Latest Happenings In and Around Monroe.

Mr. Roy Brewer is in East St. Louis buying stock for the Sikes Co. Mr. W. A. Benton of Hamlet is here for a few days with his family on Benton Heights. On account of the flu situation, Rev. R. M. Haigler will not preach at Corinth Saturday and Sunday. There will be no services at Central Methodist church Sunday on account of the influenza. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Godwin left today for Spartanburg where they will spend some time with their son. Rev. C. J. Black, formerly of this county, is vice-president of the Norwood Loan Association. Services at the Presbyterian church have been postponed until after March 1, on account of the prevalence of influenza. Elder W. E. Williams will preach at North Monroe Primitive Baptist church next Sunday at 2 o'clock. Song service at 1 o'clock. Aunt Kate Means, colored, has sold her lot on Morris street to Mr. J. Frank Williams, who plans to erect a modern bungalow on it. Miss Elizabeth Drusilla Funderburk celebrated her ninth birthday at her home near Pageland last week. She is enjoying good health. Mr. F. H. Wolfe has sold a tract of land, consisting of 38 acres, on the west edge of the Rocky River road, to Mr. T. B. Alexander for $1150. Sergt. Ray Helms left Saturday morning for Camp Eustis, Va., after spending a thirty day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Helms of Vance township. There will be no service at the Baptist church Sunday, and the Bible conference will be postponed until further notice in compliance with the request of the board of health. Income returns must be made before March 15, and Deputy Collector George Martin requests The Journal to urge those liable to this tax to see him at once at his office in the post-office. In speaking about the Congressional race in the seventh district, the Stanly News-Herald, of Albemarle, says: "We shall see a glorious fight and many a ward politician will be bled and died away during the scrap for his favorite man." The tender on the engine of train No. 5 jumped the track Thursday morning as the train was nearing the depot. Owing to the slow speed at which the train was being operated, no damage resulted from the derailment. The Journal's typesetting machine, usually accurate, distorted an old saying in Mrs. Knox Wolfe Hargett's contribution in the last issue. Instead of "They were made of mud, and the fox got 'em," the intricate machine had it "They were made of mud, and the tax got 'em." The Waxhaw Enterprise says: "Clayton Bonds, a darkey who lives a few miles west of here, lost his house and practically all of its contents Sunday night by fire. His wife was ill of pneumonia at the time and had to be carried some distance to a neighbor's house, which makes her recovery the more doubtful." One man, who pledged his support to Mr. Brock in the Congressional campaign before Mr. Vann announced his candidacy, writes: "I am sorry of this, as I certainly would like to support some good man from that section (Union) of the district, as it is certainly entitled to more recognition than it has had." The Rockingham Post-Dispatch says: "Rev. and Mrs. Bruce Benton returned Thursday of last week from a three weeks' stay at Orlando, Fla. Orlando is the center of the orange and grapefruit belt, and they lived on fruits fresh from the trees, and vegetables direct from the garden, while Rockingham mortals were shivering from winter's icy blast." Rev. Mr. Benton is a native of Union county. Mr. Fred Simpson, son of Mr. William N. Simpson, and Miss Laura Williams, daughter of Mr. J. C. Williams, all of Goose Creek township, surprised their many friends by getting married on last Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Esq. C. J. Braswell, uncle of the groom, at his residence in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties. These are prominent young people of the community and have the best wishes of many friends. Rev. K. W. Hogan and Mr. W. S. Hurt have gone into partnership, and will represent the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company of Greensboro in Union county. They have offices in the Savings, Loan and Trust building. Rev. Mr. Hogan is well-known in Union county, being pastor of the Baptist churches at Waxhaw and in Sandy Ridge township. Mr. Hurt is a native of Virginia, but has made his home here for the past year. These gentlemen represent a good company, and will doubtless do a large volume of business. Edward Graveley, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Graveley, was slightly bruised about the face and arms this morning when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. H. E. Cottle. The lad was skating, and had just turned loose from an automobile on which he had been swinging, allowing it to pull him over the asphalt streets, when Mr. Cottle's car struck him. This accident emphasizes the danger in children swinging onto automobiles while skating. The practice is fraught with peril to the little boys