NUMBER 30.

The Boone Cabin Completed.

Winston Journal.
Lexington, Jan. 25.—The log cabin which the Dansel Boone Memorial Association ordered built on the traditional site of the cabin of the Boone family in Boone township, this county, has been completed. It is as nearly as possible an exact reproduction of the original. The workmen, in digging a new foundation, came across a number of old dishes, which are supposed to have belonged to the pioneer's family. The association, of which Col. John S. Henderson, of Salisbury is president, was incorporated by the last legislature. Recently it raised nearly $200 to build this cabin, which it purposes to turn into a museum, placing in it relics of the Boones, of which there are several, as well as articles belonging to the pioneer and colonial periods.

In May a big celebration will be held, at which distinguished speakers will be present and a picnic dinner given.

The spot, on the banks of the Yadkin, is about as wild as it was when the great pioneer first saw it. It is a picturesque place and the association congratulates itself on the acquisition of three acres of the land, given by Mr. Phillip Sowers of Rowan county.

A Southern Industry.

An industry which is developing in the South and which offers attractions in many ways is that of canning sweet potatoes. So many portions of the Southeast are great producers of sweet potatoes that this branch of the canning industry should develop into a very large one. Sweet potatoes will run from 150 to 200 bushels per acre, and sold as a farm crop are very profitable. The demand for canned sweet potatoes in many portions of the country is large and is increasing and the market can readily be extended over the whole country. This industry is only one which is developing in the Southeast, out of the ordinary lines, and is but another illustration of the varied resources of that territory which may be utilized in making the lands more valuable, and in emphasizing the opportunities which await in the various sections of the Southeast the man who is looking for a new home and a new business.—Southern Field.

Mr. George Felker Dead.

Mr. George Felker, of near Kappa, died last Tuesday, after a two-weeks illness. The funeral and burial services were conducted on Wednesday at 3 o'clock, and the body laid to rest at St. Matthews church. Mr. Felker was one of the county's oldest citizens, being in his 84th year. He was a consistent member of the Lutheran church. Mr. Felker leaves a number of children, and many relatives and friends to mourn his loss. The Record extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

A Fatal Oversight.

Not long since a young man of splendid muscular development, was seen in our city with two heads on his shoulders. Both were fully developed heads, with rather handsome features, one with blond hair, the other with black hair. The young man is not a museum freak as might be supposed. The other head was the property of his sweetheart, and would not have appeared in such a deformed position had it not been for the young lady's neglect to "drop the curtain."—Waxhaw Enterprise.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial and Orphan's Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth. It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people, it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c. at C. C. Sanford's."

To Our Friends.

We are making preparations to move our office from the Masonic building to the hall over Angel's brick store, on N. Main street, where we will have more floor space and light. We want to get into our new quarters by the first of next month. Now, those who never moved a printing office cannot conceive the amount of worry and expense this simple announcement entails. Our subscribers are not asked to share the worry with us, but we want to earnestly request all those who are owing us on subscription, to call and settle, or send in the amount. This is not asking for much on your part, as we are only pleading for what you justly owe us. Many of our best subscribers have let their subscription fall behind, and as a result, there are several hundred men who should come to our rescue now. We cannot afford to send out statements to all who are owing us, and we trust that you will bring or send your renewal at once. Your support means much to us at this time. We have waited patiently on you, and now ask for your help. Will you help us?

To Patrons of Rural Routes.

Postmaster Morris, of this city, has received the following letter from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General:

"In view of the extent to which the practice of placing loose coins in boxes by rural patrons has grown, and the delay in the delivery and collection of mail and the hardship imposed on rural carriers incident thereto, you are informed that, commencing Feb. 15, proximo, rural letter carriers will not be required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes. "Patrons should enclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in a piece of paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes, and carriers will be required to lift such coins, and, where accompanied by mail for dispatch, attach the requisite stamps."

It is recommended that patrons supply themselves with stamps and attach to their mail before putting same in box, as it is very difficult for carriers to do so when their fingers are stiff with cold.

THE HOOKWORM.

When Johnny shirks his lessons
And lies a-bed all day,
And Lizzie leaves the dishes
For ma to put away,
The children are not lazy,
So get the doctor quick,
It is the little hook worm
And both of them are sick.

We wrong the homeless hobo
By calling him a tramp,
The hookworm in his system
Has simply pitched its camp.
And when we're slack and shiftless
We need not blush for shame
Nor utter lame excuses,
The hookworm is to blame.
—Minna Irving.

