Manuel and his wife have never understood each other, and in spite of praiseworthy efforts on the part of rangement of their life, they never have succeeded in bridging the gulf which opened between them immediately after their marriage. The marriage was an idyll. Queen

Might she not be the means of bringing Manuel back to the throne? Such a role, however, demanded, first of all, experience, and in this the princess

was totally lacking

She found that Manuel was a careless, easy-going, almost irresponsible youth, irresolute, but yet capable of sudden and unforeseen obstinacy. He on his side saw in her a narrow-minded authoritative young person, with ideas which appeared to him out-of-date and provincial-a passion for house keeping and other domestic virtues which fell in neither with his tastes nor his requirements. Under these circumstances a quarrel was inevitable.

Queen Amelia and the intimates of the two families are doing their best to smooth away the differences between the young couple, but they are not

COPIES UNITED STATES STYLES FOR HOME

King Christian of Denmark has decided that the newest of his numerous residences shall be furnished in American style in every detail. The style he has selected to copy is that of the simple and efficient equipment of the average American home. He has long been an admirer of the American arts and conveniences of home-making and he has insisted that his newest house, which is situated on the Skaw, will lack none of them. The excuse for so many residences as King Christian has in so small a country as Denmark is his fondness of keeping in touch with his people, which, he maintains, he cannot do better than by living every-

The king maintains an elaborate entourage, but it is only for the entertainment of visiting sovereigns and diplomats. As for himself he lives in the most simple manner. No ruler in Europe is more easily accessible.

Recently on a visit to Naskov the king was attracted by a delicious apple pie displayed in a shop window. He went inside to buy a piece and while there bought some cake for a small boy in the shop. Later the shop woman learned the identity of her royal customer and she promptly hung out a sign announcing that her shop purveyed to the royal family of Denmark.

NEW SENATOR FROM KENTUCKY

Johnson N. Camden of Versailles Ky., recently appointed by Governor Phone 232. McCreary to fill the seat of the late be elected at the November election, was sworn in at Washington a few days ago. He has not announced his candidacy for the unexpired term of Mr. Bradley, which would end next March, but his friends are pointing out that his appointment would mean little to him if he does not enter the race for the primary nomination. Reports from the Blue Grass state are that Gen. Bennett Young, former Rep. Tin and Slate Roofing and resentative Smith, and former Governor Beckham are considering running for the short term, the latter being a candidate also for the long term.

If Mr. Camden decides to run for 31 W.4th St., Charlotte, N.C. the short term, which is probable, his friends say he will have the best chance of winning.

Mr. Camden is not a stranger to Washington. His father, Johnson N.

Camden served in the senaie from West Virginia from 1881 to 1887, and in 1893 was elected to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Kenna, serving until 1895. The newly-appointed senator during the residence of his father in Washington attended the Virginia Military institute.

HINDU POTENTATE TO VISIT AMERICA

It is not at all unlikely that the Maharajah of Kapurthala will be among the distinguished foreigners who will visit America next year to attend the Panama exposition, so says recent gossip in Paris, where this magnificent "prince of princes" is as well known a figure in the luxurious set as Andre Fouquieres himself. Both are exquisites and it was the Parisian arbiter who went to India three years ago, on the occasion of the wedding of the eldest son of the Maharajah, to lead and arrange the cotillion; for, as an international chronicler on good taste declares, "no ballroom in France is considered complete without the presence of M. Fouquieres," and the Maharajah, who made this occasion like a dream of the Arabian Nights, really had Paris transported to Kapur-

It will not be the first visit of the Maharajah to this side of the Atlantic. He was the rage at Newport twenty years ago, when he was the guest of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and other powerful social leaders. He was unquestionably the fachion. Polished, and with the poise and cleverness of the ideal man of the world, he made a most agreeable impression-indeed, some of the women who recall the graces of the young Hindu potentate declare he was "simply fascinating."

For the above reasons, and on acthe primary the name of John Vann as a suiatble and fit man to represent this county in the House of Represen-DEMOCRATS. tatives.
