

THE MEBANE TOBACCO MARKET OPENS

THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 11th.

This Will Be a Lucky Day For You if You Sell Your First Tobacco at the Piedmont Warehouse

J. N. WARREN & CO. Proprietors.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

Believing as we do that we have satisfied you in the past, serving you and looking out for your interest as best we could, we ask that you give us a chance to please you again at the Piedmont Warehouse this year, where we expect to sell tobacco high, and treat our patrons at all times with the courtesy which they deserve.

Associated with J. N. Warren & Co. this season, will be Mr. W. L. Leath, of Union Ridge, N. C. an all-round good man and a farmer who knows tobacco, and, like themselves, has the interest of the farmer at heart. It is well known that J. N. Warren and Co. are practical farmers, that they know tobacco from the plant bed up, and know the needs of the farmer. They know that the farmer labors hard the whole year that he expects the best when he puts his tobacco on the Warehouse floor, and they never disappoint him. Last year there was sold on the Mebane tobacco market more than two million pounds of tobacco. The outlook is that this year will pass the three million pound mark. High prices is what brings this tobacco, for we believe in selling a farmer's tobacco just as high as if it was our own. Mr. George Lansdell, Semora, N. C., a man of twelve years experience, and was with us last season, will be our auctioneer. He comes highly recommended, a man that gets every cent that is to be gotten from a pile of tobacco.

Mr. J. G. Tingen, who for several years, has been connected with our office force, will be with us again this season, and will endeavor to serve you satisfactorily.

We want to thank our friends for their past patronage, and assure them that we will reciprocate by selling their tobacco high this season and give them a square deal in every respect.

Try Us With Your First Load. You will Come Again.

England's Uncrowned King.
 Of the long line of kings which have ruled England since the days of William the Conqueror, nearly 900 years ago, there has been only one uncrowned king. King Edward V., the boy king, who met an untoward fate in the Tower of London in 1483, is the only monarch who reigned without receiving the church's blessing or the formal homage of his subjects. Some people include Lady Jane Grey among England's monarchs. If this doubtful claim is allowed England's only uncrowned queen ranks with Edward V and deprives him of one distinction.—London Tit-Bits.

A Triumph of Imagination.
 Tallander told me that a great archbishop of his acquaintance in Paris had set himself to make an exact design of the imaginary abbey of Thelme, minutely described by Rabelais, and told him that if such an edifice were to be erected it would be the most perfect building every known.—Conway's Autobiography.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.
