The fourth of July will be a quiet day in Monroe so far as business is concerned, for practically every business house in town has signed an agreement to close on that day.

Mrs. L. Z. Hartis writes The Journal that the Sunday schools of the M. P. churches of the Mecklenburg work, which includes Antioch, Benlah, Zoar, Stallings and Charlotte, will give a picnic at Antioch in Sandy Ridge township on July 4th.

The members and their families of the Brotherhood class of the Baptist school are to picnic at Helms pond this afternoon from six to eight.

Mr. H. W. Plyler, a business man of Lancaster, who was in Monroe Wednesday, told The Journal that on his farm last year he had planted twenty-five acres in cotton on which he should have made twenty-five bales, but made only fifteen on account of the weevil.

Good old Happy Hiram Trull came up yesterday to get a "mouth organ" from Tom Dillon. Mr. Trull is an old time fiddler but he has lost his hearing somewhat and has decided that when he plays to amuse himself he must have an instrument that makes a louder noise-music.

Mr. G. W. Crenshaw, wife and two youngest children and Mr. L. B. Crenshaw and family of Rock Hill, S. C., have recently returned from a motor trip to Reidsville, where they were the guests of their brother, Mr. O. J. Crenshaw.

The State Highway Commission on Wednesday received bids for road construction all over the state amounting to nearly four million dollars.

Mr. Alfred Funderburk, a fine old citizen of Buford, took his first ride in an automobile Wednesday, when he came to Monroe with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Plyler of Lancaster.

Some folks think that the newspapers ought to be able to answer any question, but some times the newspapers are not so smart as you would think.

Dr. W. R. Burrell will leave Monday morning for Roxboro, near which, in Mill Creek Baptist church, he will hold a meeting for the pastor, Rev. N. J. Todd, for a week.

Mr. J. A. Clontz, a Union man who now lives over in Cabarrus, and Mr. D. R. Furr, a neighbor, were in town Wednesday. They bring the usual report of finding weevil in their cotton.

Every farmer who can possibly do so should arrange to attend the meeting of the farm demonstration agents which is to be held in Monroe on the 10, 11 and 12th of July.

The friends of Raymond L. Outen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Outen, will be glad to learn that he is getting along very nicely after an operation and treatment in the Charlotte Sanatorium.

Mrs. Annie Helms, wife of Mr. S. W. Helms, whose home is on the Morgan Mill road a mile east of Monroe, died Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. William Mack Lee, body servant and cook of General Robert E. Lee, and who served General Lee throughout the war, stopped over in Monroe today on his way to his home in Norfolk from Atlanta.

When Lee surrendered at Appomattox to General Grant, William was present and says the following conversation took place between the famous generals: "Marse Lee told the Federal general that he wasn't beaten."

HOME WHERE IT SEEMS HEARTS MUST BREAK

Mr. J. P. Hargett, of Vance township, and five of the children were sick with colitis at one time. Two of the little ones died, Johnnie Mae and J. P. Jr. The others are recovering.

On Monday morning, June 7, at 6 o'clock God called our little darling, Johnnie Mae, a sweet little girl and though her life here was short our lives were made brighter by her presence, and now heaven seems nearer and dearer.

She was laid to rest at Bethel graveyard beneath a perfect mass of beautiful flowers, placed there by loving hands.

Johnnie Mae was only four years old, but God loved her best, and called her to Him, and now up yonder she is calling us on.

She seemed unusually attached to her baby brother, just eight months of age, and would play with him for hours. I can hear his baby laugh now and her little voice as she called "Jakky, Jakky," will ever ring in my ears.

Our home is lonely and sad, and especially in the twilight hour it seems our hearts will break, but over yonder our little darlings are beckoning us on, and some day there will be no more sad good byes.

Words cannot express our thanks to our many kind friends for the kindness and sympathy shown to us during the recent illness of our family and the death of our two dear little ones.

Every kindness was shown and then sympathetic friends helped bear the expenses.

May God bless each one of you is our prayer.
