

The Wingate School

August the twenty-first is the date for the opening of The Wingate School, and it is very important that every student be there on the first day.

Boys and girls should make sacrifices to prepare themselves for the great opportunities that are just ahead. Some new features in our college preparatory course will greatly improve the work in this department.

The music Department is under the management of Miss Nettie Liles, a teacher of wide experience in this kind of work. She has been very successful in her profession.

Miss Lea is to return as director of the Business Department, and from the enquiries of students a large class is assured. New fields in this line of work open up great opportunities for girls and boys.

All expenses are very reasonable. Tuition has not advanced. In the grades it is from $1 to $2, and in High School from $2.50 to $3.50 per month. Board in private homes for $12 per month. A large number of students plan to do light housekeeping. We have two large houses near the school for this purpose. Those interested should enquire into the excellent arrangement for girls.

A play, "Home Ties," will be rendered on the evening of August the twentieth by former graduates of the school.

For further information, address J. G. CARROLL, Wingate, N. C.

"Bat" Masterson

In the days when "gunfighting" was considered the king of sports, there lived in Dodge City, Kan., an enthusiastic exponent of the art. He was "Bat" Masterson. Born in Iroquois county, Illinois, in 1854, and brought up on a farm, Masterson at an early age became an artistic manipulator of the "six gun" and jumped into the limelight by the powder route.

It became rather obvious to the general public who from time to time came into contact with young Masterson that his talents of a lead-throwing nature were good, and he received a wide berth from those of meeker spirit.

In the early days of the great West, when it was necessary to get food from the game herds of the plains, Masterson was employed to kill buffaloes for some of the great hunting outfits which plied between the Arkansas and Canadian rivers, and it was during this period of game massacre that he received the nickname of "Bat."

In 1872, due mostly to the accurate rifle fire of Masterson, 300 thousand buffalo hides were shipped from the single town of Dodge, which would indicate that his knowledge of the grazing grounds was only second to that of "Buffalo Bill."

When the Cheyennes took to the warpath in 1874 he enlisted as a scout under General Nelson A. Miles, and saw considerable service. It was during this period that the famous battle of "Dobe Walls" took place at Dodge, when Masterson and some 15 other buffalo hunters stood off 500 Indians who had "jumped" the reservation and attacked the town.

Masterson during the fight, according to the tales of some of the survivors, jumped from a second-story window of the dobe buffalo shack and scalped a number of Indians under heavy fire.

Later, when he had reached the advanced age of 22, Masterson was elected sheriff of Ford county, Kansas, which housed within its borders the lively town of Dodge.

Masterson's reputation as a gun fighter grew with the town, and it soon became apparent that "Bat" rather enjoyed the prospect of a "meeting-up" with a "bad" man, so much so, in fact, that "bad men" decided that Dodge was rather an unhealthy place to "start something."

To more clearly illustrate the foresight and activity which the wary Masterson displayed on various occasions, it is necessary to explain the conditions which existed in Dodge City at the time he was in his prime.

Several gentlemen from Texas, who by nature were inclined toward quick shooting, had wandered into Dodge City at various periods in quest of explosive enjoyment. Their demise had been quick, and relatives in the Lone Star State had intimated that some day they would journey north and wipe Masterson and Dodge city off the map.

Masterson had several friends in Dodge who were rather handy with their artillery, and, always believing in preparedness, Bat rallied them to his standard. Luke Short, Wyatt Earp, "Gyp" Halliday and a few more "quick-pulling" residents of Dodge started cleaning up their sawed-off shotguns and oiling their Colts. These gentle souls were all proficient gun artists, and they resented very much the idea that the fair reputation of Dodge should be threatened by an invasion from Texas.

Word went out that when the war started every man with a Texas cow hat was legitimate prey, and each night the Dodge residents waited for the opening of hostilities.

One afternoon Clay Allison, the Texas chieftain, road into Dodge and announced that he was out for blood. Masterson was seated in the sheriff's office, and hearing the oratory, started out the door and covered Allison from the rear with a shotgun. He made no sound, but waited. Finally, the Texan turned around and discovered that he was in rather a dangerous position, which resulted in a "drawing of horns."

