Heart Trouble Quickly Cured.

For 15 years I suffered from heart trouble. During that time I was treated by five different physicians. All of them claimed that I could not be cured. I was greatly troubled with shortness of breath, palpitation and pain in the side. It became so acute, or even myself in the last, the pain in my side became so severe. At times it seemed as though needles were shooting through my side. Sometimes in the month of November last, I commenced taking DR. MILES' HEART CURE and since then I have improved steadily. I can now sleep on my left side, something I had never been able to do before. I can walk without being fatigued, and am in much better health than ever before. I would recommend all sufferers from heart trouble to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY.

SULLENLY WITHDRAWS AND RETIRES WITH 'HEAD HUNG.'

The American Tobacco Company, which embraces a large majority of the cigarette and tobacco firms in the United States last Wednesday issued a circular wherein formal notice is given of the abandonment of its factor agreement, which formerly existed between the company and its customers. The reasons for the change are set forth in a circular which was then mailed to the tobacco jobbers in all parts of the country. The circular reads as follows: 'In many States the Legislatures have recently passed laws intended to make illegal all contracts and arrangements by which manufacturers seek to comply with the natural demands of dealers in their products to secure to them legitimate compensation; such laws are calculated to keep the trade in a constant state of uncertainty, and to involve those therein in expensive litigation. While it is probable that all such laws are unconstitutional and in a test, would so be declared by the courts of final resort, yet, during the progress of the litigation, the manufacturer and dealer would suffer great loss and expense, for those laws bear equally on all parties to the contract or arrangement. Though the laws in your State may not be so sweeping as in some others, yet trade is not bound by any imaginary lines, and for that reason any arrangement that is not general in its application defeats the result the dealer desired. In view of these considerations, and that, in the interests of the trade generally, in the case of laws in testing such laws in several States, and, because of the delays, annoyance and expense of lawsuits, we do not feel that we should be expected to undertake to have adjudicated the laws of all the States which have passed them, we have determined that, in the face of all these laws, which so seriously affect the permanency of any arrangement by which the manufacturer undertakes to benefit the dealer, and which involve you as well as ourselves in their inconvenience and penalties, it is proper, in your interest and our own to terminate all arrangements relating to the sale of our products. We therefore respectfully notify you of the termination, on this date, of our contract with you relating to the consignments of cigarettes, and of the abrogation and withdrawal of all conditions pertaining to the sale by you of any of our products.'

Such is Fusion Reform. 'Rev.' T. W. Babb, the new chaplain of the penitentiary, has a record spotted like a strip of polka-dot calico. After investigating his record a conference of Baptist ministers decided that he drinks at public bars and has on several occasions been drunk; that he persistently refuses to pay his debts; that he collected money to build a bell for Plymouth church, and refused to pay it over to the church; he also collected money for Sunday school supplies for Trawick church Sunday school for which he has never accounted; that he repeated falsehoods; that he had offered questionable attention to a young lady which injured her reputation; that he had been guilty of the grossest immorality. The conference adopted a resolution that in view of the facts sustained in this investigation, we unanimously request Rev. T. W. Babb to retire from the ministry. This man is to teach convicts truth and purity and righteousness, and is to represent the Christianity of the State. Such is fusion reform - Mecklenburg Times.

Evangelist R. W. George.

A young accountant in New York city got his account tangled. He knew he was honest, and yet he could not make his account right, and he toiled at them day and night until he was nearly frenzied. It seemed by these books that something had been misappropriated, and he knew before God he was honest. The last day came. He knew if he could not that day make his accounts come out right he would go into disgrace and go into banishment from the business establishment. He went over there very early, before there was anybody in the place, and knelt down at the desk and said: 'O Lord, Thon knowest I have tried to be honest, but I cannot make these things come out right! Help me to-day - help me this morning!' The young man arose and, hardly knowing why he did so, opened a book that lay on the desk, and there was a leaf containing a line of figures which explained everything. In other words, he cast his burden upon the Lord, and the Lord sustained him. Young man, do you hear that? O, yes, God has a sympathy with anybody that is in any kind of trouble. He knows how heavy is the load of grief that the workman carries up the ladder of the wall; he hears the plox of the kniver down in the coal shaft; he knows how strong the tempest strikes the sailor at the masthead; he sees the factory girl among the spindles, and knows how her arms ache; he sees the sewing woman in the fourth story, and knows how few pence she gets for making a garment; and louder than all the din and roar of the city comes the voice of a sympathetic God, 'Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee.' - Talmage.

