pasture, where it was captured.

Meeting of the Union County Club at Trinity College.

Correspondence of The Journal.

On Monday evening, March 2, the Union County Club held its regular meeting. As there was no business of importance to be transacted, the meeting was turned into an informal social gathering, and the evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner. Practically all the members were present, who, after being assembled in one of the student's rooms, proceeded to make away with the many good eats which had been prepared for the occasion. After two or three hours of feasting, smoking, joking, and mental hilarity in general, the boys returned to their rooms, having had a most pleasant time in all respects. The next meeting will take place on the first Monday evening in April.

The members of the club are doing good work in college this year, both individually and collectively. The Union county aggregation has this year furnished an intercollegiate debater, a Y. M. C. A. president, a Y. M. C. A. treasurer, the president of the Greater Trinity Club, the business manager of the Chanticleer, a varsity basketball player, a member each for the second teams of basketball and baseball, the staff cartoonists for the college weekly newspaper, the art editor and the assistant art editor of the college annual, the Chanticleer. Besides these important positions, nearly every organization in college has a representative from the ranks of Union county students here, and many officers in these and other organizations are held by Union county men. Too, the students from Union county maintain a very high standard of scholarship. Altogether, this is a very unusual record for the students from any county to make in a single year, and a record to which they may point with great pride. The work of the club has had very tangible results, as may be shown by the number of members composing it, there being nineteen from Union county in Trinity College this year. It is the hope of the club that it may do even greater things in the future, for the foundation on which it rests, and from which its operations are directed, assures it unlimited success.

J. C. L.'S LIST OF CANDIDATES.

Bill Arr of Buford Has Nosed Around and Found Who are Willing to Serve the People and Presents His Biennial List.

In the good year 1914 the voters of Union will have the privilege of again voting for candidates for office from congressmen to township constable. There has not yet been very much said about candidates, but knowing there are always plenty of men ready to serve the dear people, I have made some inquiry to determine who will be our best friends till after election is over. I have learned that there are some avowed candidates and some that are probable candidates.

Beginning at the positions outside of the county, I learn in my efforts to find out the situation, that R. F. Beasley may be a candidate for congress. For solicitor, A. M. Stack, our present able solicitor, will run again. For the State senate for this district, Mr. Ney McNeely is a candidate and Mr. D. A. Houston a probable candidate.

For the Legislature, I have not heard of any positive candidates, but these gentlemen will likely run: H. L. Price, J. Dunham Bundy, W. G. Long, and W. A. Eubank.

For clerk of the court, R. W. Lemon and C. E. Houston.

For treasurer, J. W. Laney, L. R. Holms, and J. Callie Morgan.

For register of deeds, M. C. Long. As probable candidates for sheriff, J. V. Griffith, J. N. Price and T. C. Lee.

For cotton weicher at Monroe, C. B. Harden and probably Luther Williams.

For coroner, J. S. Plyler.

For surrogate, R. B. Weir.

For county commissioners, H. T. Beauvais, T. A. Hudson, A. A. Barrett, and others.

There are other good men who have the bee in their bonnets and you will doubtless hear of their announcements in due time.

Your humble scribe has not said what he wants yet. Let us have a clean and honorable election, and let the will of the people be free and voluntary. Yours for an honest election, J. C. L.

Monroe's Porch.

Some time ago the Monroe folk raised a storm because a porch which had been planned for the Federal building at that place was cut out. The architect said the appropriation for the building would not admit the porch. But the Union sovereigns got busy with Congressman Page and he has secured an allowance of $3,000 for the porch and every citizen in Union, of whatever race or previous condition of servitude, can bask in the sunlight on that porch, put his feet on the banisters— if there are any—chew tobacco and spit where he please. The government has provided that sun prior for the Union county folk and when it is ready they should not permit any petty regulations governing Federal buildings to interfere with their enjoyment of that sun parlor.

The corporation commission estimates that the estate of George W. Vanderbilt in North Carolina will pay the State about one hundred thousand dollars inheritance tax. This is in accordance with a law passed by the last legislature.

A Winter Cough.

A stubborn, annoying, depressing cough hangs on, racks the body, weakens the lungs, and often leads to serious results. The first dose of Dr. King's New Discovery gives relief. Henry D. Saunders of Cavendish, Vt., was threatened with consumption, after having pneumonia. He writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery ought to be in every family; it is certainly the best of all medicines for coughs, colds or lung trouble." Good for children's coughs. Money back if not satisfied. Price 50c. and $1.00. At all Druggists.—H. E. Buckten & Co. Philadelphia or St. Louis.

CORBITT BUGGIES. CORBITT BUGGIES.

When you ride, ride in a Corbitt.

You run no risk when you buy a CORBITT with your eyes shut.

Mr. Corbitt knows how to build them—has been building them for a life time. He made his mistakes in the beginning and learned how to correct them long before many others began to build.

Moreover, after building vehicles for so many years, Corbitt has so much at stake that he wouldn't dare let down in quality, even if he wanted to. He simply has to build the best. His position compels him to do so.

That tells the story. Buy a CORBITT with your eyes shut. They are all good and worth every dollar of the money you pay for them.
