OUR MOTTO.

"We will speak out; we will be heard
Though all earth's systems crack;
We will not bate a single word
Nor take a little back.
We speak the truth and what care we
For hissing and for scorn,
While some faint gleanings we can see
Of freedom's coming morn?
Let liars fear, let cowards shrink,
Let traitors turn away;
Whatever we have dared to think
That dared we also say."

The Mocksville correspondent of the boiler-plate Statesville sheet sent out by the Cooleemee sell, had the following to say to its few readers last week:

"What did you hit the editor of The Record so hard for? Don't you know he has no politics, hence his candidacy may do some good for the Democrats. Let him alone, poor fellow."

The writer of the above must have been in close proximity to those ten barrels of booze when writing the flaming article just quoted. There is no doubt but that the Democrats in this county need some help, and were it not for such smart fellows as the above writer, they might get it. The Record proposes to give the news of the county, and be independent so far as politics is concerned, but the editor of this sheet has some mighty strong convictions, and when November rolls around, should he be spared, a vote for the principles for which he has always stood, will gently flutter into the ballot box. And since the Journal is so opposed to our candidacy for Representative we shall make the race, disregardless of everything, provided the correspondent above mentioned, will vote for us.

The meat trust is catching it on every side. More than a million people have signed a petition to eat no more meat until the price drops. There is no necessity for us to sign such a petition, for it has been many days since we have seen a piece of meat of any description.

The smallpox scare in this city has about blown over, but it will be a long time before business picks up. The people in the country seem to be afraid to come to town, and business is paralyzed. We wish to say that vaccination is not compulsory, and that there is no danger whatever in coming to town.

Just Another Push.

With just a little energy and push on the part of a few citizens of Mocksville, and this town can secure a first class canning factory. Since our last issue, we have talked to several business men in regard to this matter. One citizen tells us that he will furnish the land, build the factory, install the steam power and put in $1,000 in cash, provided he can get other citizens to put in $2,000, thus giving the factory a capital of $3,000 to begin operations with, exclusive of the land, building and power. It certainly seems to us that the citizens of Mocksville should take up this liberal proposition. Two citizens, by investing $1,000 each, can start this factory, or four citizens with $500 each. This matter should be pushed, for such a factory would mean much to our town and county. Besides giving employment to a number of people in the factory, it would create a big demand for vegetables, fruits and berries, and would bring many thousands of dollars into our county from the Northern cities in exchange for the farmer's products. Such a factory would create an active market for beans, cabbage, potatoes, corn, tomatoes, apples, pears, peaches, blackberries, etc. We need a big cannery. The time is ripe for it. The people of this city have let too many opportunities like this pass. Now is the opportunity for the people to come forward and secure this factory. It means much to our town and county.

Reedy Creek News.

The Asheboro graded school has an enrollment of 426.

A South Carolina man sends 50 cents by a friend of The Record to HiKi to pay for his paper, lest fire be thrown at him. He sent instructions to call around when in Greenville and try some of his Coca Cola. Thanks.

W. A. Bailey, of Advance, was in town Monday on business.

Good Man Gone to His Reward.

Noah Alexander Stonestreet was born Oct. 6th, 1836, and died Jan. 6th, 1910, of pneumonia and heart trouble. In early manhood he was married to Miss Mattie Coon. To them were born seven children, four boys and three girls, of whom one boy and one girl are dead. He was raised in the faith of the Methodist church and in early life joined the M. P. church at Union Chapel. He was a consistent attendant at church, and a regular contributor to all its claims. His house was the home of the Methodist preacher, and in that home his children were carefully trained to love the church and do the right. He was among the first to enlist in the civil war, to help defend what he conceived to be right of our southland. In later years he was elected sheriff of Davie county. In a quiet but forceful way he took an active interest in public affairs of both church and state. Faithful and true as he was in every relation of life, it is perhaps in the home as the reverend head of the household that his most enduring influence was extended, and here his loss is most sorely felt by his son and daughter with whom he lived. His funeral was conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. A. G. Loftin, and attended by a host of relatives and friends. The remains were laid to rest beside his wife who died some time ago. May the Lord graciously sustain the bereaved in this severe ordeal, and may they meet him on the other shore in the sweet bye and bye.

A FRIEND.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts. He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

The Davie Record, The Toledo Blade and The Yellow Jacket all three papers one year for only one dollar.