Realizing that Dodge and Masterson were ready for any emergency, the Texas belligerents decided that "peace talk" was in order, and what might have been one of the bloodiest chapters in the history of Dodge was never written.

Masterson later came East and was appointed a Deputy United States Marshal for the Southern District of New York by President Roosevelt. He later was offered a position as a sporting writer on a metropolitan daily and now turns out sporting "dope" in truly docile manner.

He is very much averse to publicity on his past life and has never been known to "give out a story" concerning it. Those who knew him in the wild days of Dodge, however, never tire of telling of his exploits.

"Bat" is now a familiar figure among the bright lights of Broadway, where he now is known by the imposing cognomen of "William Barclay Masterson."

Hoch Der Kaiser!
Der Kaiser of dis Fatherland
Und Gott on high all dings command,
Ve two—ach! Don't you understand?
Myself—und Gott!

Vile some men sing the power divine,
Mine soldiers sing "Der Watch am Rhine,"
Und drink der health in Rhenish wine
Of Me—und Gott.

Dere's France, she swaggers all around;
She's ausgespielt, of no account,
To much, we dink, she don't amount;
Myself—und Gott!

She vill not dare to fight again,
But if she should, I'll show her blain
Dot Elsass und (in French) Lorraine
Are mein—By Gott!

Dere's Grandma dinks she's nicht small beer,
Mit Boers und such she interfere;
She'll learn none owns dis hemisphere
But Me—und Gott!

She dinks, good frau, fine ships she's got,
Und soldiers mit der scarlet goat,
Ach! We could knacker dem pouf, like dot.
Myself—mit Gott!

In dimes of peace, brebare for wars,
I bear der spear und helm of Mars,
Und care not for a dousand Czars—
Myself—mit Gott!

In fact, I humor ebery whim,
Mit aspect dark und visage grim;
Gott pulls mit me und I mit him,
Myself—und Gott!

NOTICE OF SALE REAL ESTATE
Under and by virtue of the provisions of a deed of trust bearing date of 29th day of April, 1909, by E. S. Carraway to C. S. Massey, trustee for the A. W. Heath Company, and at the request of the holder of the bond secured by said deed of trust, which said deed of trust has been duly registered in the office of Register of Deeds for Union county in book A. L. of deeds, page 132, to which reference is hereby craved for a more particular description, I will on Monday, the 10th day of Sept., 1917, at twelve o'clock, at the court house door in the city of Monroe, county of Union and state of North Carolina, offer for public sale to the highest bidder, for cash; all of that tract of land lying and being in Buford township, Union county, North Carolina, bounded on the North, West and South by the lands of W. L. Belk; on the East by the lands of D. C. Wallace and others, containing about 36 acres, more or less, and being the home place of the said E. S. Carraway.

On this property there is a prior deed of trust registered in Book A. 1, page 134, but from the purchase money, the prior encumbrance will be removed.

This the 10th day of Aug., 1917.
C. S. MASSEY, Trustee.
Redwine & Sikes, Attys.

The complete equipment of the Monroe Steam Laundry will be sold to the highest bidder, at public auction, at the court house door in Monroe, at 12 o'clock M., Monday, September the 3rd.

Marshallville Locals.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Marshallville, Aug. 9.—Mr. Wm. T. Griffin and son, Roy, Messrs. Redin Campbell and Charles Russell of Jonesboro are visiting relatives in Marshallville and surrounding community.

Mrs. M. P. Blair accompanied her mother, Mrs. Mary Bloxom, on her return to her home in Bloxom, Va., Tuesday. Mrs. Blair will visit relatives and friends for a couple of weeks before returning.

Mrs. B. C. Griffin and little daughter, Virginia, are visiting relatives in Statesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Armfield and little daughter, Kate, of Los Angeles, Cal. are visiting the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. Armfield.

Mr. George Medin has joined the aviation corps of the United States army and left last week for a training camp in Kentucky.

