WILL FIGHT IT OUT.

The two Republican conventions held in Charlotte last Wednesday evening, one by the regular Republicans, and the other by the Roosevelt wing, and the separate tickets nominated furnish conclusive evidence that there is an irreconcilable difference between the two wings of the party, and it may be counted upon as quite sure that they will fight it out to a finish. This would seem to make absolute the success of the National Democratic ticket conceded by members of all parties, but what effect it will have upon the State ticket will not be so easily determined. There is much more dissatisfaction in State politics than is generally presumed.

The Democratic party is charged with omitting much that it might have done in the interest of the peoples, things, that it could and should have done because of its predominance and power to do them, not that it is assumed that the Republican party could be depended upon to do them, but there is much weariness in waiting for professional politicians to treat the people of North Carolina as they should be treated.

The Editor of the Leader has never done other than stick to Democratic principles, during his twenty years service in the newspaper business, but he has never regarded as infallible the assumption of a professional politician that he was a Democrat, no more than he regards a sure indication that a man is a Christian because his name happens to be on some church record, and in this day of religious and political degeneracy the fellows mouth is often the poorest, and least dependable witness in his own behalf.

It is to the interest of no people, or party, for a party to feel that it is so thoroughly entrenched in political power as to feel it can defy public sentiment.

We believe in the people, and shall ever strive to serve them as best we can.

There is a persistent rumor that we are on the eve of a break with Mexico. Nothing in it perhaps, and then there might be, it would be difficult to tell when the echo of a gun fired by the United States on Mexican soil is going to cease its reverberation. The Mexicans are an excitable race, continually in revolution. Intervention by the United States may mean much more in the end than we think for. It is apparently not much of a matter, but conflicting interest may start a conflagration that would mean awful havoc. We might add however, that in Mr. Taft's present dilemma, that a war between this country and any other nation would be a convenient thing to have on hand. They are great diverters of public sentiment, and then in the event of one Mr. Taft might say it would be a dangerous policy to swap presidential horses while crossing a dangerous Mexican stream. It would have its effects, so in fact does not Mr. Taft need a little war.

Mr. Thomas Settle has been nominated by the regular Republicans as their candidate for governor of this State. Mr. Settle will run on a local option platform so agreed by the convention, by an overwhelming vote. It may be thought that this fact will tend to alienate a great many people who otherwise might support Mr. Settle, and so it will, there are a great many people who will support Mr. Settle because of this very plank in the platform upon which he runs. In a time like this when politics has been thrown to the winds it will be difficult to correctly determine the final show down until after November the first, but there will evidently be some surprises.

The Coming of the Fall

The fields'll soon be ready for the reapers, one and all, And the happiest time in Georgia is the coming of the Fall; You hear the winds a-singing of the liveliest kind o' tune, The playing of the fiddles, and we'll all be dancing soon!

Joy will come to greet us from many a glad retreat; At the old cane-grinding, where the juice is drippin' sweet; The world'll seem like Paradise, where not a dream is vain; For your sweetheart—she will meet you at the grindin' of the cane.

Fair fields will bid us welcome, and give us all their gold Just all the wealth and happiness the arms of you can hold; The singing Summer leaves us, we the Autumn's call; "The happiest time in Georgia is the coming of the Fall!" F. L. S., in Atlanta Constitution.

The Fourteen Errors of Life.

The fourteen mistakes of life, Rentoul recently told the Bartholomew Club, of London, are:
To expect to set up our own standard of right and wrong and expect everybody to conform to it.
To try to measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.
To look for judgement and experience.
To endeavor to mold the dispositions of everybody alike.
Not to yield in unimportant trifles.
To look for perfections in our own actions.

To worry ourselves about what cannot be remedied.
Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.
Not to make allowance for weaknesses of others.
To consider anything impossible simply because we ourselves happen to be unable to perform it.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.
Not to live as if the moment, the time, the day, were so important that it would live forever.
To estimate people by some outside quality, for it is that within which makes the man.

Thrust

In a suffrage debate in Omaha last month, Miss Millicent M. Miller, the suffragist leader, and Dr. C. Thompson Morton, the well known anti-suffragist, plinked one another very neatly with barbed stories.

