"Saved Her Life."

DR. JOHN WALKER, of Jefferson, Wis., thus writes: "I was once in a very low state of health, and in 1881 had a severe attack of LaGrippe and as the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing could do, my lungs and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was so completely wrecked, my friends giving me up, I could only sleep by the use of opiates. My lungs and heart had become so feeble and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure and I began taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and continuing persistently I took about a dozen bottles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all."

About "Resolutions of Respect."

For the dead or living there never has been a greater farce than the Resolution of Respect business. We have noticed from time to time, of resolutions being adopted and signed by committees that were appointed to draft them, when to our certain knowledge there was not a word of truth in them. Inherent preachers, sometimes, after having served their time out at certain places, are followed by lying resolutions. They have been so faithful, which we doubt not is perfectly true, and we will show our high appreciation of their valued services by this mark of respect. While these deceitful papers are being drawn, some, if not all, of the committee, are rejoicing because of the removal. "We are glad of a change; the old preacher has become too stale," etc. Show your reward for your preacher while he is among you and then these lying resolutions will not be in demand.

The same may apply to resolutions drafted in memory of the dead. While living, not a good word is spoken to help the weary traveler on his way, but when death has laid him of everything earthly, a loving committee is appointed to draft resolutions and tell of all his good deeds, and how it saddens our hearts to give him up. Flowers are heaped upon his mound, and by some who never did otherwise than to throw thorns and briars in his pathway while he trod the paths of life. We do not mean to say that all resolutions of respect are insincere, but we firmly believe that nine-tenths of them are founded upon hypocrisy.

Many tombstones bear the impress, too, of falsehood upon their faces. If we cannot conscientiously speak well of the living or dead, it would be far better to say nothing at all than to place on record a batch of falsehoods in the shape of "Resolutions of Respect."

"Taffy" is good and wholesome when sincerely given, otherwise it is hurtful. Let us try to be consistent upon this line.—Mooresville Record.

Has a Day and Night Eye.

A year ago the 11-year-old son of Oliver Canaday, a farmer living near Linwood, Indiana, was kicked over the right eye by a mule. It destroyed the sight in that eye. A month ago, while working in a hay lot, he got dust in his good eye and was compelled to bandage it for some time. During that time the blind eye seemed to undergo a change, and he was able to see objects in a dark room. He finally was able to see things in a dark room as plainly as with his bad eye as he was able to see things in the light with his good eye. He cannot, however, see anything with the bad eye in the light. The darker the more distinctly do things stand out. He is, in short, fitted with a day and a night eye.

Since he found what a freak he possessed on his right side he has been educating it and he finds it rather convenient to be supplied with eyes for all occasions. The eye that was injured in appearance as good as the other though the sight for day use is entirely gone. Those who have given the strange case an examination state that it is without equal in optical enigmas. It is thought that the same theory will account for this as that which accounts for a man being able to see stars when in the bottom of a deep well or hole.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Knoxville, Tenn., special says a few nights ago while Frank Sherman, an aged and respected citizen of Mouse Creek, Tennessee, and his son, Steve, were returning from Sweet Water, they were fired upon by unknown persons in ambush. Elder Sherman was instantly killed and his son seriously wounded. Pete and John Sherman, nephews of the deceased, were arrested on suspicion, as it is believed that a feud existed between them.

MANY THINK!

when the Creator said to woman, "In sorrow shalt thou bring forth children," that a curse was pronounced against the human race, but the joy felt by every Mother when she first presses to her heart her babe, proves the contrary. Danger and suffering lurk in the pathway of the Expectant Mother, and should be avoided, that she may reach the hour when the hope of her heart is to be realized, in full vigor and strength.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

so relaxes the system and assists Nature, that the necessary change takes place without Nausea, Headache, Nervous or Gloomy Foreboding of danger, and the trying hour is robbed of its pain and suffering, as so many happy mothers have experienced. Nothing but "Mother's Friend" does this. Don't be deceived or persuaded to use anything else.

"Mother's Friend" is the greatest remedy ever put on the market, and all our customers testify to its worth. Write for book containing valuable information for all Mothers, mailed free. North State News.

