IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Monroe Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Monroe who has tested Doan's.

Mrs. B. Brown, Monroe, N. C., says: Doan's Kidney Pills are the best of all kind of remedies and I recommend them whenever I know of anyone suffering from backache or other symptoms of kidney complaint. The action of my kidneys was irregular and my back pained me a great deal. I got my supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from the English Drug Co. They put a stop to all the pains and regulated the action of my kidneys.

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same as Mrs. Brown had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

DAD KNEW SYMPTOMS

SAW SIGNS OF SPRING IN BEHAVIOR OF SMALL SON.

Robert Might Try to Look Innocent, But Father Could Marshal Altogether Too Much Convincing Circumstantial Evidence.

"Robert!"
"Yes, sir."
"I am rather worried about you lately."

"Worried about me, pop?"
"Yes, worried about you!"
"Why, dad, I haven't done a thing to cause you worry."

"I admit that that fact is enough to worry me, but that is not what is worrying me just at present. It is what you have been doing, not what you have not been doing, that has got me guessing!"

"Has mother been telling you—"
"No, your mother has been telling me nothing; I have just been noticing things. The other morning I noticed that you washed your neck and ears and combed your hair."

"But, dad, don't I always do that every morning?"

"Not without being told."

"I don't see why that should worry you!"

"But, Robert, you also shined your shoes twice this last week, and your finger nails have been perfectly manicured during the entire week. Show them to me. There, didn't I tell you?"

"Aw, dad, that's nothing!"

"I am not so sure about that. You have got me to about half promise that I would let you don long pants on your next birthday. Does all this mean nothing?"

"What could it mean, dad?"
"It might mean a number of things. Another thing you have done to cause me uneasiness, is to ask me to let you change from your Sunday school to the Presbyterian Sunday school."

"But, dad, the teacher there—"

"Now, Robert, look me right in the eyes. Has the teacher got anything to do with it?"

"Aw, dad!"

"And your mother tells me that this morning you required ten cents for a composition book, and that at noon, when she was over visiting with Mrs. Conklin, Allie came in from school with two perfectly good oranges which could not have cost less than a nickel apiece, and, in response to her mother's inquiries, told her that you gave them to her. Did you get a composition book today?"

"Nuh-uh, dad, I looked in my desk and saw I had a composition book."

"And you looked at Allie and saw she didn't have an orange to her name. Was that it?"

"Aw, how do you know, dad?"

"I bet I know what Sunday school Allie goes to!"

"So do I, pop!"

"One of the strangest things I have noticed is that you chum with Allie's brother, and you always told me he was a sissy."

"But I didn't understand him, dad. He is all right when you get to know him."

"I have noticed that having a nice little sister, with blue eyes and frizzly hair, and pink hair ribbons, is enough to make any fellow all right!"

"Is that all, dad?"

"That's all I can think of just at present, my boy, except that these signs of spring certainly do make me want to go fishing!"—Houston Post.

When Man "Goes West."

A soldier writing from the trenches asks what is the meaning of the soldier's curious phrase for death, "Going West." Can any reader suggest an answer to this question? Is it soldier slang, or is it a phrase that has grown up during the present war? If a poetical explanation were permissible, the metaphor would be obvious. As the sun goes west so life travels to its end. Henley put the thought in some of his finest lines—

Let me be gathered to the quiet west,
The sundown splendid and serene—death.

Dismissing that symbolical interpretation, one can only guess that the phrase comes from America or the colonies. It is possible, though, we never heard of it in the eastern states of America, that "going West" may be a slang phrase for dying, being considered from an eastern point of view as an equal misfortune. One has to remember that in this war America, Australia and India are all making contributions of men and along with them contributions of slang.—Manchester Guardian.

No Songs Like Old Songs.

The author of "Only a Pansy Blossom" is dead. He was an Iowa man named Frank Howard, and his pathetic ditty netted him a fortune. "Only a Pansy Blossom" was being played and sung to the extent of almost being a nuisance some twenty-five years ago. Mr. Howard also wrote "When the Robins Nest Again," another big song success that was whistled and sung and warbled to a threadbare extent and contributed comfortably to Mr. Howard's worldly means. They have quit writing songs with the punch of "Only a Pansy Blossom." The rag-time stuff about "a big black coon who liked to spoon with that yellow gal in the light of the moon," has supplanted the pansy-blossom variety. While it generally is contended that the world is growing better, there are some departments in the scheme of the universe that have not been improved.—Burlington Gazette.

SALE OF LAND.

By virtue of a deed of trust made to me on the 15th day of January, 1903, by Isaac C. Long and wife, Jennie Long, to secure a certain bond or note of the same date, I will, on Thursday, April 1, 1915, expose for sale to the highest bidder for cash, at the court house door in Monroe, N. C., a certain tract of land of the estate lands of Jacob Long, described as follows:

Beginning at a pile of stones in the old line by a small Black Gum and runs with the old line N. 65 E. 65.50 poles to a stone in an old field; thence S. 82 1/2 E. 143 poles crossing Half Mile Branch and one other small Branch to a Stone (Hickory gone) by a small Sweet Gum, C. W. Long's corner; thence with his line S. 44 1/4 W. 36 1/2 poles to a small Black Oak or Red Oak and Stone by a Double White Oak, a corner of lot No. 3; thence with lot No. 3 N. 84 1-3 W. 176.40 poles crossing Haw Branch (at 50 poles) and Half Mile Branch (at 195 poles) to the beginning, containing thirty-one (31) acres, being Lot No. 4 in partition of estate lands of Jacob Long, deceased.

Sale made to satisfy the provisions of the said deed of trust made upon the day above mentioned.

This March 2, 1915.
H. B. SHUTE, Trustee.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Having qualified as administrator of Mary Houston, deceased, late of Union county, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned on or before the 4th day of March, 1915, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate settlement.

This 3rd day of March, 1915.
W. O. LEMMOND, Administrator.
