

Seven Months With Fever.

Wonderful Recovery of Health.
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve.

"Gentlemen—I wish to express to you my gratitude for the great good that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve has done for me. I was taken sick with typhoid fever and I laid in bed for seven months. After getting over the fever I was thin, nervous and tired and did not regain my lost strength. I tried several proprietary medicines, and finally after having been reduced in weight to 120 pounds, I began trying your Nerve, and at once began to improve. Was finally entirely cured, and today I can say I never felt better in all my life, and weigh 220 pounds. This is my normal weight, as I measure 6 feet 3/4 inches in height."
—J. H. BAIRD.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold on a positive guarantee. It is sold in bottles for $1.00, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Harrison Elected.

CHICAGO'S CITY COUNCIL IS DEMOCRATIC BY BIG MAJORITIES. THE FULL VOTE IN DETAIL.

Chicago, April 7.—Carter Harrison is elected Mayor of Chicago by 3,222 over all competitors. His plurality over Harlan the Republican nominee is 77,536, which is the largest ever given to any candidate for office in the history of Chicago. There has never been a more exciting campaign, and the battle was fought by the republicans along their lines and on their issues. Not only is Harrison elected, but the rest of the democratic city ticket, by pluralities ranging from twenty-eight thousand five hundred and fifty to fifty-eight thousand four hundred and twenty six. The following is the official vote for Mayor: Carter Harrison, democrat, 144,828.

J. M. Harlan, republican, 67,972.
N. C. Sears, 57,566.
Wash-Hessing-Business administration, 15,116.
John Glenbeck, socialist-labor, 1,226.
H. L. Parmes, prohibitionist, 885.
J. A. Pearce, 678.
F. H. H. Colyer, independent, 886.
Total vote cast, 287,434.
Harrison's majority over all, 2,222.

The city council by this election is changed from an overwhelmingly republican body to a democratic one. Republican candidates were heavily defeated in many wards where the republican party leaders have confidently claimed election of their men by large majorities. The new council will be composed as follows:

Hold over democrats, 15.
Democrats elected, 23.
Hold over republicans, 16.
Republicans elected, 6.
Hold over independents, 3.
Independents elected, 5.
Democratic majority over all, 8.

The Naked Truth.
It is about to be discovered by the honest yeomanry of North Carolina that those who made the most noise and were the most persistent in their demands for reform are a set of wolves in sheep's clothing. They have demonstrated that they were veritable seekers after those things which go to replenish one's own pocket and not after the good of those upon whose shoulders they have ridden into remunerative positions. Just as soon as the latter-day reformer gets an office just that soon does he feel that he has accomplished the great end for which he has labored. Hence it is that a reformer is a man who wants office, and the greatest reformer is a man who has the greatest and most unquenchable thirst for a good, fat place.—Lexington Dispatch.

They All Praise It.
Rev. C. S. Owens, pastor of M. E. Church, Greenville, Ga., says: "I take very great pleasure in recommending to the public King's Royal Grenadier. I have been using it at times for three years for Dyspepsia and Nervousness with the most gratifying results. I think it is due to this wonderful medicine to say that I have known a number of ministers and others who have taken it, and so far as I now remember they all speak of its curative and strengthening effects with unstinted praise. No one who buys it and uses as directed for the troubles for which it is recommended will exchange it for any other medicine." New package, large bottle, 108 doses, $1. For sale by Taylor & Banner.

Twenty years ago it was often true that a young man who drank beer or wine, or even whisky in moderation, might be advanced to places of greater trust and responsibility. It is now scarcely possible. The habit is simply fatal to success. I do not believe there is a single reputable house in Chicago where an employee who drinks intoxicants of any kind has anything like an even chance for promotion. The taking of a single glass of beer may, and often does, mean the loss of the chance of a life time. Brainy boys and young men teetotalers from principle are plenty enough to fill all the places in the line of promotion.—Chicago Interior.

TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

Next Session to be Held at Morehead City.

The next session of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which meets at Morehead City, June 15th, bids fair to surpass any occasion of the kind ever held in North Carolina. The work of the session has been planned on a different system, and will be conducted differently from that of any session yet held.

The most important innovation is in the introduction of departmental work. Half of each day will be devoted to the study of the subjects taught in our public schools and academies, special emphasis being given to methods of teaching these subjects most successfully. Each subject will be handled by a teacher of distinguished ability and experience. There will be informal discussions, and the opinions and experiences of all can be heard and discussed. There will also be classes in Elocution, Vocal Music and Drawing; and lectures on School Law and Civil Government. All of these departments will be presided over by teachers from this and other Southern States who are in thorough sympathy with our Southern people, and who fully understand the conditions and needs of our schools and teachers.

