WHAT MOCKSVILLE NEEDS.

Mocksville needs improved sidewalks, better streets, electric lights and water works. There is but one way to secure these much-needed improvements and that is to issue bonds. We can never hope to attract outside capital until we have something to offer the investor in the way of protection against fire, streets and sidewalks fit to travel over, etc. Many of our people are in favor of making these improvements and we believe that an election should be held, thus giving the people a chance to express themselves. Every citizen of the town should want to see new people, new shops and factories locate here. With the above improvements under way it would not be more than a few months until many people would be locating in our midst and new factories and shops would be built. The town would no doubt double its population within the next couple of years. We have fine climate, good water, a good school and a fine court house, two good banks, a handsome Masonic temple, good churches and the best people in the world. We have a few manufacturing enterprises to start with, consisting of two flour mills, a good furniture factory, a chair factory, veneering mill, two lumber plants, two gineries and a new chair and table factory which is ready to begin operations. With a few improvements as mentioned, we could soon secure a cotton mill and two or three knitting mills, and possibly a number of other enterprises. No capitalist is coming to a dead town to invest money. We have got to show the outsider that we mean business. A few years ago we lived in a town about the size of Mocksville, with no lights, no streets, no water system, and but two or three little factories. That town got busy and put in an electric light plant, issued bonds and spent a hundred thousand dollars putting in a water and sewerage system, and another hundred thousand was invested in building sidewalks and streets. Today that town has a population of at least seven thousand people, with two or three cotton mills, hosiery mills, furniture and chair factories and thirty or forty other manufacturing enterprises. Together with this the people of that town spent another hundred thousand dollars in building handsome churches and today no town of its size in the State has prettier homes, finer houses of worship or better school buildings. What it took to build that town was a little push and energy and a few needed improvements. Our town can do the same thing. Shall we remain in the back woods and settle down to dry up, or shall we build up our town and invite the capitalist to move in and invest his money within our borders. It is for the people to say. The Record stands for a bigger and better Mocksville. How does the people stand on this question? We will see.

Another $10,000 Gift to Children's Home.

Daily Sentinel.
The Children's Home here established and conducted under the auspices of the Western North Carolina M. E. Conference, is to be the recipient of another gift of ten thousand dollars, the same to be used in the construction of another modern building which will perhaps be in the nature of a memorial to the donor. Still another gift of ten thousand dollars to the Home is believed to be forthcoming. A Davie county citizen is almost persuaded to make a contribution of the above amount, and official announcement of same may be made within the next week or two.

Ten Are Killed And 25 Injured.

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 26 - Relief parties early today began a systematic search of the wreckage in the path of the tornado which swept thru the populous farming section east of this city late yesterday, in an effort to locate persons reported missing and believed to have been caught under ruins of farm houses. A revision of the list of dead and injured brought to the hospitals here during the night placed the number known to have been killed at ten and the injured at twenty five. Of the injured, several were reported in a critical condition today.—Sentinel.