and girls, and they should be cautioned not to indulge in it. Today is Friday, the 13th day of the month, and it is leap year. Confirmed bachelors are probably trembling in their boots, "but what will it avail them," asks a writer in the Raleigh News and Observer. "Are not the fates against them? In vain may they daily with fate, tempt her from her purpose by picking up vagrant pins, by blowing kisses to wandering ebullient cats, by observing all of the sundry other rites that have been handed down from generation to generation as salutary against the workings of evil spirits. It is no use. It is Friday, the thirteenth, and tomorrow is Valentine's and this is Leap Year. It is fate, undeniable, implacable, adamantine." Mr. Vann's candidacy for Congress goes merrily on despite the illness of three of his five stenographers, who have been engaged in writing letters to voters all over the district. Union county's candidate is making friends in all of the counties of the district by his straightforward appeal for support on his merits, and not because he feels the Democratic party is under obligations to him. Mr. Vann has written hundreds of voters that "The Democratic party does not owe me anything, and everything I have done for the party was done cheerfully and without reward or hope of reward. I am a candidate for Congress on my own merits. My acquaintances believe that I am at least the equal of either of the other candidates in character, ability and qualification for the office." Many recipients of these letters have already replied, stating that they were impressed by his honesty of purpose, and not a few pledged their support outright. QUARANTINE IS PLACED ON PUBLIC GATHERINGS Board of Health Finds Influenza Situation Bad in County, and Takes Precautionary Measures. On being advised that there was no noticeable improvement in the influenza epidemic in the rural districts, the county board of health, in session this morning, placed a rigid quarantine on all public gatherings. The situation in Monroe, the board was told, was much better, but it was decided to include the town in the quarantine order so as to guard against an increase in the number of influenza patients. The board also calls upon the citizens of Union county to lend aid and assistance possible to the sick during the epidemic, and especially urges the people to look after the welfare of their neighbors. The quarantine is effective to March 1. The board adjourned to meet again on Feb. 27 at 9:30 a. m. The quarantine order is as follows: 1st. That every school in Union county, white and colored, be and the same are hereby ordered closed until Monday, March 1, 1920. This order applies to every school and there is no exception. 2nd. That all theatres, picture shows and places of public gatherings of all kinds be and they are hereby closed until after March 1, 1920. This does not apply to churches, the board feeling that they had no right to order them closed and took no action on this matter. 3rd. That the Feb. term of civil court for Union county is hereby suspended and no witnesses or jurors are required to attend court during this term, with the exception of witnesses in divorce cases who will be expected to attend court Monday, Feb. 23. The Judge of the Superior court will convene court Monday, Feb. 23, and hear the motion docket and such other matters as may come before him and adjourn court that afternoon. The board of health is composed of the following: Drs. G. B. Nance, G. M. Smith, R. H. Garren, and Messrs. A. A. Secrest and John C. Sikes. UNION COUNTY MAN HELD UNDER BOND ON CHARGES J. L. Price, Former Gastonia Real Estate Man, Charged With Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses. A native Union county man, Mr. J. L. Price, a former Gastonia contractor and real estate man, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was tried in two cases in each before Judge A. C. Jones of Gastonia, Tuesday, and was ordered held under a $400 bond for investigation by the grand jury. The Gastonia Gazette gives the following account of the hearing: "Prosecuting witnesses in one case were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Childers who alleged that they had lost their home because of misrepresentations made to them by Price in their transactions with him. The principal prosecuting witness in the other case was T. J. Redmond, a real estate dealer, who made substantially the same charges against the defendant. "Quite a crowd gathered at the city hall to hear the trial of these cases. It is reported that several other warrants are out for Price and that there is a probability that he will face the court on a number of other charges similar to those he faced this morning. "Price was a resident of Gastonia for a number of years prior to a year or so ago when he went to South Carolina. He operated extensively in real estate and in the building and selling of houses. He returned to this State without requiring the issuing of extradition papers."

