His Home Paper

Atlanta Constitution．
＂It＇s strange，＂said a cele－ brated author，recently，＂and yet not strange，how these old associations cling to us I was born a rural district，and forty years ago，the little country weekly was the only newspaper literature we had．It was pub－ lished every Saturday，and when it didn＇t come out＇on time＇everybody was in a flur－ ry．Well，I have not visited my birthplace in twenty years，but during all that time $I$ have been a subscriber to that little country weekly．I＇ve crossed the seas and it has followed me faithfully to foreign capitals． I＇ve taken it from my pocket in the clubs in London and Paris．and have read．with all the interest of old．how Colonel So－and－so is in our midst，how John Jones Sundayed with us，＇how＇our esteemed coroner sat on three dead men yester－ day，＇and how＇the editor is thankful for a mess of cabbage， but needs some bacon to boil it with，＇etc．Yes，that little country weekly is a posi，ive joy to me yet．And the editor doesn＇t have to dun me for my s bbscription either．＂

The Electicn Over．

The election is over and THEY SAY the negro is eliminated： but be that as it may，both man and beast must depend upon the farmer for their bread and meat．To encourage this great industry，I have just perfected arrangements by which I can supply my farmer friends with the most reliable Wheat Fertil－ izer on the market．I am also agent for the celebrated Dise Wheat Drill，a sample of which can be seen at my store．I will keep on hand choice Tennessee Seed Wheat，perfectly clear of all filth，and from which article the finest flour in the world is made．
I am daily adding to my large stock of Family Groceries， Fancy Confections and other useful articles that I have not room here to mention．
Fair and honest dealing is my motto，and to verify this you only have to gige me a trial．You will find me at the old Hogan Corner．
