

Who Benefits By High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high. Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

Things, Things, Things.

(Amos R. Wells in the Universalist Leader.)

Things! Things! Things!
On the table, on the floor,
Tucked away behind the door,
On the shelves and on the chairs,
Dangerously on the stairs,
Bureaus crammed and closets filled,
Boxes packed and boxes spilled,
Bundles everywhere you go,
Heaps and piles and overflow
Of things, things, things!

Things! Things! Things!
Things of value, worthless trash,
Things preserved or gone to smash,
Ancient things or things just bought,
Common things and things farsought,
Things you mean to throw away,
Things you hope to use some day,
Cellar, attic, all between,
One exasperating scene
Of things, things, things!

Things! Things! Things!
Things that takes our precious time,
Hold us from the life sublime,
Things that only gather dust,
Things that rot and things that rust,
Things that mold and things that freeze,
Things that harbor foul disease,
Things that mock us and defy
Till at last we grimly die
Of things, things, things!

Things! Things! Things!
Let me cease to be their fool,
Let me fly their crafty rule!
Let me with unsparring knife
Cut their canker from my life!
Broad and clear and all serene,
Let me make my mansion clean,
Now and evermore to be
Calm, unfretted, grandly free
From things, things, things.

NOTICE!

I will sell or exchange fresh milk cows for beef cows or springer cows. I propose to tell you the whole truth about any animal that I sell or exchange, and charge you a small profit for it. The truth is handled so carefully you ought to be glad to trade with me. I have been in the business for 25 years, and there is no man that can say truthfully that I have misrepresented any animal, so come on and get what you want, because these are perilous days. Men are lovers of themselves, boasters and proud and high minded, peckers after money, and lie about cows, and tell a gallon and a half lie. So the truth will make you free; you shall be free indeed. Moses journeyed the children of Israel to the land of promise where there were milk and honey. Come to the Tom Long home place in Goose Creek township and get an honest trade.
