FIGHT IN SUMPTER OVER MCCALL LAND LITIGATION

Mr. Lemmond a Witness to Fisticuff Between Opposing Counsel—S. C. Court Customs.

SUMPTER A HEROIC OLD PLACE

By R. W. LEMMOND.

A number of Monroe citizens have recently been called to Sumpter county, S. C., as witnesses in an important law suit now being tried in the courts of that county.

Journal readers might be interested to know the nature of this law suit and what it involves. The suit involves the validity of a will and a deed, made by Miss Hannah Jane McCall, in which she conveys all her property, estimated to be worth near $100,000.00, to her niece, Mrs. J. M. Blair of Monroe. Miss McCall lived and made her home with Mrs. Blair the last 15 years of her life. She died at the age of 85. She was afflicted physically and required much care and attention. She received the kindest treatment from Mrs. Blair who, during all the years Miss McCall lived with her, treated her like a mother. Although Miss McCall was old and in her last days became like all old persons, somewhat childish and hard to please, there was no friction between her and Mrs. Blair whom she loved like a child.

Had Miss McCall not made her will giving what she had to Mrs. Blair, her property would have been divided among her nieces and nephews who live, most of them, in Sumpter county where Miss McCall's property is situated.

So, if the will stands the test Mrs. Blair will be the sole owner of that $100,000 estate, otherwise it will be divided among the contestants in the suit now being tried in Sumpter court.

A strong array of counsel appear on either side, Messrs. Stack, Parker & Craig of Monroe representing Mrs. Blair, together with other strong counsel of Sumpter, and every inch of vantage ground is being contested to the bitter end. So hotly is the case being contested that two opposing counsel (both of Sumpter), in a dispute over the competency of a hypothetical question, faced each other immediately in front of the trial judge and pulled off the fiercest little fist and skull-butt I ever saw.

There is a marked difference in the courts of South Carolina and of North Carolina.

The court there is opened by a court crier who stands on the west side of the court room and in thunder tones announces the convening of court in old English common law style. Then they have a court officer whose business is to keep order in the court room. No one except those engaged in the trial is allowed to talk so as to interfere; no one is allowed to stand up, the rule being that all must enter the court room quietly, be seated and keep quiet. When this rule is violated, and it often is, the court officer comes promptly to the relief of those engaged in the trial with the stern command: "Order in Court!"

The Judge, while presiding, wears a long black robe and all attorneys are supposed to wear black. These things give the court dignity, and an air of solemnity which our courts do not have. Another thing is when any juror desires to do so he may ask a witness on the stand any question relative to the case. I do not know of any law that would prohibit our jurors from asking a witness a question if he wanted to, but it would certainly be out of the ordinary for him to do so.

Sumpter county, of which the city of Sumpter is the county seat, is a splendid county. It has a population of about 40,000 and is among the large cotton producing counties of South Carolina. It is in the central part of the state, and has an elevation, at the highest point, of 400 feet above sea level. The city of Sumpter is in the central part of the county and has an elevation of only 169 feet, and has 10,000 population.

It has good railroad facilities, there being 38 passenger trains that arrive and depart daily, and an equal number of freight trains. The property value of Sumpter county is estimated at $35,000,000. Between 60,000 and 70,000 bales of cotton are shipped from there annually. They have a cotton warehouse of 6,000-bale capacity.

Sumpter county and especially the city of Sumpter, has splendid schools.

The people of Sumpter are kind and hospitable; they are patriotic and loyal. They stand together and work together. They are not divided into contentious factions that undermine and defeat the efforts of others.

In war they unite as one man against the enemy; in time of peace they stand together and work to the best advantage of all. They have played a conspicuous part in the past. The county and city was named for Thomas Sumpter who was a general in the Revolutionary War, and for his fighting proclivities was nicknamed "Gamecock" Sumpter. And so Sumpter is called the "Gamecock" city of South Carolina. Her women are as patriotic and loyal as can be found anywhere. During the Civil War when wounded or sick soldiers would pass through, the women would board the train and give water and food to them and attend them to the next station, then walk back home or catch the next train back.

In 1874 they erected a monument to the Confederate soldiers of the county, costing $5,000.00.

$3 Wheat —and— 20c Cotton

The Western Wheat Growers Association are demanding three dollars per bushel for their wheat. The Southern farmer is selling his cotton for twenty cents and less. If we must have cheap cotton let us have cheap wheat also. If every farmer in Union county will sow enough wheat for his own needs he will not only swat the Wheat Speculator but the Cotton Speculator and Boll Weevil as well. Probably it has not been profitable for some of our farmers to raise wheat but we believe that where wheat is put on good, well prepared soil a few acres would be profitable to any farmer.

In order to encourage the farmer of Union county to sow wheat, valuable prizes are being offered for the best three acre field of wheat. OUR OFFER of $50 first prize and $25 second prize for the best 3-acre field of wheat all in one field is open to every farmer of the county with no restrictions as to kind of wheat, kind of soil nor when or how sown.

We have secured some very fine seed wheat which we will distribute among the merchants of Monroe and urge you to take advantage of this opportunity to win one or more of the prizes offered and at the same time make for yourself and family bread for next year.

Whether this is the period of re-adjustment or not, it is certainly the time for everyone to proceed with Caution. The general feeling of lower prices may be realized and again supply and demand may have to be reconed with.