Mr. C. W. Wren and small son, Bruce, of Hoffman were visitors at the hotel last week.

Mrs. J. C. Little of Raleigh is visiting her mother, Mrs. Irene Marsh.

Mrs. J. M. Griffin of Charlotte was here Monday in the interest of a Woodman Circle.

Mrs. T. W. Ashcraft returned Saturday from a visit to her home folks at Mars Hill.

Mrs. Robert Cunningham and little daughter, Helen, of Monroe arrived this evening to visit her sister, Mrs. J. B. Bailey.

Mrs. Ernest Barrett and baby, Julia, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lee, in Lanes Creek township.

Miss Emma Biggers of Mint Hill was a pleasant visitor in town last week. Miss Biggers has spent several seasons here, in charge of Marshallville's millinery department, and numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. C. M. Griffin and family are visiting relatives in Stanley county.

It has just become known that Mr. Will H. Edwards, son of Esq. and Mrs. A. P. Edwards of Marshallville township, and Miss Bertha Baucom, daughter of Esq. and Mrs. Henry Baucom of Lanesboro township, Anson county, were secretly married on the night of June 4. Rev. T. P. Little performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are worthy young people and their many friends wish them much happiness and success in life.

Miss Maude Moore of Rock Rest is the guest of Miss Kate Morgan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Yow and baby

of Carthage are pleasant visitors at Rev. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Trouble Due to Disgruntled Republicans.

Today's Greensboro News carried the following Washington dispatch relating to the draft agitation in this county:

"Solicitor W. C. Brock of Wadesboro, who is visiting here, today declared that the main opposition to the draft in North Carolina, especially in Union county, comes from disgruntled Republicans. He said few Democrats are protesting against the law and that the state has been done a great injustice by the press reports circulated throughout the country that the people of North Carolina have caused riots in an effort to prevent the law from being carried out."

HOGWALLOW NEWS

Isaac Hellwanger has read something about somebody's move to establish nation-wide prohibition. He says if this project is carried to a success and everybody is forced to drink nothing but water, in a few years there won't be enough of it left to wash a person's face.

A traveling photographer was here the other day and made a lot of tinnies for some of our best looking people. Isaac Hellwanger bought several dozen of his wife's pictures, as that was the first time he had ever caught her looking pleasant.

Atlas Peck thinks it is a good thing that the public does not know as much about a man as his wife does.

Miss Hostetter Hocks, who has been wearing her bouquet of flowers on the west side of her hat for the past several years, has moved them to the top for this season.

In order to save useless work Fletcher Henstep this year planted his garden on ground that was too poor to grow weeds.

Mrs. Washington Hocks set a hen last week and since then she has had Wash wearing his overshoes so he won't jar the eggs when he walks.

Frisby Hancock says he never turns and stares back at a good-looking young woman if he can possibly help it.

A doctor is the only married person in existence who can enjoy unrestrained liberty, no questions asked. He can go from home any time, day or night, and stay out as long as he likes, and when he gets back he does not have to account for his deeds and misdeeds.

After being out of fix for the past several weeks the Wild Onion school teacher is again in a good humor and has come out for world-wide peace.

Raz Barlow says as soon as he has a few more pictures made of himself he is going to paste them together and have them run through the magic lantern.

Sidney Hocks fooled the Dog Hill congregation last Sunday. When the preacher asked everybody to rise and sing, Sid got up, but instead of singing he merely chewed his wax and nobody knew the difference.

A number of our most prominent citizens, and Sim Flinders, Poke Easley, Wash Hocks, Ellick Hellwanger, Tobe Moseley and Frisby Hancock, held a long discussion over the question of useless citizens, while seated on the fence near the postoffice one day last week. The result of their talk was a general agreement among them that a useless citizen is one who works and attends to his own business.

Yam Sims thinks the Excelsior Fiddling Band should be put after the Kaiser.

The Dog Hill church women are trying to get up an ice cream supper for this summer. While the public in general does not like church ice cream, all of the members will have to eat some, anyway.

