

Good business conditions and the increased production so necessary to the present day prosperity go hand in hand.

A dollar spent and put in circulation is much more potent for good than a dollar idle, hoarded and out to the world.

Your funds in this bank will be made to work intelligently toward maintaining this prosperity.

LATEST HAPPENINGS

Jacob H. Schiff, widely known financier and philanthropist, died at his home in New York Sunday night.

An attack on wheat on the Chicago exchange sent prices down 12 cents a bushel on last Saturday.

Two women were killed and two men were seriously injured in an automobile accident in Atlanta last Saturday.

Eleven balloons went up at Birmingham last Saturday to qualify in the international competition that is to be instituted there on Oct. 23.

Senator Harding was characterized as a "brewer who is apologizing for his holdings" in a statement issued at Cheyenne, Wyoming last Sunday night by Governor Cox.

New York city is considering the construction of 830 miles of new subways at a cost of $350,000,000. The plan is looking twenty-five years in the future.

Secretary Baker of the war department has instructed all chiefs under him to keep in mind the most rigid economy in making their 1922 estimates.

Two women were killed and a score of persons were injured at Nashville, Tenn., when a one man street car turned turtle after jumping the track.

Fire Sunday destroyed the plant of the Barber Asphalt Paving Company at Perth Amboy, New Jersey. The plant covered several acres of ground.

R. S. McClamrock, Jr., 17, was killed, and James Poole and Clifford Baxter, 16, were badly injured when an automobile in which they and two other boys were riding turned over near Clifford College, N. C., Sunday afternoon.

Felix Cremer, colored, was shot and killed by a mob near Greensboro, Ga., last Saturday. He was charged with helping Charlie Wright, another negro to escape while Wright was being sought on a charge of shooting Robert B. McWhorter, a white man.

Following the shooting of Kinard Griffin, prominent young white farmer near Americus, Georgia, late Saturday night the body of his alleged negro assailant was found at the roadside seven miles away. Pursuers are supposed to have shot and killed the negro.

North Carolina's really unique law firm has just hung its shingle at Fayetteville, the co-partners being Henry McD. Robinson, a leader of the Cumberland county bar and his daughter, Miss Katherine McDermid Robinson who recently passed the North Carolina supreme court first in a class of 85.

On the arrival of a circus train in San Antonio, Texas, Sunday it was found that sixteen trained seals and sea lions valued at about eighteen thousand dollars had died in their tanks during a ride of a hundred miles. Poison in the water tanks was believed by circus men to have been the cause.

Frank A. Munsey, who attempted the experiment of combining the New York Herald under the name of the Sun and New York Herald has seen his mistake and announced that he will separate the papers, continuing one as the New York Herald and the other as the Sun, the Sun to become an evening paper instead of a morning paper as it formerly was.

The inhabitants of the village of Martigny, Switzerland face the prospect of being able to drink only wine and beer for some time as the result of the town waterworks being washed away Saturday by a flood which swept through the Chamoix valley, caused by the bursting of a glacier pocket. The flood is now receding; but it will be many weeks before the water works can be rebuilt.

Congressman Weaver of the tenth North Carolina district and a party of war department engineers have been spending several days at Henderson conferring with the board of trade relative to lowering Buck Shoals on the French Broad river in Henderson county with the aim of lowering the bed of the river in order to reclaim thousands of the best farming land in Henderson county.

The city of Knoxville, Tennessee, is being terrorized by the actions of a night marauding fiend who is making a practice of breaking into the rooms of women and girls after they have retired and violating them under threat of death if they make outcry. Up to last Thursday the unknown fiend has slain his sixth victim. Under the advice of the attorney general of the state many women and girls are now sleeping with pistols under their pillows. The man's victims are unable to say whether he is white or black; but they are agreed that he comes with pistol and flash light. Police believe that the fiend is a white man and either a drug addict or a maniac. Governor Roberts has offered a reward of five hundred dollars, the citizens have offered four hundred and relatives of victims have offered six hundred dollars more. A conference of citizens has resulted in the substitution of plain clothes men for uniformed policemen and the inauguration of curfew regulations that require men to explain their presence on the street after twelve o'clock midnight. A searching roundup is being made of all the known drug addicts in the city.

They Look So Much Alike.
One morning, says the Argonaut, an old man was busy in the back yard with a saw and hatchet, when the next-door neighbor came to inquire after the health of his wife. The wife, it seems, had taken a severe cold.

"Good mornin', Mr. Smith!" said the neighbor. "How is Mrs. Smith this mornin'?"
"Just about the same," answered old Mr. Smith. "She didn't sleep very well last night."
"Poor dear!" said the neighbor sympathetically. "I s'pose that's her coughin', ain't it?"
"No, it ain't her coughin'," said Mr. Smith, keeping his eye on his work. "It's a new headache."

LATE ERVIN ROWELL WAS WELL-BELOVED CITIZEN

For Years He was Superintendent of Ebenezer Sunday School—Molasses Time Here.

Indian Trail, R. F. D. 1, Sept. 30.—In the death of Mr. J. E. Rowell, which occurred Sunday, this community loses one of its best citizens, and one of its most consecrated workers; and the writer has lost one of his best friends. Mr. Rowell was the faithful superintendent of the Ebenezer Sunday school, and it was his desire that he live to see the completion of the church on the sight of the one which was destroyed by the cyclone several months ago. He will be missed in this section. Members of all denominations loved J. Ervin Rowell, and his death is a personal loss to the citizens of this community.

Misses Ella Medlin and Grace Bogan of Charlotte were the guests of Miss P. G. Hill Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Rowell and children are spending a few days at Wingate.

Mr. and Mrs. James Broom of Concord spent a few days here last week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Broom.

Mr. Charlie Rowell has returned home from Badin, where he has been working.

Mr. Bill Price has started his mill making molasses.

Miss Lillie Hill and Mr. R. Simpson have been appointed a committee to solicit funds for Mr. L. Byrum, who was so unfortunate as to lose most of his belongings by fire last week.

Death of a Good Woman.

Mrs. Rehuil Richardson died at the home of her son, Mr. T. A. Richardson in west Monroe township, Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, after several weeks of lingering illness. She was 81 years old, was born and lived in this county until the day of her death. "Aunt Rehuil" was a good woman, and greatly loved by all her many friends. She was a consistent member of Corinth Baptist church, and attended services there so long as she was able to go. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. M. Haigler. The interment was in the cemetery at Corinth. She leaves four sons, Messrs. J. W. M., T. A., J. E., and F. E. Richardson, and a number of grand-children. Mrs. Richardson had many friends who attended the burial services.

A Musical Omen.

Two women were married to musicians. The one, a bride of a year, was pushing a baby carriage in which were three fine babies—Triplets, all girls. The other woman had been in the bonds of matrimony a couple of weeks.

"What beautiful children!" exclaimed the newly married one.

"Yes," replied the proud mother; "let me tell you the funniest coincidence. At our wedding supper the boys who played with my husband in the orchestra serenaded him, and they played 'Three Little Maids' from 'The Mikado.' Isn't that funny?"

At this the other bride turned pale. "Mercy!" she gasped. "At our wedding supper Tom's friends serenaded him too, and they rendered 'The Soviet' from 'Lucia.'"
