PUBLIS WELFARE.

Important New Work high Under-taken by State-Monroe Man Elected Commissioner.

Special to Asheville Citizen.

Raleigh, Sept. 14.-Perhaps the most important departure in North Carolina state government for ten years past was inaugurated today. when the state board of charities and public welfare elected Roland F. Beasley, of Monroe, to the newly created position of commissioner of public welfare and made plans for his new work.

Few people have yet realized the importance of the action of the last legislature in creating this state board of charities and public welfare to supercede the old state board of charitles giving it powers and duties several other members of the Means among the foremost social service family. She returned to the hotel agencies in America. "The aim," as A new arrival at the St. Cloud ho- A. W.