The Excelsior Fiddling Band rendered several nice pieces of music at the open air entertainment the other night. However, they played so fast that when they got through the audience was completely out of breath.

While there are a number of marriageable ladies in the Hogwallow section who do not have any pronounced public admiration for the Widow of the Calif Ribs neighborhood, she acts toward them as a woman should, and only last Sunday was seen to turn up her nose at Miss Flutie Belcher when the latter saw her sitting on a stump at the Dog Hill church talking to Sidney Hocks.

Charges Chicago Effort to Obstruct Draft Work.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Maj. B. M. Chip-erfield, of the staff of Provost Marshal General Crowder today undertook to speed up the work of the draft exemption boards hereby ordering the dismissal of one member, ordering another back from a fishing trip and laying before the federal authorities a mass of evidence of attempts to obstruct the machinery of the draft.

Marshallville Locals.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Marshallville, Aug. 9.—Mr. Wm. T. Griffin and son, Roy, Messrs. Redin Campbell and Charles Russell of Jonesboro are visiting relatives in Marshallville and surrounding community.

Mrs. M. P. Blair accompanied her mother, Mrs. Mary Bloxom, on her return to her home in Bloxom, Va., Tuesday. Mrs. Blair will visit relatives and friends for a couple of weeks before returning.

Mrs. B. C. Griffin and little daughter, Virginia, are visiting relatives in Statesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Armfield and little daughter, Kate, of Los Angeles, Cal. are visiting the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. Armfield.

Mr. George Medin has joined the aviation corps of the United States army and left last week for a training camp in Kentucky.

Mr. C. W. Wren and small son, Bruce, of Hoffman were visitors at the hotel last week.

Mrs. J. C. Little of Raleigh is visiting her mother, Mrs. Irene Marsh.

Mrs. J. M. Griffin of Charlotte was here Monday in the interest of a Woodman Circle.

Mrs. T. W. Ashcraft returned Saturday from a visit to her home folks at Mars Hill.

Mrs. Robert Cunningham and little daughter, Helen, of Monroe arrived this evening to visit her sister, Mrs. J. B. Bailey.

Mrs. Ernest Barrett and baby, Julia, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Lee, in Lanes Creek township.

Miss Emma Biggers of Mint Hill was a pleasant visitor in town last week. Miss Biggers has spent several seasons here, in charge of Marshallville's millinery department, and numbers her friends by the score.

Mr. C. M. Griffin and family are visiting relatives in Stanley county.

It has just become known that Mr. Will H. Edwards, son of Esq. and Mrs. A. P. Edwards of Marshallville township, and Miss Bertha Baucom, daughter of Esq. and Mrs. Henry Baucom of Lanesboro township, Anson county, were secretly married on the night of June 4. Rev. T. P. Little performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are worthy young people and their many friends wish them much happiness and success in life.

Miss Maude Moore of Rock Rest is the guest of Miss Kate Morgan this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Yow and baby

of Carthage are pleasant visitors at Rev. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Mrs. J. W. Little's.

Trouble Due to Disgruntled Republicans.

Today's Greensboro News carried the following Washington dispatch relating to the draft agitation in this county:

"Solicitor W. C. Brock of Wadesboro, who is visiting here, today declared that the main opposition to the draft in North Carolina, especially in Union county, comes from disgruntled Republicans. He said few Democrats are protesting against the law and that the state has been done a great injustice by the press reports circulated throughout the country that the people of North Carolina have caused riots in an effort to prevent the law from being carried out."

HOGWALLOW NEWS

Isaac Hellwanger has read something about somebody's move to establish nation-wide prohibition. He says if this project is carried to a success and everybody is forced to drink nothing but water, in a few years there won't be enough of it left to wash a person's face.

A traveling photographer was here the other day and made a lot of tinnies for some of our best looking people. Isaac Hellwanger bought several dozen of his wife's pictures, as that was the first time he had ever caught her looking pleasant.

Atlas Peck thinks it is a good thing that the public does not know as much about a man as his wife does.