The North Carolina Building and Loan Association, of Charlotte, has gone into the hands of receivers. It has made no money since the 6 per cent. interest law went into effect and the step was taken to wind up its affairs. It is thought that the stockholders will come out whole. The association had a number of branch offices and as these were an expensive feature they hastened the collapse. The experiment farm at this place is well under way. Trees and shrubs have already been set out and now the ground is being put in readiness for the other crops that are to be planted. Fruits of all kinds are to be raised and other things not usually found in this section. The Seaboard Air Line never does things by halves and soon we expect to see them realize the fruits of their labor. - Hamlet Enterprise.

Morehead City has been selected for the next meeting of the State Teacher's Assembly. The Assembly will convene June 10th and continue until June 20th. Among some of the names on the programme are: Professor Claxton, Dr. Eben Alexander, President Alderman, Professor Ernest Mangum, and Professor Logan Howell. Dr. Kilgo will preach the sermon. Professor Poteat, Professor Toms, Superintendent Mchane and Secretary Parker constitute the executive committee.

A cyclone passed over this place from southwest to northeast Friday evening about 7 o'clock. It was high up in the air, for which all may feel devoutly thankful. It sped along with terrific velocity. Its coming was heralded with a great roaring noise. While it was far up in the air, yet the atmosphere was greatly disturbed and two or three hundred yards from its path houses were caused to crack and shiver. We have heard no account of any damage from it. - Alamance Gleaser.

About ten days ago the skeleton of a negro man was found in the woods near West End. The coroner, Dr. G. McLeod, was notified and went to the place and held an inquest over the remains. It proved to be the body of Frank Seale, who had been missing since the 1st of December, and when last seen was drunk and going in the direction of the woods where the skeleton was found. There was no evidence of foul play. In the man's pocket was found a empty pint bottle and a quart bottle nearly full of whiskey. - Carthage Blade.

The Old Fort correspondent of The Morganton Herald writes: 'During the late rainy spell what might have been a most horrible occurrence was averted by the vigilant watchfulness of a Southern Railway employee. Horse Shoe Hill, half mile west of the famed and vexatious 'Mud Cut,' is one of the highest on the road, and one night of last week as Mr. J. Gilkey Curtis, a track walker, came to it in the midst of a drizzling rain, he found that for the space of about ninety feet the earth had sunk four feet or so from the track. It was nearly time for the last night train, westbound, and, hurrying back, he 'flagged it' (with his lantern) and by so doing prevented what might have been a horrible catastrophe. It is very true that Mr. Curtis did only his duty, but the passengers on that train are to be congratulated that the Southern has in its employ such men as he.

A cyclone destroyed the town of Chandler, forty miles east of Guthrie, Oklahoma, at 6 o'clock last night. A dozen or more persons were killed and probably one hundred and fifty badly injured.

THE SAN JOSE SCALE.

WILMINGTON INFESTED WITH THE DESTRUCTIVE PEST, THE DISCOVERY WAS MADE BY PROFESSOR MCCARTHY.