STATE ITEMS OF IMPORTANCE GATHERED FROM OUR MANY WIDE-AWAKE EXCHANGES.

Some People You Know and Others You Don't Know as Seen in Our State "Projectoscope."

Elkin is to have a bank. The Piedmont Bank, of Morganton, closed its doors Thursday.

The city of Wilmington has a regularly paid fire department.

The North Carolina Baptist State Convention meets in Oxford to-day and continues one week.

Two or three new papers started in North Carolina last week. The newspaper graveyard continues to increase in size.

The Elkin Times says Dr. Baker, of Jonesville, died Thursday night of apoplexy. He was a prominent physician and Mason.

Thad M. Butler has made wonderful improvements in the appearance of the Elkin Times since he became editor of that paper.

Mount Airy during the past three months shipped over seven hundred car loads of produce, and the shipments continue quite heavy.

Those enemies of old Santa Claus will fail to run him out of North Carolina. The children of the Old North State couldn't get along without Santa at Christmas time.

The new school law makes it the duty of the county supervisor to examine the records of all magistrates in the county to see if they have turned over all fines to the school funds.

Raleigh's new daily, the Morning Post, is handsome and very new. We hope for the proprietors great luck. But, as we have said before, there are more papers in North Carolina than the people seem willing to support.

An old farmer died recently in McDowell county, who had saved no several hundred dollars, and while dying was perfectly rational. He called for his money and held one package of gold in one hand and one package of silver in the other, until he breathed his last.

In order to increase our cash subscription list as much as possible between now and the first of the year, we will send THE NEWS from now until January 1st, 1898, for one dollar to be paid in advance. This is an extraordinary offer and we feel confident that many of our citizens will take advantage of it. Send in your subscription at once.

It is such items as these which give encouragement at this time. The Goldsboro Argus says "more wheat has been sown in this county than for many years." The Salisbury Sun says, "the people of that locality are sowing more wheat than for some time. Cotton fields of ten and fifteen acres that have been run in the staple for years are being put in wheat." The Charlotte Observer says: "Along all the roads leading to Charlotte the farmers report seeing wheat and oats being sown, or fields being put in preparation for sowing."

A few days since Pater Price, of Greensboro, and Joe Vaughn bartered on a piece of land at Madison, which they owned in copartnership. Mr. Price proposed to Mr. Vaughn to buy or sell at Mr. Vaughn's figures. Mr. Vaughn set the price at $2,500 and Mr. Price made the purchase. A day or two later, while having an old cabin removed a rich find was made. An old half gallon pot was found containing five thousand dollars in gold. The gold is supposed to have been stored there by an old man by the name of Black, who had led a miserly or reclusive life.—Winston Journal.

Statistics compiled show that the highest average wages paid men in tobacco factories in the State is $1.14 per day, women 57 cents. The lowest average wages paid men is 62 cents, women 28 cents. To the question is the financial condition of the working people improving, 35 counties made a negative reply and 23 reported yes. These replies were obtained largely from farmers and the laboring element. In the agricultural division of the report 42 counties are reported as saying that the fertility of the land has been maintained, while 18 say no. Thirty-seven counties report that laborers can find employment all the year round, while 24 say no.

Yellow Fever Germs

breed in the bowels. Kill them and you are safe from this awful disease. Cascares destroy the germs throughout the system and make it impossible for new ones to form. Cascares are the only reliable safeguard for young and old against Yellow Jack. 10c, 25c, and 50c, all druggists.

AN OLD MAN

Every day strengthens the belief of eminent physicians that Impure blood is the cause of the majority of our diseases. Twenty-five years ago this theory was used as a basis for the formula of Brown's Iron Pills. The major result of these pills effected by the human body is the fact that it is able to resist all diseases, and to prove that the theory is correct, Brown's Iron Pills is sold by all druggists.

George Walker, chief cashier of the treasury in Santiago, Chile, has written of his experience with Brown's Iron Pills. He writes: "I have a very good address, and I have a very good address, and I have a very good address." Monthly Published by Dr. Miles' Pills.