Special departments are being organized for the County Examiners and other school officers, college presidents and professors, city school superintendents and teachers, academy and high school principals and teachers, primary teachers. Each department will be in charge of a committee appointed especially to prepare a program that will interest and instruct those engaged in that particular work.

The Convention feature will be managed differently, and is expected to be more interesting and profitable than it has been possible to make it heretofore. Questions will be discussed that will interest all classes of teachers and intelligent citizens. The speakers will include leading educators and others—among them, some of the leading business and professional men and editors of the State. So that the question of education and its influence and effect upon the professions and business interests will be discussed from every standpoint.

The evening, or "Culture," lectures will be of such a nature as to instruct and entertain everybody. The pleasure feature will be looked after with greatest care, and the musical part of the program will be complete.

Hotel rates same as heretofore, and railroad rates will be less than ever before offered.

Official Bulletin, containing complete program and full information, will be issued about the 15th of April. All the friends of education are invited to attend.

W. H. Payne, Chancellor of the University of Nashville, and President of the Peabody Normal College, of Nashville, Tenn., will be at the Teachers' Assembly this year. President Payne is the leading educator of teachers in the South, if not of America. He was for several years President of the Normal Department of the University of Michigan. He made such a reputation in that capacity that, in 1887, the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Education Fund, composed of such men as President Cleveland, J. Pierpont Morgan, Dr. J. L. M. Curry, Chief Justice Fuller, President Gillam of Johns Hopkins University, and Governor Porter of Tennessee, sent a committee to see President Payne, with instructions to secure his acceptance of the position offered at any salary he might name.

Under his administration the attendance has increased from about one hundred and eighty to nearly eight hundred. All the Southern States, and a number of the Northern States, have contributed to this number. President Payne is author, editor and translator of numerous works on the Science, History, Theory and Art of Education. He is in full sympathy with the Southern people, and fully understands the conditions that confront us.

The Peabody Normal has exercised a wonderful influence in educational circles in North Carolina. The State has nineteen scholarships at this College, each worth $100 cash and traveling expenses to and from the College annually, for two years, with free tuition and books. This is about sufficient to defray the student's expenses. Many of the leading teachers of the State were educated there. A North Carolina branch of the Peabody Alumni Association will be organized at the next Assembly, and the Secretary requests that all the graduates and students of the Peabody Normal send him their names at once. The object of the organization will be to extend to their distinguished President and visitor such a reception as the occasion demands.

The Old North State.

STATE ITEMS OF IMPORTANCE GATHERED FROM OUR MANY WIDE-AWAKE EXCHANGES.

A train of 20 cars loaded with cloth made in South Carolina mills, passed through Charlotte Thursday. The cloth was destined for Shanghai, China, and was shipped by rail to Tacoma, Washington. The cargo was valued at $100,000.

The Dunn Union says that June Mason, a white man of Harnett county, while on a spree, gave his 4-year-old son a bottle containing some whiskey and told him to drink it. The child did so and died of spasms a short time afterward.

The case of C. H. Norton vs. the North Carolina railway company, was decided Friday night by the jury allowing Mr. Norton $20,000 damages for the injuries he received while crossing the above named road last spring.—Durham Herald.

Joe Phillips, an employe of the Alpine Cotton Mills, while cleaning machinery in the factory last Friday, got his right hand caught in the gearing of a machine in motion and all of the fingers on this hand were torn off.—Morganton Herald.

The law concerning the collection of taxes should be changed. It should compel sheriffs to collect the taxes in the fall season. The spring season is the most unfortunate of the year for paying taxes. In the fall everybody has a little something they could pay with.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

In Asheville Friday afternoon Jas. Ledbetter, a shiftless negro, entered a colored restaurant and began to act in a boisterous manner. Eugene Boyd, colored, who had the restaurant in charge, knocked Ledbetter down with a goblet. Ledbetter died early Saturday morning. Boyd is in jail.

Dr. John C. Terrell, who died in Philadelphia last Sunday, after a long illness, was a native of Person county, N. C. His will directs that over $40,000 shall go to the public schools of Person county, N. C., and he also directs sufficient funds in addition to be used in building an academy in each of the 26 school districts of the county. Col. John S. Cunningham of Person county is named in the will as executor of Dr. Terrell's estate.

Mrs. Allen, widow of the late William Allen, of Elk township, dropped dead at her home on Wednesday morning of last week. She was engaged in her house work as usual, and seemingly in her usual good health, when she fell over dead. A short while ago, her husband was found dead in the creek near the house, an account of which appeared in the Chronicle at the time. There are three daughters left behind at the old homestead.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

The Argus man was informed recently by Superintendent Smith of Goldsboro Cotton Mill that he is now shipping cloth from this mill to New York, Fall River and Philadelphia in car-load lots. Who would have thought that Goldsboro would ever ship manufactured goods to Fall River! But this is an age of progress, and Goldsboro is well up near the head of the parade. The success of this mill has been truly phenomenal, and its orders are accumulating to such an extent that its capacity must be increased or another mill built in the future. The entire establishment is now running night and day, giving employment to nearly 100 men and women.—Goldsboro Argus.