Saved From Awful Peril.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infaltable for Coughs and Colds, its most certain remedy for La Grippe, Asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections, 50c. and $1. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by C. C. Sanford.

Many a man who would be unable to find the family Bible if he hunted all day would have no difficulty in putting his hand on the corkscrew even in the dark.—Ex.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and at the first indication of croup, give the child a dose. Pleasant to take and always cures. Sold by C. C. Sanford Sons Co.

Cash Subscription Papers.

Charlotte Observer.
Every week or so some weekly paper in this State drops into line with the announcement that after a certain date it will adopt the cash-in-advance system on its subscription list. The Oxford Ledger is the latest to make the change stating that the new rule will go into effect February 15, thus giving subscribers plenty of time to pay up arrearages and to conform to the new rule of the future. Probably every paper in the State could with advantage adopt some such rule, especially the weeklies and semi-weeklies. Why should subscribers to these papers expect to be carried on the subscription books for years, while the editors are struggling to make their monthly accounts balance and, because of the heavy load of unpaid subscriptions, are not able to give their readers as good a paper as they would like. A man who cannot pay promptly from one dollar to two dollars and a half a year for a paper has no business taking it. He would think it mighty hard if he had to dispose of his dry goods or his groceries, supposing him a merchant, or his country produce, supposing him a farmer, in one dollar or two-dollar lots and have to wait several years for pay, while the bills were increasing all the time. We would like to see more papers fall into line on the subscription-in-advance principle. They could soon educate their subscribers up to it, and the latter would quickly see the advantage it was to them in assuring a better paper.

IT PAYS.

When the dimpled baby's hungry,
What does the baby do?
It doesn't lie serenely and merely sweetly coo;
The hungry baby bellows with all its little might
Till some one gives it something to curb its appetite.

The infant with the bottle which stills its fretful cries
A lesson plainly teaches: It pays to advertise.

The lamb lost on the hillside when darkness closes round
Stands not in silence trembling and waiting to be found;
Its plaintive bleating echoes across the vales and meads
Until the shepherd hears it, and, hearing, kindly heeds,
And when its fears are ended, as on his breast it lies,
The lamb has made this patent: It pays to advertise.

The fair and gentle maiden who loves the bashful boy
Assumes when in his presence a manner that is coy;
She blushes and she trembles till he perceives at last,
And clasps her closely to him and gladly holds her fast,
And as he bends to kiss her and as she serenely sighs,
This fact is demonstrated: It pays to advertise.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." Sold by all Druggists.

And now Statesville and Iredell county have passed a compulsory vaccination law, which means that people will shun that town and county as though the devil were there in hiding.

A Safeguard to Children.

"Our two children of six and eight years have been since infancy subject to colds and croup. About three years ago I started to use Foley's Honey and Tar, and it has never failed to prevent and cure these troubles. It is the only medicine I can trust to get the children to take without a row." The above from W. C. Ormstein, Green Bay, Wis., duplicates the experience of thousands of other users of Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by all Druggists.

Biblical.

We are informed within the lids of the old Testament that Adam and Eve were the first two human beings that ever entered the garden of Eden, and by their being disobedient to the command of the Lord of hosts, they were driven from the garden of Eden. Thus they committed a very great error, from which Adam's posterity has never recovered. It is a well-known fact and has never been called in question, that owing to the disobedience of Adam and Eve, the Son of God would never have been convicted by a wicked court in the city of Jerusalem, and suffered and died the disgraceful death upon the Roman cross for the redemption of the human race. The Lord said to Eve because she had disobeyed His command, that He would multiply her sorrows in reference to the conception of her children, and He said to Adam because he obeyed the woman and not the Lord, therefore dust thou art and unto dust thou shalt return, the most melancholy expression uttered within the lids of the old Testament. Thus you see by Adam and Eve's transgression is caused all the wickedness which has ever been perpetrated upon Adam's race through all the ages. And according to the information from sacred writing, if obedience in lieu of disobedience, during the days of Adam and Eve had prevailed, that the human race today would not be connected with any of the violations of the laws of the Lord, but would be fit subjects for admission into a better world.

You Will Miss It

If you don't subscribe for this paper for the coming year. It will contain all the worth while news of the world, at home and abroad, with the accent on the AT HOME.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

There is more to a Fertilizer than Analyses

The mere mixing of materials to obtain analysis requires no special knowledge. The value of a fertilizer lies in the source from which the plant food is obtained.

Each ingredient in Royster goods is selected with a view of supplying the plant from sprouting until harvest. The plant is not overfed at one time and starved at another. Twenty-five years experience goes with every bag.
