STORIES OF RELIEF.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. JOHN WILLIAMS, English town, N. J., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered before taking your remedies. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a "earing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had taken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and one-half bottles and half a box of your Liver Pills I was cured. If more would take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much."

Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my head would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything."

"I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me."

Graves in Lonesome Woods. A strange graveyard that had about it the atmosphere of mystery and melancholy sadness was found a day or so ago in the heart of the New Jersey pines. A traveler on his way from Brown Mill to Manahawick, impressed by the loneliness of the locality, left the road side to walk a short distance in the virgin wilds. He had not gone far when he ran across five mounds in a row. As he drew nearer he saw the graves all marked by boards and on each a stone at the head roughly inscribed. It was evidently the most recent of the lot. The inscription told its pathetic tale as follows: Sacred to the Memory of Mary Louise Atkinson. Born July 19, 1872. Died Nov. 13, 1873. Lay away those little dresses. Once our darling used to wear. For she never more will need them. She has climbed the golden stair. Gone but not forgotten.

There was no inclosure about the graves; nothing but a few tall pines in perfect accord with the scene. A few bushes hid the graves. It would be only by accident that the could be found. Inquiry was made for the Atkinson family. No one knew of them or had ever heard of them. They must have come, buried their dead and disappeared like birds of passage. The history of the graves and why they were made in such a lonely spot was probably never known.—New York Times.

HENRY A. WISE ON CHIMNEY ROCK. What Virginia's Former Governor Said of this Famous North Carolina Crag.

In the midst of one of his impassioned speeches years ago, during the "Know Nothing" campaign, the late Henry A. Wise, formerly Governor of Virginia, and perhaps its most eloquent orator, stretched himself to his full height and exclaimed: "These mountains which lift their heads to milk the clouds." The old chap was without doubt referring to Chimney Rock. His index finger was pointing directly at Chimney Rock. Henry A. Wise is Dead. But Chimney Rock still lives. Henry A. Wise is immortal. So is Chimney Rock. Chimney Rock is one of the boldest of American crags. The Seaboard Air Line will take you there. It is only seventeen miles beyond Rutherfordton. Railroad tickets good over the stage line. The fare is set easily in the recesses of the ride is one of phenomenal grandeur, the wild mountain range. One dollar to two dollars per day. The beds are clean. The food is plentiful and wholesome. The pools are solitary and cool and glistening with sparkling trout. The leafage of the steep is a ceaseless study and so calm and stimulating. The summer thermometer does light duty, having a "beat" of only from 60 to 81. This means deep sleep by night and long climbing walks by day. Everybody wants to walk. But Henry A. Wise said it all. Summer tourist rates from all parts of North Carolina. Don't miss it, men and brethren. Inquire of all agents. "Kick if everything is not perfectly comfortable. Watch the baby get well. Watch the boy from college get long as he likes. If Chimney Rock is anything it is a place to set the family up against the Fall. Excursion tickets on sale at all Seaboard Air Line ticket offices to Chimney Rock and return at greatly reduced rates.

Havana is rapidly becoming Americanized. Instead of a bull fight on a recent Sunday there was a baseball game, and interest in the match waxed so warm that a close decision by the umpire in the eighth inning almost precipitated a riot. The Times of Cuba says that the police took a hand in the affair, revolvers were drawn, and murder would have been done had not a detachment of the Seventh Cavalry appeared on the scene with loaded guns to quell the disturbance.