It May Be So.

Our dispatches told yesterday of the organization of a gigantic trust to control the money market of New York City and throughout the whole country. The report may be true or it may be a canard; we published it for what it was worth. It was at any rate suggestive.

One thing suggested by the report is the feasibility of such a scheme. There is no reason why it should not be carried out if, say, a half dozen men were to combine the capital and influence at their command. A little reflection will reveal the fact that within recent years large combinations of capital have attempted few things in which they failed. Despite legislation aimed directly at them by the different States they have gone serenely on their ways disregarding statutes and laughing at courts and attorney generals.

As a matter of fact such a combination as this reported trust is not only a possible but a strictly logical sequitur from present tendencies. No one denies that the Standard Oil Company controls the market of that product. No one denies that Havemeyer controls sugar. Mr. Cleveland confessed the United States in a position where it was compelled to dictate privately with Pierpont Morgan for the gold with which to save its credit. Why then, as a common sense proposition, should not these men who can do so much do enough more to practically make masters of the country?

As "free born American citizens" we are inclined to pooh pooh such a proposition as an impossibility but a little quiet investigation will shake such robust confidence. We are apt to forget that people can be ruled more easily and just as effectually by influence as by force. The Czars of Russia really take a very dangerous and expensive method of being autocrat.

As we have before pointed out the hairbrained and rabid "reformers" in this country have, by wholesale denunciation of everything that does business in a two story building as a trust and by charging to their machinations all sorts of impossible evils, disgusted the more sane and conservative element of our people. And therein lies the real danger. It is not a matter of calling for a larger supply of wind but for more careful consideration. There lies in this old and yet new secret of power through co-operation a real menace to the country—the only real menace indeed that can be conjured at present; very much more grave than the supposed menace of lawlessness.

It does not follow that because many things are called trusts that are not such that there are no trusts at all. It does not follow that because demagogues charge them with impossible evils that there are not possible evils in them. As usual there are two opposite ends to the controversy which may be safely termed extreme. And there is a deplorable tendency of people to congregate at the one end or the other.—Greensboro Telegram.

Is This Conflict Irrepressible?

One of the bolting democratic newspapers published in New York has kindly undertaken to show the democratic party the way to victory in 1900. There are few, if any, indications that the democracy, the party that piled up in 1896 the largest vote it has ever polled and the largest, with one exception, ever polled by any party, is looking to any of the bolting organs for counsel, guidance or direction. The position of the regular democrats toward the bolters, as we see it defined in their organs, is one of cordial charity. They are quite willing that all the lost sheep should return to the fold, and, like those which "little Bo Peep" lost, should come back wearing their tails in the proper place. But they do not propose to offer any special inducements in the way of provender, and they insist on the right of the majority to dictate policies and nominate candidates. There is room for the wanderers in the back part of the fold, and the regulars are willing for them to occupy it during good behavior.

But this independent attitude of the democratic party does not discourage the organs of the bolters. They are used to snubs and other disagreeable attentions and appear to enjoy the offering of advice that is not called for and is sure to be scornfully rejected.—Washington Post.

The Discovery of the Day.

Dr. J. B. Vogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant of Nafford, Arizona, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I mean I say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century, and to-day stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at Taylor & Boster's Drug Store.

Killed in His Cab.

FRANK B. SMITH, OF GREENSBORO, IS KILLED IN A WRECK ON THE ATLANTIC & DANVILLE.

The Rails Spread and the Engine Plunged Down a High Embankment, Killing Engineer and Fireman.

B. N. Smith of this place received a telegram last night announcing that his son Frank B. Smith had been killed yesterday afternoon on the Atlantic & Danville railroad. Mr. Smith who was formerly an engineer had been reduced by a general order to fireman and it was while serving in that capacity that he met his death.

Telegram received from Mrs. Smith this morning, says she will leave West Norfolk tomorrow morning at 9:30 with the body which will be buried here. Arrangements have not yet been perfected as to time.