"Women are cold callous, calculating," said Dr. Morton. "I know a youth, an Omaha youth, who, overboiling with passionate love, laid his heart at a pretty Omaha girl's feet."
"But she was still silent."
"Madeline," he cried again. "I lay my most splendid hopes, my most cherished ambition, in the dust before you. Will you not speak?"
"And at last the girl spoke—spoke calmly, coolly."
"Is the business," she said, "of your mother's name or your own?"—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Mebane Drug Co.

The best things are the nearest: Breath in your nostrils, light in your eyes, flowers at your feet, duties at your hand, the path of God just before you. Then do not grasp at the stars, but do life's plain, common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things in life.

Absorb Water Through the Skin.
Experiments have been made with frogs which tend to show that those animals rapidly absorb water through the pores of the skin. Emphasis is laid by certain authorities upon the fact that frogs never take water by the mouth. On being exposed for several hours to dry air some frogs experimented with lost 14 per cent. of their weight, but this was nearly all regained within 24 hours when they were placed in a dish containing water only one centimeter in depth.

A Sensible Girl

The boat was drifting idly when he proposed.
She gazed at him calmly from her end of the craft and said:
"As a matter of common sense, realizing that we are in this boat on a body of water forty feet in depth, and that if you were to act as you should act if I accepted you, we would be capsized, I will decline your proposal at this moment—but, George, row to shore as fast as you can and ask me again!"—Chicago Evening Post.

For the Darkness Draws Near.
If a man have the truth in him, the thought of his own death as an ever-present possibility will, far from paralyzing effort, drive him to a more faithful performance of duty. As the poet says, "then let him turn today."—Exchange.

For Sale

Trust no Future, howe'er pleasant! Let the dead Past bury its dead! Act—act in the living Present! Heart within, and God o'erhead. —Longfellow.

The Men Who Succeed

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, to-day, demands health. To ail is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at Mebane Drug Co.

Asbestos Shingles.

Asbestos shingles are now being manufactured in this country with success, and the trade has grown enormously. The new products are of the lightest weight and fireproof up to a temperature of two thousand and more degrees. They are proof against acids and weather and are said to last as long as a concrete building will.

"Jinx's daughter bids fair to become a humorist." "That so?" Yes, I was visiting there last night, and I told her she had her mother's voice and her father's features, and she asked me if I thought suicide a sin."—Houston Post.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by many dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by A. J. Dealers.

That the ship was not sinking. The hours she could not be continued. Her reflection was in the moon. She was a girl of the name of Emma. Her father, a merchant, was the hair and beard. Her mother, a New York. Her father had not met her. Her mother had been swept from the ship. The water was three feet deep and like a blanket. The board, was floating about the deck. New York, a bride, the only bride on board, was on her way from Bermuda to a dip into an enormous wave while when the steamer Taurus rose after her hair saved her.

What he Didn't Like

A horse dealer was trying to sell a horse afflicted with heaves, and said to the prospective buyer: "Hasn't he a fine coat? Isn't it a dandy?"
"His coat's all right, but I don't like his pants."

Uncle Ezra Says

"It don't take more'n a gill uv effort to git folks into a peck of trouble" and a little neglect of constipation, biliousness, indigestion or other liver derangement will do the same. If ailing, take Dr. King's New Life Pills for quick results. Easy, safe, sure, and only 25 cents at Mebane Drug Co.

CURIOUS WORK OF PENANCE

Ancient Buddhist of Japan Writes 128,000 Words on Piece of Paper 13 by 7 1/2 Inches.

For some time there has been shown in San Francisco a piece of paper 13 inches by 7 1/2 inches, on which there are written 128,000 words. This writing is the work of Kobo Teishi, a Buddhist of Japan, who lived 1,100 years ago. Before his time his countrymen used only Chinese characters in writing and he evolved the idea of the Japanese alphabet. The writing on the paper is so fine that a microscope has to be used to decipher the intricate Japanese characters. It is an exact copy of eight books of the Buddhist Bible, and was written by the author as a sort of penance to purify his spirit. It is the property of a descendant of the writer, and has passed as a sacred heirloom from father to son for a thousand years. Every precaution has been taken to insure the safety of the document. In a case of white wood is a beautiful laquered box wrapped in green silk. Within the laquered box is another made of a very light porous wood that is extensively used in the manufacture of cabinets in which to store treasures. In this box is the precious writing.
