MOONSHINE BY THE INNOCENT ABROAD.

"I'm a goin' to buy me some fancy chickens and go in fer the next chicken show in town," said Uncle Ben. "Wal that's not a bad idea," said Aunt Melindy, "and so that you can go in right, you can take some of that lumber and build a new chicken house, clean out the old one, mend the wire, make a drinking trough, put up some new nests, burn the old ones and then whitewash the whole business. I'm on to you, my friend; a new scheme o' git my sibs; but it won't work. The only chickens you will ever look after are the very ones that I'll see that you don't look after, my Chicken Fancying Friend! Come here!—" But Ben had gone where he could tell his tale of woe to a more sympathizing soul.

"I'll be dog-goned if I can understand politics. Here's Cam Morison says he learned to be a Democrat by attending a Republican Convention, as a delegate." "I wonder," said Melindy, "if he were like a lot of the rest and bolted the convention, because they wouldn't let him run it. I know one or two Democrats that are going to vote for Republicans this time because they didn't get enough say in politics to suit them. Darn the politics I say. If they'll let me vote one time for John Griffith, fer Sheriff and Will Heath fer Congressman I'll quit."

Ben to his Banjo:
These are surely the difficult days
When a man goes out to vote.
For no matter which lot he hustles fer
He surely is the goat.
If he votes for the Democracy,
He's supported all his days,
He finds he's a prohibitionist
To his very sad amaze!
As he votes for a Republican,
As good as he ever has met,
He's out by his religious friends
For they think he's voted "wet!"
I think I'll vote fer Parker
And I think I'll vote fer Vann
The only good excuse I've got
Is that I'm a Union man.
I asked the "Widder how she'd vote
She said—

What the "Widder" said was not related, as a particularly bad egg burst when his collar met his neck. "Now go over and ask her," yelled Melindy. "She'll smell the noise of the battle afar off. Come back you animal! I've got half a dozen more old nest eggs here. Regular election eggs and I'll let you have them cheap. G'wan then, she'll sure smell you a comin'." He never heard for he was "on his way," shedding his coat as he went.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC gives regularly for two or three weeks will sweep the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or digest the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

"I was at Belk's the other day and tried to get some shoes, but Moke Williams had no fourteens, double E, in the shop. I tried grandpa Williams, at Efrid's and he was no better." "Shucks, why didn't you go to Bob May and buy a horse hide and have some made by Henry Belk's shoemaker. Write and get his address."

"I was a watchin' the bunch go into one of the churches last Sunday and wonderin' if the women could possibly get less cloth in their dresses, and as I turned away the choir struck up "Some day we'll understand." "Perhaps you will," snarled Melindy, "but what I can't understand is what business you had outside, speculatin' on any such subject when you ought to have been inside." "I was a waitin' fer the Wid—" "I'll bet you were," yelled Melindy, as she broke the only good chair over the old man's head. "Well, hereafter, you'll go to church with me, not at all." "Can't be done," snarled Uncle Ben, "I've joined the Mormon church, and I'm a goin' to get a job with Senator Smoot in Washington. How do you like that, you old she-porpoise, you!"

Ben to his Banjo:
I still continue to puzzle my brains
Over politics, I say
I want to do what's strictly right
And I want to see fair play
I'd like to vote fer Hoover,
For Bickett says he's good
But he is a Roosevelt Republican
If he did fix up our food,
I studied what both of the parties say
About running the land—and sich
And after I read it over twice,
I cannot tell which is which,
It seems to me like the same old song
I've heard a many a day
It's: "Do not do what the leader do
But do as the leaders say."
There's Colby up in the Cabinet
Another old Roosevelt man
I wish old Teddy was here alive
And I'd vote fer him if he ran—
The Widder—

The crash of the best mirror broken by a bad shot of Melindy with the stove lifter, stopped the harmony and the language that Melindy used on seeing the result of her artillery practice will not be recorded here, as this is a decent paper. No one would have guessed on hearing it that Melindy sat in the "Amen corner" regularly at church, but she said, "Ben would lose the religion of a Saint."

"I wonder what's the chance of gettin' a job as County Health Officer," said Ben. "Darn little, I should say," sneered Melindy. "I got a better chance myself, but since you mention it, you can inspect these premises and cut some drains out of the hog lot; haul the manure out in the fields; clean up the premises generally, and then report to me, and as a special favor I'll let you clean all the pots off and dry the dishes as I wash them. After that I think you can—" but Ben had slipped out and was well on his way across the fields to where a female figure could be seen gathering "cresses," the bright sun shining on a head of brilliant red hair.

"I see Casey Caldwell is in the hospital," said Uncle Ben. "Yes, you can see that in the paper, sure enough, but you see darn little in the paper about all the hard work he has done for the town. There's never anything eggs on but he's a leader in it, and if his name gets in the paper it's an accident. Casey's all to the mustard, and here's hopin' he's about and well soon. In fer him everytime, and I'm tellin' you. See it!" "Well, fer land's sake," said Uncle Ben, "what a tempest in a teapot." If I were to talk that way about the Widder—" Another one of the election eggs stopped Ben's mouth at this point and the room needed disinfecting; but Melindy only chuckled at the success of her shot and the quick stopping of her husband's jaw, who was swearing vigorously and spitting out the rotten egg and pieces of shell.

MANY PEOPLE "DYNAMITE" THEIR BODIES

Yet, There is a Gentle, Better Way

When the body clogs don't try to clean out the accumulated poisons by using strong physics that rend their way through the tender intestinal tracts like so much dynamite.

Use Sloan's Relief Tablets. They're gentle as nature and yet do the work unflinching. Bony gripe, and pains which accompany the use of physics of the "dynamite" class, are never felt when Sloan's Relief Tablets are used.

Besides, they cause no habit. In fact, they will release any one now in the toils of a habit forming physic.

Demand, buy and use Sloan's Relief Tablets always.

The Cotton Farmer's Cow

The farmer who grows so much cotton that he has no room for a cow is neglecting a chance to make some easy money. If he would follow the advice of the American Cotton Association, if he would plant fewer acres of cotton, use carefully selected seed and fertilize highly—

He would increase his production of lint cotton per acre, thereby maintaining the standard of supplies, but reducing the net cost per pound;

He would have left acreage on his farm to keep cows, to raise hogs, to grow fruits and vegetables and grains.

These would feed his family and give him enough extra cash so that he could store his cotton in the system of warehouses advocated by the American Cotton Association and get for it a fair and equitable price.

This Bank, first, last and all the time, is for the American Cotton Association's program of better cotton, higher prices, diversified crops—and more money for all!
