COUNTERFEIT WAR STAMPS BEING SOLD TO UNWARY

Postmaster E. C. Winchester Warns People Not to Buy Blue Stamps of 1919 Issue.

Postmaster E. C. Winchester today issued a warning to thrifty persons hereabouts to be on their guard against buying counterfeit War Savings Stamps. Fraudulent blue stamps of the 1919 series have been made by counterfeiters, the postmaster has been advised, and are being sold to the unwary.

"But the frauds can be easily detected," the postmaster said. "Ben Franklin's picture appears on the stamp, and in the counterfeit stamp, old Ben seems to have the mumps in his left jaw. Indeed, there is a pronounced swelling. Then under the portrait the lower of the two left dots is comparatively indistinct, and the vertical opening between the lines in the lower left part of the numeral '2' in the date '1924' is closed. The principal feature of the fraud, however, is the swollen cheek.

"It should be remembered that the counterfeit is only of the 1919 series, and, like the original, is blue. Blue

DON'T FIGHT THE BOWELS

Use Gentle Remedy to End Constipation

Some "physics" fight the bowels. They send their way through the tender intestinal membranes like so much dynamite. They clean the body, true, but they do it much harm.

Other laxatives are habit forming. Once the bowels bow to them, they will answer to no other call. Don't contract "laxative habit."

Sloan's Relief Tablets are as gentle as nature. They don't fight the bowels, but easily and painlessly cause them to perform their natural functions. They form no habits. They will even release those now in the toils of habit forming physics. Constipation, the poisoner, is best ended by Sloan's Relief Tablets. Use them always. They're safest.

War Savings Stamps can no longer be bought from post offices or other authorized agencies. Only the 1920 stamps, which are red, are now being sold by agencies. Sales of last year's stamps are not legal. No one should buy a 1919 stamp, though it is true some have been improperly offered for sale. "Everyone who bought 1919 stamps last year may feel perfectly safe," the postmaster said in conclusion, "because the counterfeit was not made until after the first of this year. The blue stamps had then been withdrawn from sale by the authorized agencies, and the red 1920 stamp was being sold. Don't buy any 1919 stamps, and keep a lookout for the picture of the man with the mumps. If you see one let me know."

THE NEWS OF BUFORD

Besides the Happenings, Prof. Motes Submits Remarks on Education.

Prospect, May 10.—The gardens are late, and it will be some time before we can enjoy vegetables.—Apples, peaches and blackberries bid fair to be fine. — Mrs. S. A. Lathan is under treatment in a Charlotte hospital. She is rapidly recovering. — Mrs. H. L. Yarborough and Miss Betty Plyler are visiting in Gastonia for a few days. — Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Outen, a son. — Most farmers in this section are about through planting cotton seed.

The entertainment given here Friday night by the community educational bureau, under the direction of Miss Luca Heath, was well patronized by the public. All were highly pleased with it.

Mr. H. L. Yarborough went to Baltimore Thursday for the radium treatment. By a former treatment he was much benefited.

Mrs. W. L. Motes and grand-daughter, Katherine, are visiting friends in Greenville, and in Newberry, her former home. They will be away for a fortnight or longer.

Rev. T. B. Johnson and family have motored to Trinity, near High Point, to be present at the graduation of their daughter, Miss Grace Johnson, who composed and set to music the class song, "In the Gleaming."

Mr. Hoyle Starnes, a pupil of Rutherford College, is home for the summer vacation, having completed his year's work.

As to teaching and its pay, I would like to submit the following thoughts: Have you ever read Virgil's "Aeneid," or Homer's "Iliad," or "Pilgrim's Progress," or Tennyson's "In Memoriam," or the twenty-third Psalm, or other sublime passages from the Holy Writ? Who can estimate the influence for good from such lines as the Wesleys, Roger Williams? Who will dare set a value in dollars on the writings of St. Paul?

What is an educated person worth to his state? What would we do without ministers of the gospel? What is it worth to have your child the best equipped for the future?

Suppose we tear down every school, discharge every teacher, close the church, shut up the banks, and do away with every paper, magazine and book. What would be the result? Would you care to be plunged in deepest ignorance, unable to either read or write? Then, if an education is worth so much to you, what is it worth for a "teacher to teach thee?" —Excelsior.

Average Teacher's Salary $323

(From N. C. News Letter.)

Three hundred and twenty-three dollars was the average salary paid white teachers, town and country, in the elementary public schools of North Carolina in 1917-1918.

It was only a little more than half the average in the United States the same years—$323 against $606.

This is not a record in the South.

New Hanover leads the list with $580, and Durham follows next with $572 as average annual salaries for elementary white teachers in 1917-1918.

Even our two most liberal counties are well below the average of the country-at-large.

As for the nine counties at the foot of the column—mountain counties all—they paid their white teachers less than $210 a year. The range was from $209 in Ashe to $163 in Watauga.

And three of these same mountain counties are among the half-dozen richest counties in North Carolina in per capita country wealth.

Manifestly the teachers in the elementary public schools of our state are turned out to graze on mighty short commons.

As a result, two-thirds of our public-school teachers last year abandoned teaching, and two-thirds of our public schools are this year taught by raw recruits.

No wonder 700 of our common-school rooms are closed. And no wonder seven thousand, or nearly half of our common schools, are in the hands of substandard teachers taken on temporarily in the emergency.

It's a crime against the children of North Carolina.

If the public conscience will submit to this condition of things without protest then our rich state is hard-hearted and tight-fisted beyond words.

If we can not or will not rise to this emergency in North Carolina, then we may well doubt the kind of that lies in wealth alone.

Our riches are greatly increased, but why set our heart upon riches if our children's minds are to be starved?