Miss Hostetter Hocks, who has been wearing her bouquet of flowers on the west side of her hat for the past several years, has moved them to the top for this season.

In order to save useless work Fletcher Henstep this year planted his garden on ground that was too poor to grow weeds.

Mrs. Washington Hocks set a hen last week and since then she has had Wash wearing his overshoes so he won't jar the eggs when he walks.

Frisby Hancock says he never turns and stares back at a good-looking young woman if he can possibly help it.

A doctor is the only married person in existence who can enjoy unrestrained liberty, no questions asked. He can go from home any time, day or night, and stay out as long as he likes, and when he gets back he does not have to account for his deeds and misdeeds.

After being out of fix for the past several weeks the Wild Onion school teacher is again in a good humor and has come out for world-wide peace.

Raz Barlow says as soon as he has a few more pictures made of himself he is going to paste them together and have them run through the magic lantern.

Sidney Hocks fooled the Dog Hill congregation last Sunday. When the preacher asked everybody to rise and sing, Sid got up, but instead of singing he merely chewed his wax and nobody knew the difference.

A number of our most prominent citizens, and Sim Flinders, Poke Easley, Wash Hocks, Ellick Hellwanger, Tobe Moseley and Frisby Hancock, held a long discussion over the question of useless citizens, while seated on the fence near the postoffice one day last week. The result of their talk was a general agreement among them that a useless citizen is one who works and attends to his own business.

Yam Sims thinks the Excelsior Fiddling Band should be put after the Kaiser.

The Dog Hill church women are trying to get up an ice cream supper for this summer. While the public in general does not like church ice cream, all of the members will have to eat some, anyway.

The Excelsior Fiddling Band rendered several nice pieces of music at the open air entertainment the other night. However, they played so fast that when they got through the audience was completely out of breath.

While there are a number of marriageable ladies in the Hogwallow section who do not have any pronounced public admiration for the Widow of the Calif Ribs neighborhood, she acts toward them as a woman should, and only last Sunday was seen to turn up her nose at Miss Flutie Belcher when the latter saw her sitting on a stump at the Dog Hill church talking to Sidney Hocks.

Charges Chicago Effort to Obstruct Draft Work.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Maj. B. M. Chip-erfield, of the staff of Provost Marshal General Crowder today undertook to speed up the work of the draft exemption boards hereby ordering the dismissal of one member, ordering another back from a fishing trip and laying before the federal authorities a mass of evidence of attempts to obstruct the machinery of the draft.

Locals From Stouts.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Stouts, Aug. 8.—Messrs. R. M. and J. F. Conder spent Sunday night in the home of Mr. A. L. Funderburk.

Mr. F. M. Yandle has been very sick, but we are glad to learn that he is improving.

Misses Thetus and Virgie Hargett of Unionville were visitors in the village Friday and Saturday.

Master Charlie Brown Gurley of Wesley Chapel spent Saturday and Sunday in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Frank Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Yandle of North Monroe were visitors in the village Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Yandle spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of her son, Mr. F. M. Yandle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hargett visited relatives in Charlotte Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hayward of Marshallville were visitors in the home of their mother Sunday.

Stouts is getting to be a lonely place now as most all the young men who have not joined the army are working on Camp Greene, Charlotte.

Mr. Mark Gordon, who has been in feeble health for some time, is improving.

Mr. Herman Hayes has taken a position as machinist in the Kinley repair shop at Indian Trail.

Miss Hallie Deese and cousin, little Miss Minnie Deese, of Charlotte are visiting relatives in this vicinity this week.

Miss Ola Hemby, who is teacher of the primary grades here, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Messrs. J. P. Hargett and F. W. Hayes, who have been working at the training camp, spent Sunday with their families here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Vickery spent Sunday in the home of the former's mother, Mrs. J. C. Vickery, of Indian Trail.

Protracted Meeting at Shiloh.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Monroe, R. 8, Aug. 9.—The majority of the farmers are done work in this section, although there are a few that are not done yet but this week will find them all finished. The prospects now are for a fine crop of most everything, especially corn, for which we should be very grateful.

