Butter-Kist

THE CRISPY WHITE CORN WITH THE TOASTY FLAVOR—IT'S GOOD FOR YOU AND IT TASTES GOOD TOO

Made properly, pop corn is one of the most nourishing of foods. It has greater food value and is more easily digested than rolled oats, rolled wheat, barley and many other cereals. The U. S. Government chemists are the authority for this.

There is no better way to make pop corn than the Butter-Kist way—with first-quality corn—untouched by human hands, the unpopped grains removed, the popped ones toasted to a delicious tender crisp and buttered in just the right proportion with pure creamy butter—all done by the wonderful Automatic Butter-Kist Machine.

DO TRY A BAG OR CARTON OF BUTTER-KIST TODAY

Once tasted you can tell Butter-Kist from other pop corn blindfolded. Butter-Kist keeps fresh and crisp—it just melts in your mouth. Both children and grown-ups delight in it.

LABORERS AND CITIZENS ENGAGE IN SUNDAY BATTLE

Industrial Workers of the World and Sheriff's Men Collide and Several Lives Are Lost.

Everett (Wash.) Dispatch, Nov. 5. Five persons were killed and 40 wounded today in a fight at the Everett City wharf between 250 members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who came here from Seattle on the steamer Verona and a posse of 150 citizens headed by Sheriff Don McRae. Sheriff McRae is among the wounded.

The number of casualties aboard the Verona is not known. After the shooting, in which about 1,000 shots were exchanged, the Verona turned around and started back to Seattle. Many men were seen to fall on the deck of the steamer and others, panic-stricken, jumped overboard. Some were taken from the water, but others disappeared.

The Verona reached Everett shortly before 3 o'clock. The coming of the party of invaders had been announced in messages sent to Everett from Seattle headquarters. A call to Industrial Workers of the World members from all over the State had been issued earlier in the week and the citizens of Everett at a meeting held Saturday night planned to meet the invaders and deny them privilege of landing.

When the Verona reached the city wharf Sheriff McRae who was backed by a posse of deputy sheriffs and citizens stepped forward and informed the men on the boat that they would not be permitted to land. One of the men, evidently spokesman for the party, began arguing with the sheriff and then made a speech.

Apparently as a signal the man dropped his hand and armed men on the steamer opened fire on the posse assembled on the wharf. The first man to fall was Sheriff McRae, seriously wounded. One man was killed instantly and in a moment the crowd on shore was panic-stricken. Deputy sheriffs on the wharf quickly rallied their forces, however, and returned the fire of the invaders on the Verona.

Men on the wharf and on the boat were seen to fall and the Verona immediately backed out of the dock and started back toward Seattle.

The trouble between the Industrial Workers of the World and the authorities at Everett has been on for several months and was the outgrowth of a strike of shingle workers here. After several minor outbreaks of violence during the strike, Sheriff McRae organized the citizens' committee and expelled all members of the Industrial Workers of the World from Everett. On several occasions small parties of men have attempted to enter Everett but have been turned back by the sheriff. Last Monday 45 members of the I. W. W. from Seattle were met at the wharf by the citizens' posse, loaded into automobiles and escorted to a point south of town, where they were liberated and ordered to leave.

Last week "The Industrial Workers," the official organ of the Industrial Workers of the World in Seattle, said forcible expulsion of the men from Everett must be avenged and called for 2,000 volunteers to go to Everett to establish the "right of free speech."

"The fight must be won," said the paper, "as the whole future of the Industrial Workers of the World in this section depends upon the outcome. We want all foot loose rebels in the West to center their attention upon Everett and the trust mill and logging properties. Get on the job and use your judgment."

NEARLY A HUNDRED LOST IN COLLISION

Freight Steamers Ram Each Other and Crews of Both Were Drowned Belfast Dispatch, Nov. 6.

The death list as a result of disaster to the steamers Connemara and Retriever Thursday night is now set at 91. Eighty-two persons lost their lives on the Connemara and nine on the Retriever. Sixty-nine bodies have been recovered. The collision occurred at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, a mile off the coast. The sole survivor of the Retriever James Boyle, was in the water half an hour clinging to an overturned boat, which was washed ashore.

The disaster was due directly to a storm. The incoming Retriever and the outgoing Connemara were steering the proper courses to pass each other in the narrow channel of Greenore harbor. The vessels were nearly abreast when a huge wave struck the Retriever laden with coal altering her course. Before she could recover her bow was driven amidship into the Connemara, which immediately began to settle, turning over five minutes later. The Retriever was so badly damaged that she sank in a quarter of an hour.

The boilers of both steamers exploded after the collision killing a great number of the persons on board as was made evident by the mutilated bodies washed ashore. The people on board did not even have time to secure life belts as none of the dead was found to be provided with them.

Rasmus Ain't Here.