$150,000 MILL IS BEING ORGANIZED FOR MONROE S. M. Robinson, Millionaire Manufacturer of Lowell, Has Agreed to Manage Enterprise Here. A $150,000 cotton mill, headed by S. M. Robinson, millionaire cotton mill magnate of Lowell, is in process of organization here. $118,000 worth of the stock has already been pledged, leaving only $32,000 worth more to be disposed of in Monroe. Promoters of the mill believe the entire issue will have been subscribed before the week is out. The mill is to be under the management of Mr. Robinson, who operates ten mills in this state and Georgia. He has two mills at Charlotte, one at Dallas, three at Lowell, two at Gastonia, one at Spencer Mountain, and one in Georgia. Mr. Robinson is reputed to be worth over a million dollars, all of which he made out of the mill business. Mr. J. E. Stack was instrumental in interesting Mr. Robinson in the proposition here. It is understood that he agreed to take stock to the amount of $50,000 if Monroe business men would subscribe for a $100,000 worth. Citizens here had subscribed for $68,000 worth by late yesterday afternoon, making a total, including Mr. Robinson's $50,000, of $118,000. Construction work on the mill will start immediately, promoters say. Mr. Robinson, owing to his large connections, will be enabled to secure an early completion of the building, and immediate installation of the necessary machinery. A site has not been determined upon. Mr. Robinson is an experienced mill man, having been connected with cotton mills nearly all of his life. He is about fifty years of age. He is considered one of the best cotton men in the state, possessing the happy faculty of knowing the right time to buy and sell. Some of his mills, it is reported in Monroe, have paid for themselves in ten months' of operation. His connection with a mill here does not mean that Mr. Robinson will move to Monroe, no matter how desirable his citizenship would be. He has continued to make his home at Lowell all these years, preferring that town to Charlotte or Gastonia. Those interested in the project here, however, believe that Mr. Robinson could be induced to build more mills here from time to time if his first venture makes a favorable impression upon him. Some even expect him to erect from three to four mills at Monroe in the course of time; provided the mill now being organized is a great success. Among the subscribers for stock in the mill are the following: J. E. Stack, E. C. Winchester, N. W. Tharp, W. A. Lane, A. A. Levy, T. P. Dillon, R. G. Laney, W. B. Cale, Hargrove Bowles, Fred Huntley, F. G. Henderson, D. B. Snyder, A. M. Secrest, R. Redfern, Stack, Parker & Craig, W. J. Rudge Co., Gordon Insurance and Investment Co., W. B. Brown, W. C. Crowell, R. B. Redwine, G. M. Beasley, W. B. Love, G. H. Clontz, G. B. Nance, J. W. Nance, Mrs. G. B. Nance, Miss Pearl Nance, W. R. Boggan, W. L. Earnhardt, H. E. Cottle, G. B. Caldwell, I. H. Blair, H. E. Lee, T. T. Capehart, T. W. Huey, E. Harris, Duncan Huntley, George L. Hart, P. H. Johnson, J. W. Laney and V. H. Wood, R. A. Morrow, J. M. Morrow, Jr., John Beasley, Miss Maude Nixon, and Clayton Laney. Subscriptions range from $500 to $10,000. Mr. J. E. Stack being the largest stockholder. The subscription list is in the hands of Mr. G. B. Caldwell. BRITT WON'T RUN; PARKER'S CHANCES BETTER Monroe Man's Strongest Opponent For Governorial Nomination Won't Accept It. The candidacy of Mr. J. J. Parker for the Republican nomination for Governor received a decided boost Wednesday when his strongest opponent, ex-Congressman J. J. Britt, of Asheville, declared he would not accept the honor if tendered to him. His withdrawal gives Mr. Parker an almost clear field. Mr. Britt's statement, which was given to the Asheville correspondent of the Greensboro News, follows: "In a formal announcement issued here J. J. Britt, who has been indorsed for governor by the Republicans at the 10th district convention, Saturday and by various counties in this section, states he is not and cannot be a candidate for the office. He says that he cannot accept the nomination even if it is tendered him. Returning to his practice here, after having been ill for several months, and undergoing two major operations in Rochester, Minn., he says that he will devote his entire time to the practice of law. "He says he makes this statement in view of the fact that the state convention date is approaching and he does not want his friends to bring his name before that body. Britt however, will attend the convention, but only as a member of the party and an interested spectator, although his friends here insist that he will help write the platform." Five men have been indicted in New York charged with selling wood alcohol in the New England states during the Christmas holidays, which caused the death of nearly a hundred persons. One of the men arrested was an undertaker. It is said they mixed the alcohol with burnt sugar and water.

