BOY'S ARM SHOT OFF

Fall Season of Accidents Starts Up—And Mr. Orr Broke Off the Pump Handle—Indian Trail News. Correspondence of The Journal.

Indian Trail, Nov. 15.—Miss Wilma Harkey of this place spent Saturday night with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Benton, of the Stouts neighborhood.

We had several new-comers to our school on Monday and are having a fine school.

A meeting of the Community League was held at the school house on last Tuesday night. It was opened by Prof. J. T. Yeargin, in the absence of our president, Mr. J. E. Broom. A good and helpful lecture was given by Dr. J. Y. Fitzgerald on the subject of the evils of cigarette smoking on the youth. This lecture was short but interesting to those who heard it.

The child of Mrs. Vanderburg was laid to rest in the cemetery at Mint Hill Tuesday, after a long spell of illness.

Rev. B. B. Shankel has recently begun at Bethlehem church in Goose Creek township, one of the churches on his charge.

Mr. Avery Killough of Charlotte, who was recently run over by an automobile truck, died Tuesday night from the injuries. He will be brought to this community for burial.

Jesse, the small son of Mr. Irvin Helms, north of this place, had the misfortune of having his right arm shot off up near the shoulder by a shot gun. Clayton Barrett was the one who was handling the gun at the time of the accident. The victim was rushed to the Sanatorium in Charlotte where the wound was hurriedly dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Cox, who have been spending several days with relatives in this neighborhood, returned to their home in Dallas, Texas Wednesday.

Mr. Dexter Orr, who is attending school here, was playing a running game and ran against the pump lever and broke it off.

Mr. J. D. Hall of this village is in Charlotte awaiting an operation for appendicitis.

Rev. A. B. Haywood is preparing to build for himself and young wife, a new dwelling on his lot between Mrs. S. H. Crowell and Mr. Jake Starnes' residence.

Mr. J. W. Rawlings is in Raleigh for a few days on business.—Sir John.

Corn Club, Pig Club, Poultry Club and Canning Clubs Called to Meet

All members of the Boys' Corn Club are requested to meet at the court house in Monroe Saturday, November 25th, at eleven o'clock. Bring ten of the best ears of corn you can select. For the best ten ears, a premium of two dollars will be given, one dollar for the second best ten ears, and fifty cents for the third best.

We know that this has been a hard year for most of you, but whether you have made much or little we want you to come and meet each other, get acquainted, and let's lay plans for next year.

The Pig and Poultry Club members are also requested to meet with us. We will discuss plans for a fair next year for all Club members. Canning Club members are requested to come too, and join in the movement for a Club Fair next fall.

We again urge all of the Corn Club boys to bring ten ears of the best corn you can select. This will be an opportunity for you to see some good corn, learn how to select an exhibit and get in the race for the premiums at the fair next fall.—T. J. W. Broom.

INCREASE SHOWN IN COTTON USED

Nearly 200,000 More Bales Consumed in Three Months Over Same Period Last Year.

Washington Dispatch, Nov. 14. Cotton used in the United States during October amounted to 555,349 running bales, exclusive of linters, compared with 509,762 in 1915, and for the three months ending October 31, 1,643,293 bales compared with 1,463,892 a year ago.

Cotton on hand October 31 in consuming establishments was 1,722,958, compared with 1,345,829 last year, and in public storage and at compresses 2,670,543 last year.

Cotton spindles active during October numbered 32,545,409, compared with 31,377,569 a year ago.

Linters used during October amounted to 66,708 bales, compared with 77,297 in 1915, and for three months 199,932 bales, compared with 205,627 in 1915. Linters on hand October 31, in consuming establishments, amounted to 67,533 bales, compared with 98,114 a year ago, and in public storage and at compresses 76,312 bales, compared with 71,634 a year ago. Linters exported amounted to 7,430 bales, compared with 12,480 a year ago, and for the three months 76,791 bales, compared with 34,840 a year ago.

Imports of foreign cotton amounted to 7,843 bales in October, compared with 13,506 a year ago, and for the three months 23,253 bales, compared with 58,693 a year ago.

Exports during October amounted to 801,471 bales, compared with 675,279 a year ago and for the three months 1,762,821, compared with 1,338,923 a year ago.

MORE RHEUMATISM THAN EVER BEFORE

Clergymen, Lawyers, Brokers, Mechanics and Merchants Stricken.

Our old friend Rheumatism is having his inning this year, and a few words about it may not be amiss.

Wear rubbers in damp weather; keep your feet dry; drink plenty of lemonade, and avoid strong alcoholic drinks. If rheumatism gets you, or sciatica, and you have sharp twinges, gnawing pain or swollen joints or muscles, you can get rid of all agony in just a few days by taking one-half teaspoonful of Rheuma once a day.

All druggists know about Rheuma; it's harmless, yet powerful, obnoxious, yet sure, and a 50-cent bottle will last a long time. Ask the English Drug Company or any druggist.

SCAPEGOAT IS ALSO HAPPY

So Glad That Wilson Was Elected That He Has to Write a Letter—Has Changed His Base.

