Road to Bakers Nearly Completed The road to Bakers will be com-pleted in a few days. This road is three feet wider than the Lee's Mill road and engineers say it is the best one in the state. There was a print of the Lee's Mill road on the cover of the North Carolina Highway bulle-tin for March. This road is the first to be completed under state aid. Both roads were built by the Redmond Construction Company.

Mr. Grantham Expected Here -Mr. A. E. Grantham, director of ag-ricultural service bureau of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, is expected to be here on Tuesday, June 27th, when the dusting demonstration and moving picture film is put on showing methods of fighting the boll weevil. The Virginia-Carolina Chem-ical Co. and the Southern Cotton Oil Co. are working in conjunction with each other in putting on these demon-strations and Mr. W. Z. Faulkner has received a letter from Mr. Grantham stating that it is his purpose to be here if possible,

Has No Liking For County Home Union county has a citizen in the person of Mr. John Edwards who has no l'ke for the county home. For the past three weeks he has been hanging and Jessie, the two Western Union haw. Mr. Edwards is 65 years of age and has no home, but it seems that he has a horror of going to the place provided for people in his condition.

is believed that very few jars will be used this year for storing and hauling blind tizer booze. It will be remembered that a few years are there was a great demand for fruit jars, even though the fruit great was a great demand for price and process of the proc though the fruit crop was almost a failure. Some fellow advanced the idea that they were being used for liouer and that the ring on the noses of some men whom nobody had ever known to wear spectacles was caused from drinking out of fruit jars. Although the blackberry crop is reported short, there are enough peaches and apples in the county to call for a large number of fruit jars and it is thought that no such accusations as were charged in another year will be preferred this summer.

Mr. Boyte's Books Are Perfect Mr. J. H. Boyte, city secretary and af book-keeping that is second to none in the country. He has a sim-plified method, the forms for which he made himself, and the work of every department is shown in a mannor that may be readily seen by any-body who wants such information. When a representative for bond purchasers visited Mr. Boyte's office a few days ago the information he desired was so easily obtained that he was really surprised, stating to Mr. Boyte that with all the expert acset of books in the big city better kept than Mr. Boyte keeps his. It might truthfully be said that there is not a more faithful nor accurate pub-

> Road Maintenance Showing Results With the present system of maintenance in the county the public roads are beginning to take on new appearance. In Marshville township roads that have been built at heavy expense were beginning to look dilapidated and were getting bumpy, but the ones that have been scraped and patched since the trucks for road work arrived a few weeks ago look very much like the Wilmington - Charlotte highway. Mr. C. W. Sturdivant, who has charge of the work in Marshville township, knows how to maintain roads and it is supposed that the raods in other sections of the county are receiving same treatment given those in Mr. Sturdivant's territory.

Outlook for Cotton Prices Good Mr. J. E. Stack, cotton dealer, be-lieves that the outlook for prices is extremely good. He states that the stocks of cotton at the ports and in-terior cities are the smallest in ten years. Last year, this date, according to Mr. Stack, there was more cotton at Memphis than is now at Memphis, Houston, Augusta and Savan-nah. He says New York has the biggest stock of any port, about two hundred thousand bales. Last year at Mr. J. H. Boyte, city secretary and assurer, has figured out a method book-keeping that is second to one in the country. He has a simpled method, the forms for which made himself, and the work of one hundred and forty thousand today. This, Mr. Stack states, is due to better demand now than a year ago, due to the fact that the short crop of last year has been used up and the reserve of former years is already being drawn upon heavily and has been for four months, and he believes that by the time the new crop is thrown on the market a bale of cotton will be worth a great deal.
