Those who attended the Yates-Hudson wedding will be interested to learn that Prof. Scott-Hunter, of Greensboro, who played the wedding march, has written two important church compositions, in the best traditions of the Anglican school of music, which have recently been published by a Boston house. One of these works is a Te Deum, an important canticle of the Episcopal church; the other is a complete communion service of thirty-one pages, embracing the Krie Kleison, Credo, Sursum Corda, Sanctus, Agnus Dei and Gloria in Excelsis. The latter work is dedicated to the choir of Holy Trinity church, Greensboro, where it was first sung at Easter a year ago. Prof. Scott-Hunter is professor of organ at North Carolina College for Women.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wolfe, of Manning, South Carolina, are spending the week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wolfe.

Sorosis was delightfully entertained last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. B. C. Ashcraft at her attractive home on Hayne Street. The subject for the afternoon's program was "Meaning of Woman's Part in Government." Current events by all present opened the program, followed by an unusually brilliant summary of the world's events for the week by Mrs. Jas. A. Stewart, president of the club. Mrs. C. C. Stokes read a very fine paper on "Woman's Influence on the Home and Family." Mrs. Chas. Leeman and Mrs. W. A. Lane read well prepared papers on "Woman's Influence on the State." Not the least delectable feature of the afternoon was the delicious salad course consisting of grape fruit salad, sandwiches, hot chocolate and stuffed dates served by the hostess assisted by Miss Lillian Cole. The dining room was lovely in its decorations of exquisite fall roses used in lavish profusion. Visitors for the afternoon were: Mesdames George Heath and sister, Mrs. Claude Sapp of Columbia, S. C., Robert S. Houston, Ray Funderburk and Walter Crowell.

An opportunity will be given everybody this week to join the Red Cross. Be ready with your dollar when solicited. The following ladies compose the canvassing committee: Mesdames W. A. Lane, R. Redfern, J. D. Warren, G. B. Caldwell, Eugene Ashcraft, F. G. Henderson, Chas. Leeman, Ervin Stack, W. S. Baskerville, V. D. Sikes, J. C. Sikes, E. S. Green, W. C. Crowell, Walter Henderson, Roseone Phifer, Madge Benson, Laura Evans; Misses Antoinette Beasley, Ollie Alexander, Virginia Lee, Jean Ashcraft, Rebecca and Lillian Stack, Sarah Welsh, Annie Nelson, Maude Shute, Nell and Clara Laney, Beatrice Fairley, Annie Lee, Blanche and Rachel Howland, Ruth Russell, Mary Crow, Pat Adams, Maude Nixon, Octavia Houston, and Claudia Sanders.

Miss Dorothy Lee, a student at Queen's, Charlotte, spent the week-end at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Lee.

Mrs. L. P. Stack and son, Lee, Jr., of Lumberton arrived last night for a visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stack.

Beautiful in every detail was the large reception given by Mrs. Julian Griffin and Mrs. Vann Funderburk at the residence of the former last Friday afternoon from 3 to 5:30. Three hundred invitations were issued and the lovely sunshine of the almost balmy weather enticed the entire number into acceptance of friendship's best. The spacious home was lovely decorated with potted ferns, palms, and fall flowers. The reception hall was hung with ivy and southern smilax, where delicious fruit punch was served by Mesdames LeRoy Smith, Sam Howie, and Geo. C. Pruett. The guests were met at the front door by Mrs. T. T. Capehart and presented to receiving party by Mrs. E. C. Carpenter. Receiving in the parlor with Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Funderburk were Mesdames C. C. Weaver, S. L. Rotter, J. Frank Laney, Ray Funderburk, Misses Anna and Mary Blair and Miss Elma Gaffney of Shelby. Exquisite pink and white chrysanthemums were used in profusion in both parlor and library where a delightfully entertaining program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered by Mesdames Jeff Sewell, Oscar Shelly, Herndon Hasty and Miss Lana May Faust. Here the guests lingered loath to leave even when invited into the dining room, abloom with gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums on mantel, buffet and cabinets. The center table with its handsome ebony lace cover and tall vase of flowers with yellow tulle festoons was a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." Here delicious yellow and white ice cream, cake and mints were served by Mesdames Bruce Adams, W. H. Norwood, Henry Milton and A. C. Johnson. Cards were received by the attractive twin daughters of Mrs. Griffin, little Misses Wilma and Minnie Sutton. Altogether this was an occasion which will linger in memory as one of the most pleasant of the gay fall 1920 season.

Mrs. W. C. Crowell delightfully entertained the Van Dyke book club at her home Saturday afternoon. Special guests for the occasion were Mrs. R. B. Redwine, Mrs. Charles Leeman, and Mrs. B. C. Ashcraft. Mrs. N. M. Redfern read a beautiful selection on "Canada, the wonderland," and other splendid papers were "A Trip

"And what is that lad of yours going to be when he grows up?"
 "I rather fancy he will be a golf caddy."
 "Really?"
 "Yes. The last tanning I gave him, he turned round and told me I wasn't holding the stick the right way."