In passing Uncle Rasmus's cabin one night a young man overheard him praying, and walking up to the door began to listen. The prayer ran something like this: "Oh, Lord, Rasmus is tired of de troubles of dis life, send thy angel down to take uncle Rasmus home." Just then the young man knocked on the door, and the startled darkey said, "Who's dat?" The answer came back, "This is an angel to take uncle Rasmus home." "Rasmus ain't here," replied the frightened old darkey.

A man isn't necessarily a coward because he's afraid to do wrong.

The Baptist Movement in North Carolina.

By W. N. Johnson, Secretary State Mission Board.

Many of the intelligent citizens of our state do not know the size or the spirit of this movement. It is immense and significant. It started in the early days of our history as a state. It was born out of the sincere religious aspirations of a plain pioneer people. But it has outrun the pace of the state in its growth in population, wealth and culture. It now numbers at least 275,000 white people. This says nothing of over 200,000 negro Baptists, nothing of thousands of children in Baptist families, nothing of tens of thousands of sympathizers with the Baptist view of Christianity. There are almost as many Baptists in North Carolina as all other church members put together. There are in this state sixty-four Baptist district Associations, over two thousand and one hundred Baptist churches. Still the movement grows by leaps and bounds. At present rate of increase by 1950 there will be in our state at least 600,000 white Baptists.

Three fourths of the North Carolina Baptist strength is in the country. That puts on Baptist shoulders the bulk of the obligation for religious leadership in the present rejuvenation of our country districts. It is a serious question whether they will measure up to the obligation. The commonwealth has them under test at this point.

Some think that the only peculiarity of Baptists in their mode of baptism. But their distinctiveness runs far deeper than that; baptism is only symbolic. But to them, that is important, just because it is simply a symbol. Right of access of each soul to God, the absolute equality of all believers in Christ, the integrity and sovereignty of each local church, these are some of their fundamental distinctions. Their faith is the religious underpinning for democracy; the moral foundations of the modern republic.

The Baptist people of North Carolina have already grown many great institutions: "The Biblical Recorder," their weekly organ, is read by nearly fifty thousand people during the year. Their State Board of Missions handles annually about $150,000. Besides several private schools controlled by Baptists, they have three great colleges, Wake Forest, Meredith, Chowan, and fourteen secondary schools. The Thomasville Orphanage, the pet among their enterprises, is the largest institution of its class in North Carolina and easily one of the largest in all the South.

There are thousands of Baptists in Union county; and Baptist churches dot every township in the county.

The Baptists of Union and adjoining counties will rejoice to see these facts published in their county paper. The Baptists of North Carolina count as one of their most valuable assets the friendship of the local paper which is read by hundreds of Baptist people who do not see the Biblical Recorder.

The next session of the Baptist State Convention meets in Elizabeth City on December 5th. Before that time, there is to be a struggle among the active Baptists of North Carolina. This year they are raising $29,000 for Christian Education, $59,000 for the Orphanage, $150,000 for Missions.

North Carolina Baptists are spending this year in State Missions alone, that is in mission work right here in our own State $55,000. This work is vitally important to the moral, educational and civic life of our whole commonwealth. Here religion and patriotism meet in the Baptist soul. What each Baptist does for the cause shows him both as a Christian and as a citizen. This $55,000 is all to be raised by November 21st. Let every Baptist in Union county do his part in this task. Let no Baptist church of the county fail to take it up in dead earnest.

"The Birth of a Nation" Booked For Farewell Engagement in Charlotte

It will be welcome news to dwellers hereabouts that D. W. Griffith's spectacular romance of the Confederacy "The Birth of a Nation" is to be presented again at the Academy of Music, Charlotte. The dates are the week beginning November 6, with daily matinees, and each presentation will be identical with those which attracted capacity audiences last season. The company carries its own symphony orchestra of 25 New York artists and they will be augmented with the regular theatre orchestra.

This will probably be the farewell visit of the spectacle to Charlotte. Producer Griffith has announced that he will soon withdraw "The Birth of a Nation" from the road to make way for his newest and biggest spectacle, "Intolerance," now running at Liberty Theatre New York, and which will soon be presented in the principal cities. "The Birth of a Nation" will never be presented except in first-class theatres and on account of the lack of stage and electrical facilities, it will never be seen in small towns. The services of 50 electricians, mechanics, projection experts and musicians are employed in each presentation, which lasts 3 hours. Eighteen thousand people and 2,000 horses were employed in making the production, which cost $500,000 and among the historical scenes shown are President Lincoln signing his first call for volunteers Sherman's march to the sea, the Battle of Petersburg, Lee and Grant at Appomattox, the assassination of President Lincoln in Ford's theatre, Washington, and the rise of the Ku Klux Klan.

The prices for this engagement are considerably less than last year's, the $2.00 seats having been eliminated entirely. The best seats at the night performances will sell for $1.00 and $1.50 and the best seats at the matinees for 75c and $1.00. Mail orders accompanied by remittances payable to John L. Crovo, mgr. Academy of Music, will be carefully filled.
