A Good Showing For Dixie.

Do you know that the South's agricultural production now exceeds the total value of the agricultural output of the United States, in 1887, and are almost as great in value as the total of the United States in 1890?

Do you know that the South is mining more than twice as much bituminous coal as the United States mined in 1880?

Do you know that the Southern railroads must spend $2,000,000,000 in ten years to provide facilities needed in Southern growth?

Do you know that the most comprehensive and remarkable warehousing system in the world is in operation in a Southern town?

Do you know that the South is building two of the most remarkable railroads ever constructed in America, and that one of them is the most unique ever built in the world?

Do you know that the South is now spending $20,000,000 in building cotton mills?

Do you know that the Steel Corporation having $50,000,000 invested in Alabama is carrying out vast improvements which will add immensely to the prosperity of the whole South?

Do you know that good roads, which mean more for agricultural prosperity than anything else before the public, are being built all over the South as never before at a cost of many millions of dollars?

Do you know that all of the present development of the railroad and industrial work in the South is only the revival of what was being done prior to 1860 on a relatively still larger scale which shows the inborn trait of Southern people to turn to industrial interests?

Do you know that the South lost by emigration between 1865 and 1900 about 2,500,000 of its own white people, and that this was a far greater loss than the ruin and destruction by war?

Do you know that this drain has largely stopped, and that Southern men and boys are now finding more avenues of employment at home than elsewhere?

Do you know that the tide of investment of American and foreign capital and the movement of population is turning southward as never before, and that wonderful things are in store for this section?

Do you know that the biggest immigration movement in the country's history is going on in Texas, where about 200,000 people a year are settling, coming in from the North and West, and that this movement of population is tending to other Southern States as well as to Texas?

Do you know that though the value of the South's cotton crop with seed is between $700,000,000 and $800,000,000 a year, that value is less than a third of the total value of the South's annual agricultural production?

Do you know that with a population less by 2,000,000 or 4,000,000 than what the total population of the United States was in 1860, the wealth of the South is $5,000,000,000 greater than the total wealth of the whole country in 1860?—Manufacturers Record.

The old Gaither store building is being remodeled, new floors and ceilings being put in. When completed, it will be a first-class business house. The two new store buildings will be completed some time this year, which makes three more store buildings for this city.

Stranger—I should say not. I'm an undertaker.—Chicago D. News.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by C. C. Sanford Sons Co.

Fashion's Foppish Fools.

James Larkin Pearson.

I would like awful well to be the fool-killer for about a thousand years. My first duty in that capacity would be to grab up the god of fashion by the nape of the neck and the bosom of the breeches and slam him against the shrieking face of nature so hard it would raise blisters on the bottom of the Dead Sea. Then I would go over the earth with a fine-tooth comb and gather into a pile those microscopic mites of mortality who have spent their little lives fawning at the feet of fashion. I would rip their regulation rags off of their foppish frames, dress them in decent duds and put them to work.

The willing workers are the people who produce the wealth of the world; and they are seldom known to get above their business. But the pampered plutocrats—those slimy social vampires who are too infernal lazy to do an honest day's work, and who steal the life-blood from the veins of labor—they have formed a compact to make labor dishonorable, and to outlaw the very foundation of human existence.

The young man who works for an honest living, and whose wardrobe cannot boast a score of "evening suits" and a dozen high silk hats, is not allowed to bow and scrape among the "best people" of the town. The modest typewriter girl who works in the office of the millionaire, although her soul is as pure and spotless as the beautiful snow, cannot associate as an equal with her employer's dancing, dope eating, disreputable daughter, in whose eyes lie the sinister shadows of the primrose path.

I freely admit that working people are not the equals of the kid-glove push, but they are ten thousand times the superior of those graceless, good-for-nothing, gold-worshipping slaves of sensuality and sin.

Just why these poor, miserable mud-lizzards of "sawdust" should call themselves the "best people" is a puzzle, unless they have reference to their superior skill and accomplishments in all the low-down devil begotten dissipations of modern life.

The silk-hatted scion of society will turn up his nose at the solid old farmer who drives into town with a load of produce, and I'll bet a dollar you could scrape enough material from under the old farmer's toe-nails to make a dozen better men than the society sprout.

Much as can be said in condemnation of the pantaloons racks of "society," I believe the petticoat-racks are still worse. There is a limit to the amount of gew-gaws that a man can get fastened onto his festive frame, but if any such limit applies to the other horn of the human dilemma it has not yet been discovered. I have seen women with a whole dry goods store flopping around them as they walked the streets, while a buggy wheel trimmed with feather beds set balanced on their ponderous pompadours. Again I have seen these same "women" at a society blow out, and, before God, I had to look twice to see if they had on anything at all.

With the exception of fops and duds, men have adopted a very sensible form of dress, and they stick to it fairly well. But with the women it is different. They never know one minute what the fashion will be the next. When they go to bed at night they lie awake racked with mortal fear lest all their glad rags may be out of date before morning. If a man buys the queen of his realm a new head-piece, he has to run like a scared turkey to get home with it before the fashion changes.

And so, brethren, I pronounce this whole fad following business one great, grand, glorious, unmitigated fraud.
