MAKES HIS ENGAGEMENTS A YEAR AHEAD OF TIME

Kentucky Preacher Travels Over Seven Southern States in a Horse and Buggy.

ACCUSED OF BEING GERMAN SPY

H. J. Lyles, a Kentucky preacher who travels over several states in a buggy preaching the second coming of Christ, arrived in Monroe Saturday to fill an engagement, which he made a year ago, at Corinth church Sunday. From Corinth he was scheduled to go to Waxhaw to fill another engagement also made a year ago—he was here in 1919. He has no political opinions. He drives over seven states, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Virginia, each year, preaching at points where he made engagements on his previous visit. "Wanting to ride a train, he adopts the more lumbering method of travel in imitation of Christ, who was content to ride a donkey."

On being asked if he had unpleasant experiences on the road, Rev. Mr. Lyles said that he was persecuted as a German spy during the war and that he was often suspected as being a revenue agent, especially in the western part of the state, and in the mountains of Tennessee and Kentucky. At Louisville last week, he said, he was held up by three negroes, who forced him to turn his horse and buggy around. They were moonshiners, he thinks, who feared he was a revenue officer.

Before leaving The Journal office, Mr. Lyles wrote the following sermon, which he requested to be published: "I am travelling, teaching and preaching that believers ought to pray and voters vote for a revival of joy throughout our nation. A heathen philosopher said: 'Know thyself.' I say know God through Jesus, the Christ, then learn of him and thyself. By a just understanding every good man's life must be the stability and purpose of Jehovah. The ministry of Jesus was to an end, and that of ours a means to an end. When a sinner repents God repents of his design to doom him. Christ wrought the works of our heavenly Father by obedience; by trust, zeal and trial human believers were seated with the holy spirit of promise unto salvation for preservation unto eternal life. Then we must be set apart for a holy service. Eph. 1: 13, 14. I do not claim to be a good man, though my desire and intentions are good. If I am 'pure in heart' it is God and not of the flesh but of the will of the mind. I hope your kind readers will obtain eternal life. Be ready for the coming of our Lord and our gathering unto him. 2 Tess. 1-6."

Rev. Mr. Lyles, who is an interesting character, says he leaves the whiskey and the two problems to the newspaper, confining himself to preaching the world for the coming of Christ.

A Close Policy.

He had been traveling for hours and had been passing a place where he could refresh himself. At last, as the sun was sinking, he arrived at an old inn. When the waiter brought his order he looked at it and of the waiter remarking: "Is this the best you can do in the way of massage?"

"Why? Isn't it good?" said the surprised waiter.

"Good," repeated the hungry tourist. "Oh, yes, it looks good, but the ends don't suit me."

"The ends?" said the waiter, further perplexed. "What's the matter with them?"

"Not far enough apart," was the reply.

The waiter led to more to say—Chicago Daily News.