The Dunn Union relates that in Sampson county recently E. P. Wilson, a farmer, was cleaning out a ditch, dug some 40 years ago, when suddenly the water became blue. Excavating at that point he presently brought to light the remains of an old Blue Back, the ancient Webster's speller of the vintage of which our forefathers drank deeply and with such remarkable results a half century and more ago. This is a curious news for the Charlotte Observer, which has for some time been insisting that the old Blue Back was at the foundation of things in this country, and ought to be brought forward to be the capstone of our modern civilization. To be sure, a ditch is not much, but that the old Blue Back held the bottom of it up shows that it may be relied on in all kinds of emergencies.—Asheville Citizen.

Human Ingenuity.
Certainly, for the mechanic, human ingenuity has never produced a better instrument than Salvation Oil, which now stands unexcelled for curing his sprains and bruises caused by a fall; or cuts and wounds the result of an accident with his tool or saw. Salvation Oil always kills pain. "Recently, I fell about twenty feet and was very much bruised on my leg and side, but after bathing them with Salvation Oil the bruises soon disappeared. I think Salvation Oil is just the thing for sprains and bruises." A. Jacob Rice, 530 Church St., Easton, Pa. Salvation Oil may be bought anywhere for 25 cents. Substitutes offered by dealers may cost less; hence, do less. Salvation Oil, however, never disappoints the user.

The True Remedy.
W. M. Repine, editor Tickler, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as it is we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Taylor & Banner's Drug Store.

How to be Happy.

Yesterday a young friend visited a lady past eighty five years of age. Much good talk they enjoyed together, and when the time came for saying good-by the aged friend said—

"My dear, if you would be happy make yourself useful as the days go by; a life of usefulness is the keynote to happiness!"

Dear girls, pause a little to consider this thought—a life of usefulness is the keynote of happiness! A lady was once asked the object of her little girl's life in the world to herself meaning the child.

"Oh, to be happy," she answered; then quickly added, "and to be useful."

Wise mother! the second clause includes the first, for I believe no one is happy unless useful. In a rural village of my acquaintance a city family make their summer home. Early in the season they come, and busy workers they are, especially the daughter of the household—methodical and thrifty are her ways.

A neighbor's daughter, somewhat inclined to idleness and indolence, noticed the cheerful face and bright activity of her city friend. It seemed to her that every minute was turned to account.

The outcome was a new influence in her own life. As she sought to be useful brighter days dawned. Her friends noticed the change, and the city girl, her example and influence, was the impetus that started the stagnant current. So do we build better than we know, and help or hinder those about us.

And there are many ways at work, avenues opening on all sides, if one is looking for them. The church with its Sabbath-school and societies will give mission work in abundance. Getting outside of oneself and working for others is a good thing even for those who have regular work and a livelihood to earn.

"Give, Give! O give," said the little streamlet, and everything in nature answers this call with like request. "Give, give! O give," and the supply never ceases because the work never ceases.

So, my dear girls; with the aged lady let me urge, "Give of yourselves, and give yourselves to usefulness," so shall you bless and be blessed.

Habits formed in early years are those that cling. A life dedicated to usefulness will bring lasting satisfaction and blessing.

A life with worthy purpose will bring a glow to the cheek and lustre to the eye that time does not efface.—Selected.

Purpose of Heart.
Any one, who would be a true Christian, must cleave unto God with full purpose of heart. Otherwise he will be driven with the wind and tossed to and fro, and will, sooner or later, end a moral wreck. But with an anchor both sure and steadfast, and faith which is the unseen power that moves to self denial and constant toil, like a boat moving against wind and tide, he may struggle against the internal tide of his own sinful nature which bears him downward, and the external wind of sinful influences and adverse environments that press hard upon him, but he is sure to reach the haven of eternal peace. St. Paul was a man of single purpose, "For me to live is Christ." "None of these things move me." He was not only "steadfast," but "immovable." And he took the crown in the end. The Christian ought to be encouraged in the struggle. A similar crown is held out to every one that loves the Lord Jesus and is faithful unto death.—Christian Herald.

Near Plainfield, N. J., Tuesday afternoon, two carpenters were building a fence near a barn in which a lot of dynamite was stored. The barn door was open and a nail which one of the carpenters attempted to drive gleeced off and struck a can of dynamite, causing it to explode. One carpenter was instantly killed and the other fatally injured.