FOR FOUR DAYS THE FOLKS THOUGHT MR. HARRELL DEAD The Nashville Motor Co. Manager, However, Was Very Much Alive—Influenza Is Decreasing. Marshallville, Feb. 12.—Mr. Jim Harrell, manager of the Marshallville Motor Co. received something of a shock a few days ago when reports and inquiries began pouring in from various places that he was dead and when did he die. Mr. Lonnie Barrino, owner of the Marshallville telephone exchange made a special trip to Mr. Harrell's place of business to see if he was really and truly yet among the living, saying that telephone calls began coming in Sunday night and continued through Monday morning inquiring about Mr. Harrell's death. When a man came in on the train and said he had heard it as far as Hamlet, Mr. Harrell became very much interested and immediately declared that there must be a mistake somewhere, as he was very much alive and well and hoped to stay so for sometime. No one knows how the wild rumor got started but it was thoroughly spread before it could be stopped. Mrs. Emma Biggers of Mecklenburg county arrived Tuesday to nurse Mrs. E. E. Marsh, who has been very ill with influenza. Mr. Sebron Blair, who has been critically ill with pneumonia, is very much improved. The funeral of Mr. J. B. Bailey on Monday morning was attended by a large crowd of people, many coming from out of town. Rev. Seymour Taylor of Morven, a former pastor here, assisted by Rev. J. J. Edwards and Rev. C. E. White, conducted the services. All the stores closed, many of them remaining closed all day. The floral tribute was one of the largest and most beautiful of any ever seen here. Two other funerals were held in the Marshallville cemetery on Monday morning. The others being that of Mr. C. W. Helms, and a small daughter of Mr. Wilson Little. The burial of Miss Little and Mr. Bailey took place at the same time, while the third procession arrived at the cemetery at the conclusion of the first services. In the afternoon many who witnessed these three burials were among those who accompanied the remains of Mrs. C. L. Bowman to Gilboa where they were laid to rest. This multiplicity of sorrows has cast a gloom over the town from which it will not be able to recover for days. Very few new cases of influenza are being reported now and a large number who were among the first stricken are able to be out again. It is earnestly hoped that the town will soon be clear of the disease. This is highly probable if some good weather will come to aid in the elimination process. Mrs. Annie Marsh Bailey is spending a few days in Monroe with her sisters, Messdames R. C. Cunningham and Raymond Griffin. Miss Jenn Harrell of Atlanta, who has been here since the outbreak of influenza nursing the sick, returned to Atlanta Wednesday. Mr. W. G. Heron has resigned his position as manager of the Gem Auto Co. and has a position as traveling salesman. Mr. J. M. Little has repurchased the brick livery stable which he sold several months ago to the Gem Auto Company. A new automobile company which had intended converting the stable into an up-to-date garage has decided not to open, so Mr. Little will continue business at the same old stand. The first of March will see another banking institution opened up in Marshallville. The name of the concern will be the Mutual Banking and Trust Company and the authorized capital is $50,000. Several years ago Marshallville possessed two banks, the Bank of Marshallville, and the Carolina Bank, but it was considered wise by the promoters of both institutions to consolidate the two into one, The Bank of Marshallville. However as the town prospers and progresses the larger business will in all probability justify two banks again, hence the new one. The many friends of Mrs. Sallie Marsh Griffin will be glad to learn that the report concerning her critical illness with pneumonia in the Presbyterian hospital in Charlotte, was greatly exaggerated. Mrs. Griffin has been ill with influenza in the hospital but is recovering rapidly and has at no time been critically ill. FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY MADE 500-MILE TRIP ALL ALONE Vernon Kiker Rides From Washington to The Trail to Visit Grandfather—Death of Mrs. Yandle. Indian Trail, R. F. D. No. 1, Feb. 12.