The protracted meeting will begin at Shiloh next Sunday afternoon, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wray, will do the preaching. Let everybody attend these services. There will also be preaching Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Helms and daughter Marguerite of Monroe visited at Mr. J. F. Williams' Monday.

Mr. Grover Baucom is now teaching at the Tindall school. Mr. Baucom has been employed to teach the winter school at that place also and will possibly move his family in the fall in order to be near his work.

Master Whiteford Myers and sister, little Miss Georgie Myers, went to Charlotte last Friday to visit friends. They returned Sunday.

The Woman's Missionary Society met Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. F. Williams. A very interesting program was carried out with Mrs. Ina Beam presiding. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Wray from the Monroe society were present and made interesting talks. After the program was finished ice cream and cake were served by little Misses Willie Secrest and Marguerite Helms.

The sweet potato crop promises to be fine this year. Mrs. Andrew Craig and Mrs. J. S. Baucom are the first to report having had potatoes.

Masters William Harris from Alabama and Zeph Howie from Osceola have been spending several days with their aunt, Mrs. James Garrison. They returned home yesterday.

Mr. Zeb Helms and family spent Sunday at Mrs. J. S. Baucom's.

Mr. Atlas Baucom is spending a few days on Rocky River.

Mr. Beaman Secrest has returned home after spending several days with his grandfather at Rodman, S. C.—Busy Bee.

Center Grove News.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Monroe, R. 6, Aug. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Polk and children of Lando are visiting friends and relatives here this week. Mr. and Mrs. Polk have many friends who are glad to see them back.

Miss Docie Watkins was the guest of Miss Winnie Trull Saturday night.

Miss Ada Hamilton of Marshallville is a welcomed visitor in this vicinity this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watkins and children of Marshallville are visiting Mr. Dock Watkins and family of this community.

A large crowd is attending the meeting here this week. Much interest is being taken, we are glad to say.

Miss Kate Thompson of near Indian Trail spent Wednesday night with Miss Ollie and Sarah Honeycutt.

Miss Daisy Helms is visiting her brother, Mr. Ellis Helms, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Martin spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Polk were welcomed visitors in the Birmingham home Wednesday.

Center Grove News.

Correspondence of The Journal.
Monroe, R. 6, Aug. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Polk and children of Lando are visiting friends and relatives here this week. Mr. and Mrs. Polk have many friends who are glad to see them back.

Miss Docie Watkins was the guest of Miss Winnie Trull Saturday night.

Miss Ada Hamilton of Marshallville is a welcomed visitor in this vicinity this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Watkins and children of Marshallville are visiting Mr. Dock Watkins and family of this community.

A large crowd is attending the meeting here this week. Much interest is being taken, we are glad to say.

Miss Kate Thompson of near Indian Trail spent Wednesday night with Miss Ollie and Sarah Honeycutt.

Miss Daisy Helms is visiting her brother, Mr. Ellis Helms, of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Martin spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Polk were welcomed visitors in the Birmingham home Wednesday.

DODGE BROTHERS

MOTOR CAR

Get In The Game.

This is a progressive age and the intelligent public are buying Dodge cars. Why? Because they are made of the very best material to be had, selected by experts, and every effort employed to make this the best car on the market.

Economical when it comes to gas consumption. Selected by the U. S. Government on account of its durable qualities, and the only car that ever made the trip successfully across the Valley of Death in Southern California.

Noiseless and sensitive, will glide over the hills on high like a reindeer and then idle down with the slowest.

Play the game, follow the crowd. Buy your car from the Secrest Motor Co., where you can get adjustments and be taken care of.

We have only a limited amount of these cars, so place your order at once.

The Secrest Motor Co.

A. M. SECREST, Manager.

Phone No. 310. Monroe, N. C.

Give Us Your Order for all your groceries and let us do the rest. You will be highly pleased with our polite service, prompt delivery, quality of goods and economy of prices. You will be satisfied with all you buy here and with the amount of every bill you pay us. J. C. SMITH CO. The Quality Store Phone 33