Professor Gerald McCarthy, of Raleigh, state botanist and entomologist, was in Wilmington yesterday. In view of the discovery that the 'San Jose Scale' has made its appearance in North Carolina, the general assembly at its recess session passed an act creating a commission for the extermination of noxious insects, fungus diseases and weeds which are affecting many crops. The act names the state commissioner of agriculture, the director of the North Carolina agricultural experiment station, and the president of the North Carolina state Horticultural Society as the commission. The commission appointed Professor McCarthy its agent to examine the several nurseries in the state, as well as all fruit trees and other trees growing in the state or in transit in the hands of common carriers or elsewhere, and he is traveling through the state to carry out the purposes of the commission. In conversation with a Messenger representative at The Orton yesterday, Professor McCarthy stated that he visited a great many premises in Wilmington and that in every yard where fruit trees were growing he found the destructive 'San Jose scale.' He also says he found it in the nurseries and orchards on the eastern part of the state. For that matter, he informs us that the blight is found throughout the state, and that it is a grave menace to the future of orchard culture in the state. It is not only found in small communities but is widespread all over the state. It has already destroyed several valuable orchards in the central part of the state and has ravaged several nurseries in the eastern section. From Professor McCarthy we learn that the 'San Jose scale' is of recent introduction into North Carolina, having been discovered in some sections of the state about a year ago. It is an insect or parasite and it is deadly to fruit trees, attacking them generally in this order: Pear trees, plum trees, peach trees, apple trees, cherry trees, rose bushes, etc. It will totally destroy a tree in from three to four years and will make fruit culture impossible in North Carolina, if it is not stamped out. It is for this reason that the commission was established by the general assembly. Professor McCarthy advises that no fruit trees whatever be planted until the pest is stamped out of existence. The parasite or insect is carried from one tree to another by the wind, by the feet of birds, and by other insects. He says radical measures should be taken at once in Wilmington and suggests that the most decisive action should be promptly taken by our city authorities. 'The San Jose scale' was first discovered in the nurseries of Mr. James Lick, at San Jose, Cal., hence its name. It is supposed to have been introduced from Chile. It attacks the limbs and bodies of the trees and is certain destruction if not eradicated. The parasite adheres to a limb and multiplies so prodigiously that the limb soon assumes a scaly appearance. The male and female when young pass the winter beneath a waxy scale. About the time the peach buds begin to swell they come out and resume their growth, which is soon completed. The female gives birth to its young instead of laying eggs and each produces at the rate of two dozen young a day. Starting with a single female in the spring we may have at the end of the fourth brood 3,000,000,000 insects. Professor McCarthy says the 'scale' is not dangerous to human life but it makes a clean sweep of fruit trees. The remedy can be ascertained upon application to Professor McCarthy, at Raleigh. - Wilmington Messenger.

The heavy frost of last night destroyed what was left of the truck, buds and blooms. - Goldboro Argus.

The North Carolina Building and Loan Association, of Charlotte, has gone into the hands of receivers. It has made no money since the 6 per cent. interest law went into effect and the step was taken to wind up its affairs. It is thought that the stockholders will come out whole. The association had a number of branch offices and as these were an expensive feature they hastened the collapse. The experiment farm at this place is well under way. Trees and shrubs have already been set out and now the ground is being put in readiness for the other crops that are to be planted. Fruits of all kinds are to be raised and other things not usually found in this section. The Seaboard Air Line never does things by halves and soon we expect to see them realize the fruits of their labor. - Hamlet Enterprise.

A cyclone passed over this place from southwest to northeast Friday evening about 7 o'clock. It was high up in the air, for which all may feel devoutly thankful. It sped along with terrific velocity. Its coming was heralded with a great roaring noise. While it was far up in the air, yet the atmosphere was greatly disturbed and two or three hundred yards from its path houses were caused to crack and shiver. We have heard no account of any damage from it. - Alamance Gleaser.

About ten days ago the skeleton of a negro man was found in the woods near West End. The coroner, Dr. G. McLeod, was notified and went to the place and held an inquest over the remains. It proved to be the body of Frank Seale, who had been missing since the 1st of December, and when last seen was drunk and going in the direction of the woods where the skeleton was found. There was no evidence of foul play. In the man's pocket was found a empty pint bottle and a quart bottle nearly full of whiskey. - Carthage Blade.

The Old Fort correspondent of The Morganton Herald writes: 'During the late rainy spell what might have been a most horrible occurrence was averted by the vigilant watchfulness of a Southern Railway employee. Horse Shoe Hill, half mile west of the famed and vexatious 'Mud Cut,' is one of the highest on the road, and one night of last week as Mr. J. Gilkey Curtis, a track walker, came to it in the midst of a drizzling rain, he found that for the space of about ninety feet the earth had sunk four feet or so from the track. It was nearly time for the last night train, westbound, and, hurrying back, he 'flagged it' (with his lantern) and by so doing prevented what might have been a horrible catastrophe. It is very true that Mr. Curtis did only his duty, but the passengers on that train are to be congratulated that the Southern has in its employ such men as he.

A cyclone destroyed the town of Chandler, forty miles east of Guthrie, Oklahoma, at 6 o'clock last night. A dozen or more persons were killed and probably one hundred and fifty badly injured.