—Little Vernon Kiker, only five years old, came all the way from Washington, D. C., to Indian Trail to visit his grandfather, Mr. S. R. Kiker. He arrived in Charlotte Monday, having made the trip without any mishap. When his uncle met him at the station, and they had started away, he remembered leaving some of his effects in the car, and remarked, as he went back for them, "Uncle George, wait until I get my grip." Just like a young man. The neighbors are telling him what a little hero he is in their eyes. Mrs. Mary Yandle died at her home here Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock after a short illness of influenza and heart trouble. She was 75 years old Monday, having died on her birthday. She is survived by the following eight children: Messrs. Lee Yandle, Ramsey Yandle, Lem Yandle, and Ramsey Yandle of Vance township; Ford Yandle of Charlotte; Matt Yandle of Georgia; Thomas Yandle of Texas; and one daughter, Mrs. Brown Lemmond of High Point; and one brother, Mr. Milas Helms of Charlotte. Mrs. Yandle was a good Christian woman, and was loved by all who knew her. Interment was in the Yandle cemetery Wednesday afternoon, where she now rests beside the body of her husband, Mr. Milas Yandle. The Ebenezer school, taught by Mr. A. D. Baucum and Miss Emma Bjrrmingham, has closed on account of influenza. The influenza situation in our community has not improved any, there being about forty cases at present. Mr. M. A. Helms of Goose Creek township is erecting a dwelling house on his farm near Ebenezer. Miss Bertie Helms of Charlotte is visiting her brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pressley. Mr. Dowd Helms is in Charlotte on a business mission. Mr. Dewey Yandle, who has been ill with influenza and pneumonia is improving.—Charity? IMPRACTICAL TO SECURE WATER FROM ROCKY RIVER Prof. Saville Recommends That Additional Shallow Wells Be Sunk in North East Part of Town. Professor Thorndyke Saville of the department of hydraulic and sanitary engineering of the University of North Carolina has made his report to the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, based on his recent visit to Monroe to investigate the water supply situation. When here Professor Saville went over the situation thoroughly and in detail and has rendered a comprehensive report. He is of the opinion that the best solution of the problem is to sink additional shallow wells in the bottomlands north east of the city where the city has three wells in operation. He made a brief survey of the possibilities of Rocky River, Howie Mine and Richardson's creek, but on account of the expense of a pipe line to any of these points he thinks the shallow well proposition the most feasible. Professor Saville also recommends a thorough survey of the present sewer and water systems with a view of determining the most economical methods of extending these systems to take care of increased population, etc. He finds also that some immediate steps are necessary to secure additional water reserve for fire. The city authorities have this report under consideration now and later action will probably be based upon the recommendations contained in it. Seaboard Free Libraries. The Seaboard Air Line Free Traveling Libraries which sustained a serious loss in the death of the former Superintendent, Mrs. Eugene B. Heard, is still operating under charge of Mrs. J. Y. Swift, daughter of the late superintendent, at the former headquarters, Rose Hill Plantation, Middleton, Georgia. A reference branch is also being started at the S. A. L. R. R. Y. M. C. A., at Hamlet, in charge of the General Secretary, Mr. D. W. Glover, where employees of the line may have access to a considerable collection of books for their own use and the use of their families. It is part of the plan of the Seaboard Air Line Free Traveling Libraries that its facilities be made available to any employee desiring them and application for the use of books may be made through any station agent. The Libraries have recently been the recipient of a gift of a considerable number of books of the highest grade from the American Library Association from the collections remaining when the work of the library was formally taken over by the war department, and is accordingly in a better position than previously to serve the Seaboard territory. TRACTOR TURNED OVER They Are Taking Joy Rides in 'Em in Vance Township It Seems. Indian Trail, Feb. 12.—Messrs. D. L. Furr, J. E. Funderburk, J. A. Dixon and Earnest Hill had a narrow escape Monday night when the tractor on which they were riding turned over. They fortunately escaped injury; neither was the tractor damaged much. Their friends cannot understand their motive in riding on a tractor at night unless they were out for a "joy-ride." They certainly were not ploughing. Mr. J. E. Funderburk is moving his saw mill near Mr. T. L. Price's place. Influenza is still raging in this community. The schools are closed, and no services were held at the churches Sunday. Miss Lillie Hill has returned home from Charlotte, where she had her eye, which was injured some time ago by the explosion of a dynamite cap in the open fire-place, removed. Farmers are chopping wood, getting ready for plowing time. Miss Ruth Horton is visiting friends in Charlotte this week.—Mr. R. J. Simpson has bought a tract of land from Mr. J. C. Simpson; consideration, $1750.—The Jerome school defeated the Union Grove school in a basket ball game Friday by the score of 24 to 20.—Busy.

