Closed for the Fourth

Believing that every red-blooded American should honor the signing of the Declaration of Independence in a fitting way, this store, along with other business houses of Monroe, will be closed Monday. Our patrons, therefore, are urged to anticipate their Monday needs in the grocery line by procuring a supply of choice edibles on Saturday.

Always Ready to Serve You."

Miss Elizabeth Faust, of Greensboro, N. C., is visiting Miss Hazel Boyte.

Mrs. Charles H. Boyd and children, Charles and John Robert, of Lumberton are visiting Mrs. J. Frank Laney.

Mary Frances Lemmond is celebrating her twelfth birthday this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock by entertaining the following little friends at a picture show party: Margaret Henderson, Elizabeth Wray, Irene Presson, Clara Bivens, Dorothy Griffin, Claudia Brewer, Susie Gossip, Sarah Herton, Mary Elizabeth Faust, Charlotte Faulkner, Kathryn Williams, Janie Bell Gleim, Louise Plukston.

Two very attractive visitors in Monroe during the past ten days were Miss Marion Hull of Shelby and Miss Mary Entwistle of Rockingham, guest of Miss Jean Ashcraft. Many delightful affairs have been given in their honor. Monday morning at beautiful Crownest, Miss Adeline Crow gave a porch party complimentary to Misses Entwistle and Hull. Bridge was played at four tables, the top score being made by Mrs. Heath Lee. She with the honorees was presented with an exquisite handmade handkerchief. At the conclusion of the games petite Claire Lockhart Hanes served the guests an enticing salad course, followed by ices. One of the most charming features of the morning was the interpretative dancing of dainty Claire Lockhart Hanes, of Winston, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. E. W. Crow. Those enjoying Miss Crow's hospitality were: Misses Mary Entwistle of Rockingham, Marion Hull of Shelby, Ruth Russell, Jean Ashcraft, Jennie Russell, Virginia Lee, Mabel Lane, Sara Redwine, Annie Lee, Ruth Green, Octavia Houston, Mary Crow, Mesdames Frank Rose, Robt. Houston, R. L. Payne, and Heath Lee.

Mrs. F. G. Henderson entertained the Book Lover's Club Tuesday afternoon. The attractiveness of the home was enhanced the many cut flowers. Rook was played at several tables. Besides the members the following guests were present: Mesdames Wriston Lee, W. C. Sanders, Charles Ieman, N. M. Redfearn, Walter Crowell, Loula Shannon, J. A. Stewart, B. C. Ashcraft, Virgil Henderson, Gilmer Joyce, Walter Henderson, Arthur Henderson, Stafford Wolfe, Ella Houston, Jim Fowler, Sutterfield and guest Mrs. Hampton of Kentucky, Gilmer Nisbet, A. G. Thacker, Frank Louder, Gilliam Craig, Misses Sara Maffitt and Sara Welsh. The hostess was assisted in serving cream, angel food cake, gold cake and mints by Mesdames A. L. Monroe, Walter Henderson and Minnie Wolfe.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the picnic supper at Griffith's Farm given for Miss Entwistle of Rockingham and Miss Hull of Shelby, by some of the young men of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Heath Lee chaperoned the party which motored out returning in the early moonlight. The following composed the party: Misses Mary Entwistle, Marion Hull, Jean Ashcraft, Ruth Russell, Mabel Lane, Adeline Crow, Rebecca Stack, Lil Stack, Allen Lee, Dr. Horace Smith, Fred Smith, Frank Griffith, Frank Redfearn, Amos Stack and G. S. Lee.

Miss Virginia Lee gave a beautifully appointed dinner party Friday evening in honor of Miss Ruth Russell's guest, Miss Hull of Shelby. Covers were laid for eight.

Miss Sara Redwine was hostess at the Gray Rose Tea Room Saturday afternoon for Misses Entwistle and Hull.

Mrs. N. M. Redfearn entertained at Bridge Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Jean Ashcraft's house guest, Miss Entwistle of Rockingham. The top score was made by Mrs. Heath Lee, who was presented with a deck of cards. The honoree received a handsome box of stationery. The hostess was assisted by her attractive daughter, Katherine Kyle Redfearn, in serving a salad course following by ice cream and cakes. Those present were Misses Mary Entwistle, Jean Ashcraft, Annie B. Benson, Sara Redwine, Sara Maffitt, Virginia Lee, Lil Stack, Adeline Crow, Mesdames H. S. Houston, Robert Payne, Heath Lee, and John Fairley.

Mrs. Ella Houston entertained the Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Those playing were Mesdames A. L. Monroe, F. G. Henderson, C. N. Redfearn, Stafford Wolfe, Allen Heath, W. J. Heath, W. E. Cason, C. E. Houston, Bruce Redmon, and Ella Houston. Stuffed dates were served during the games and at the conclusion Misses Celeste and Eleanor Armfield served a delightful salad course.

Misses Carson Yates, Mary Benton, Mabel Lane, Octavia Houston visited in Gastonia this week.

Misses Joe Neal and Rebecca Stack left Thursday for Wrightsville Beach.

Mrs. Eustice Collins and children have returned from a visit to Charlotte.

Miss Marion Hull, who has been visiting Miss Ruth Russell, returned to her home in Shelby, Thursday.

six week's stay at the French Broad camp.

Tuesday morning the home of Miss Eleanor Armfield was very lovely with its many flowers used in decoration when Misses Armfield and Rebecca Norwood were joint hostess at a lawn fete in honor of Miss Frances Johnson of Atlanta, guest of Miss Nora Lee and Miss Mary Robinson of Raleigh, guest of Miss Lucy Lee. Rook was played at seven tables. Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Ella Houston and Miss Celeste Armfield.

Miss Mary Hazel Long leaves tonight for Henderson to join a house party.

Miss Margaret McDonald, of Charlotte, has returned home, after being sick for a week at Mr. Harry McDonald's.