Traffic Subterfuge.

RAILWAYS WILL TRY THEIR SNEAK EVASION FURTHER. OLD AGREEMENTS BEING RENEWED.

The general passenger agents of the Western roads did not adopt an agreement for the Western Passenger Association. The committee that had the agreement under consideration for the last ten days presented its report, and contrary to the general expectation, it was not as acceptable as it was expected that it would be. It was found that the proposed agreement did not cover as much ground as the majority of the lines desired, and it was thought that an agreement that could be framed that would include some things which the committee had not recommended, and which yet would be entirely within the scope of the decision of the Supreme Court. In order to prevent any series of references back and forth between the attorneys of the railroads and the general passenger agents it was decided that a committee of the passenger men should go over the agreement in company with the attorneys, and that they should endeavor to get as much of the old agreement into the new agreement as is possible, and at the same time keep within the scope of the court's decision. The combined committee of passenger agents and attorneys will report to the general meeting. Freight traffic officials of the Western roads and those engaged in trans-continental business as well, are feeling now too confident over the prospect of keeping up rates. As soon as any road endeavors to work any sharp game upon its competitors, it will be dragged without ceremony before the Interstate Commerce Commission, if there is anything in its conduct that will make such proceedings possible, but just now this is not having the terrifying effect that it was thought it would exert. Several of the roads are becoming restive over the large amount of business that is going away from them and to the standard lines, and they have intimated very plainly that they will not endure the conditions much longer, and if some measure is not taken for their relief they will go after the business as best they know how. If this programme is once begun, there is no telling where the demoralization will stop, as none of the roads is making so much on its freight traffic at the present time that it can afford to let any of it get away.

The Western roads are not so confident of their success in keeping rates from being demoralized as they were some time back. There is only a small amount of business moving and all of the roads are after it keenly. There is a growing disposition to get the business even if some sacrifices have to be made in order to obtain it, and unless the situation clears up within a short time it is almost certain that some of the roads will be cutting rates and that a fight will be on all along the line.

A room situated so that it does not get any direct sunlight, but only reflected light, may be made more cheerful if the walls are covered with a paper that has a background of some delicate yellow shade. The painted woodwork should be of a creamy tint, and with yellow India silk or muslin draperies at the windows, one can almost imagine one's self in a room with a southern exposure.

The outlook for fruit is reported as fair in Illinois, good in Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Arkansas and Alabama, and excellent in Missouri. Peaches have been badly injured in northern Georgia and Alabama, and frosts have caused injury to fruit in North Carolina, Virginia, Ohio, New Mexico and Arizona.

No Good.

A school teacher has turned up in Ohio who was evidently constructed without a soul. Here is the evidence. He was a beautiful young man, only twenty, and was teaching a country school. He had among his scholars a boy of farmers' daughters, who hoped that their charm might make some impression upon the beautiful young pedagogue. Finding that there was no responsive chord in his callous heart they waylaid him one day and held him until each one in turn had kissed him. The booby, when released, fled panic-stricken and left the neighborhood for good.

Of course he is no good and the patrons of the school do well to be rid of his services. Had he been so overcome by the lavish dispensation of rural sweetness that it would have been impossible for him to proceed with his daily duties without first taking a vacation for the purpose of recuperation, it would not have been strange; but a fellow who would run off from such a punishment has no more idea of what constitutes superlative bliss than a cast iron monkey. For such a man we have not sufficient respect to print his name.—Knoxville Journal.

It is singular that men, in the pursuit of happiness, will so often do that which shuts happiness out from them. A man, to please himself, will do that which makes others unhappy, not considering that his action will keep them from being his friends. In the gratification of the moment, he forfeits the goodwill which would incline them to do him many acts of kindness in the future. Man's happiness depends not alone upon what one can do for one's self, but he is dependent in great measure, upon others for his happiness. It is necessary to every man's happiness that his fellowmen should feel kindly toward him, and their friendship can only be secured by treating them kindly.

Selfishness overreaches itself, and in the eager pursuit of its object, thoughtlessly puts its foot continually upon traps which hold it back and prevent it from gaining the object desired. The plane of selfishness is a low one, and men should be stimulated by brotherly love, but even selfishness should teach men to treat each other in such a manner as to bring a return of good deeds, and to cultivate friendships for the time of need.

The city of New York wished to get some property for the approach to the new bridge across the East River. The city owns the property, but the only way that it could be obtained for this purpose was for the city to sue itself in condemnation proceedings. This was duly decided, the Supreme Court has affirmed it and the city of New York now pays twenty-nine thousand dollars to itself for the land.

HOW TO FIND OUT.
Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and sending pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention The Mount Airy News and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Ringhamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