LATEST HAPPENINGS

News Events of the Day in the State and Nation. When a switch engine on the Southern struck a cow near Asheville, the engine and tender were derailed and the engineer was injured. The cow was killed. The name of Herbert Hoover will be submitted for the approval of the voters of Oregon as the next president, Oswald West, former Democratic governor of that state announces. At least two Germans were fighting in the Mexican army on August 27, 1913, at Nogales, according to testimony of Capt. F. T. Herman submitted Wednesday before the sub-committee of the House investigating the Mexican situation. Two million railroad men are demanding an increase in wages, and the railroad administration is facing a crisis. Unless demands of the men are met, it is believed the railroads will be tied up with a nation-wide strike. Gaby Deslys, a famous French dancer, died Wednesday at her home in Paris. She became known ten years ago when former King Manuel of Portugal displayed an infatuation for her. She visited this country a number of times. President Wilson has received a letter from Frederick Wilhelm, former Crown Prince of Germany, suggesting "if the allied and associated governments want a victim, let them take me instead of the 300 Germans who have committed no other offense than that of serving their country in the war." Jumping from an automobile which had stalled on the Seaboard track near Weldon, Mrs. Scott of Roanoke Rapids, was badly crushed under a freight train. The automobile was only slightly damaged and the other members of the party, who remained in the car, escaped unhurt. One of Mrs. Scott's legs was cut off. She was taken to a hospital in Roanoke Rapids. After the arrest in New York of three young men charged with the theft of $2,500 in securities from a messenger, the police yesterday gave the details of what they said was a plot to steal $5,000,000 worth of bonds in a single haul, to be followed by a flight to Canada and lives of luxury for the plotters. According to detectives who made the arrests the plot involves a "ring" of dishonest Wall street messengers. PRAISES DR. STEWART FOR HIS TIMELY ADVICE ON FLU Correspondent Says He Is to Be Commended — Disagrees With Major Hinde on the Army. Mineral Springs Route 1, Feb. 12.—Mrs. D. F. Sapp is right seriously ill. Almost all of the children are at her bedside. Mr. G. W. Plyler has returned from Fennell Infirmary, much improved. Mumps and flu are about to swamp us again, and it is right peculiar how some folks when they are feeling bad and taking the flu will try to see how many of their friends and neighbors they can visit without getting past traveling. Dr. Stewart is certainly to be commended for the timely advice he gives the readers of The Journal on flu and other maladies. Mrs. C. C. Starnes and Miss Annie Hinson have returned home after a week's visit to relatives in Charlotte. A well known lady in this section says she thinks that we need a score of Melindus to wield rolling pins, sad irons, etc. Mr. Marvin Barrett of Charlotte spent Sunday with relatives here. It is a pity that Major Hinde did not give both sides of the army when he wrote his lengthy article last week. Being an ex-regular of a peace-time army I am going to say something concerning the hard and difficult side of the army, not for the purpose of obstructing the enlistment of any one, but that he may not be deceived, for I have personally told several young men that the army would suit them, when they asked me for advice, with the result that they enlisted. I was sorry to see Mr. Hinde use the term "inferior" over and over again when writing, for that is just what is wrong. The private is considered so much the inferior that he is not supposed to know anything but "Git" when a leather legging shouts. No joke. I have had officers to stand up and tell me "If I order you to shoot your best friend, why shoot, and let me bear the blame." But it was my experience that when a private was caught by an officer doing something that he did not think was right he got a "cussing," even if another officer had ordered him to do it. I will say in regard to saluting that I always felt it an honor to tip my hat to "old glory" and the national hymn, but at the end of my enlistment I could not salute a "superior" of my own free will. When I was discharged the saluting ceased. Now, in conclusion, when you enlist you may expect plenty of hard work, plenty to eat and wear, and if you get sick to get a wine glass full of castor oil, or painted with iodine, and usually a nice clean bed to lie on, and some traveling, if it is the right branch of service, plenty of spare time, and a good bawling out by some "wop" who can't speak English well enough for you to understand, and to salute as you go in and be a saluting when you come out. Your humble scribe has the flu.—C. E. Hinson.