Whiteville, Nov. 13.—Am feeling so good over the outcome of the election that nothing will do but that I must write to The Journal. Had not seen a copy of the paper for two weeks until Saturday night when I ran down to Chadbourn and about the first thing I did upon arrival was to make a bee-line for the Herald office and rummage among the exchanges for The Journal and the Waxhaw Enterprise, can tell you they seemed like long lost friends. Could only find two copies of The Journal, so I've skipped or lost a week and like Little Bo-Peep, who lost her sheep, I don't know where to find it.

Quit work on the Herald a couple of weeks ago, loafed around for one day and then ran up here to the county seat, before I knew whether or not I wanted to get another job or go home they had me knuckled down to it. Archie King of Waxhaw, is filling my old place on the Herald. There is now three Waxhaw people in this county; they are: Mrs. Kelly Archie and myself. Spent Saturday night with Archie and he came back with me yesterday for the day. He likes this country pretty well but has had little opportunity to see much of it yet. He only came last Monday from Florida, where he has been for a couple of months.

This place is a little larger than Chadbourn and is a great deal better situated as regards drainage, but in some respects it seems just a little queer. The court house is a little over a mile from the railroad station and is, I believe, on the highest point in the county. There is, in reality, two towns in one here, the station, like the court house-town, is named Whiteville, but the postoffice there is known as Vineland and most people allude to the people living around the station as living in Vineland, and us up-towners as in Whiteville. The population, combined, is about three thousand. At the station, or near it, they have a saw mill that has an output of seventy-five thousand feet of lumber per day. The company owns five thousand acres of virgin timber land that has never felt the axe, and as they can and are buying millions of feet of timber from outside parties, it will be years yet before they have occasion to invade their own timber lands.

The boys here are pretty well versed in athletics, they have a splendid football team, and on the diamond this past summer the Whiteville team was known as the crack amateur aggregation in this part of the country. They won 19 out of 20 games and had the impudence to claim that other one. The center fielder is working here with me on the paper and I hesitate to express my opinion of him in public, further than to say that I have to swear at him from morning till night and if it has had the least effect upon the thick skinned reprobate you will have to swear in another witness before you can prove it to my satisfaction. There are three of us working on the paper and I am supposed to be the whole cheese, but I have my doubts about it, have not got a full day's work out of that onery cuss since I came here and I'd like to see the man who could make him work without standing guard over him with a club.

Noticed from the nice little items about it, that many of the correspondents got free tickets to the circus, hope you all had a good time. Robinson's was here last week and I got mine.

It may surprise some of you fellows to know that Mr. Beasley was up here about ten days ago, Rev. L. M. White was with him. He (Mr. Beasley) has been here twice before in the last four or five weeks and I sort of expect he will come again before long.

Well I am going to shut up and try and write a nice long letter to one of the correspondents, have been owing her a letter for a long time, so long that I expect she is plum mad, and justly so, and won't answer my forthcoming attempt to do penance, but here is hoping that I am not very deeply in her bad graces.—Scapegoat.

P. S. I nearly forgot to say Hurrah for Woodrow Wilson! I've been plum crazy glad. So has many another lad.—S-Goaat.

House Flies and Color Effects. That lighting of suitable color may keep flies from hospitals, bakeries, and other places attractive to them, is suggested by C. Galaine and C. Houlbert, two French experimenters. The windows of a room were mounted to turn on a horizontal axis, and, with blue, violet or red glass, the flies entered freely when the windows were open and the room was lighted by the sun, but when the windows were closed the insects became restless, though soon quieting down. On the reopening of the windows, the flies quickly escaped. With green glass the disquiet was less and with white orange or yellow glass, the shut in flies appeared quite contented. Few flies entered when the blue windows were set obliquely so that the room looked blue from outside. It was concluded that to the fly only white, yellow and orange rays are light, and all other colors are dark.

That bunch of brood mares which we received last Friday is the best we have ever received. They are strictly O. K. Better see them while they last.—Fowler & Lee.

The following is the act requiring delinquent tax-payers in UNION COUNTY to pay an additional fee of fifty cents to the tax collector:

Public Local Laws of North Carolina, Session 1915, Chapter 538.

AN ACT TO FACILITATE THE COLLECTION OF TAXES IN ROBESON AND OTHER COUNTIES.

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That any and all persons, firms or corporations in Robeson county who fail or neglect to pay their taxes on or before the first day of February of any year shall pay in addition to the regular tax a fee of fifty cents, the said additional fee to be paid to the officer collecting said tax and retained by such officer as compensation for his services in collecting delinquent taxes: Provided, that this act shall not apply to rural policemen in collecting delinquent taxes in Robeson county.

Section 2. That this act shall apply only to the counties of Robeson, Bladen and UNION.

Section 3. That this act shall be in full force and effect from and after the first day of March, one thousand, nine hundred and fifteen.

Ratified this, the 6th day of March, A. D. 1916.

THIS APPLIES TO CITY TAX THE SAME AS COUNTY TAX.