Young Smith had been married only some six months and his body was taken to his home in West Norfolk. The Danville Register says of the disaster:

One of the most disastrous wrecks in the history of the Atlantic & Danville railway occurred some time afternoon yesterday, a short distance east of Gill's station, about eighty-five miles down the road. The engine of passenger train No. 1, due in Danville at 5:25 p. m., together with two coaches left the track and in the wreck of iron and wood that resulted, Engineer James Luter and Fireman Frank B. Smith were instantly killed. Baggage-master Lewis and Mail Agent J. M. Burfoot were also injured. The remainder of the crew and the passengers fortunately escaped harm.

There is a high embankment at the scene of the accident, and the engine followed by the combination baggage and mail coach and second class passenger coach, toppled over the declivity. The engine fell entirely over on its side, and the men in the cab met almost instant death. The baggage-master and the mail agent were only slightly injured. The rear passenger coach remained on the track. An inspection of the track disclosed the cause of the disaster to be the spreading of the rails at the point the train left the track.—Greensboro Telegram.

The South Turned Down.

The Secretary of the U. S. Treasury recently gave out a remarkable statement concerning the appointments by States in his department. His table shows that while the District of Columbia has an excess of appointments of 208, North Carolina has a deficit of 26. The Tar Heel State is entitled to 65 appointments in the Treasury Department and is credited with 39. Every Southern State except Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia has a deficit of appointments in this department and this statement illustrates the discrimination against the South in every department of the government. We get these facts from a late Washington special.

Ten Deaths from Poison Liqueur.

A Mapleville, Alabama, special of December 1 says: Three more men have died here from drinking a mixture composed of wood alcohol and cheap whiskey, making ten deaths within three days. Seven more are seriously ill and are expected to die within the next twelve hours, as attending physicians have given up hope. Two men who brought the liquor here are among the dead. The alcohol bore the label, "For mixing paints."

Those Who Endure

The pains of rheumatism should be remedied that a cure for this disease may be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of those who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for rheumatism, and have been completely and permanently cured, prove the power of this medicine to rout and conquer this disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier and it neutralizes the acid which causes the aches and pains of rheumatism. This is why it absolutely cures when liniments and other outward applications fail to give permanent relief. Be sure to get Hood's.

A terrible railway accident occurred at Warsaw, Poland. While a passenger train was standing at the terminus, a heavy freight train crashed into it. Eleven persons were killed outright and twenty-two others seriously injured.

Easy to Take Easy to Operate

Has features peculiar to Hood's Pills. Small in size, tasteful, efficient, thorough. As one man said: "You never know you have taken a pill till it is all over." See C. I. Hood & Co., Proprietors, Lowell, Mass. The only pills in the world that are so easy to take and so easy to operate.

Hood's GASTORIA

For Infants and Children. Cascares, Candy cathartic kills Yellow Jack wherever they find him. No one who takes Cascares regularly and systematically is in danger from the dreadful disease. Cascares kill Yellow germs in the bowels and prevent new ones from breeding. 10c, 25c, and 50c, all druggists.

North Carolina's Fine Climate.

What a fine climate North Carolina is blessed with, and what great advantages fall to her people. It is not infrequent that two crops of fruit are reported in one season, or two crops of food from the same land. In yesterday's Messenger, from Granville came the report of two crops grown this year on two acres. The first crop was thirty two-horn loads of rye from two acres. The second crop on the same land was ten barrels or fifty bushels of corn per acre. That is very fine indeed. A day or two ago another county reported three crops this year on the same land. Some one writes to the New Bern paper that in Pamlico county a farmer made twelve bales of cotton on four acres. If the bales are of regulation size that is indeed superb cropping.

Do not let fruit growing, a most important industry, be overlooked here. Excellent returns are reported this year. What has been accomplished is but a foretaste that awaits North Carolina if its farmers and others will give their time or a part of it to growing fruit of different kinds, and learn how to prepare it properly for shipping to the various markets. The State labor commissioner will report that fourteen counties ship 90,000 barrels; Haywood and Swain 15,000 each; Caldwell and Wilkes, 10,000; Yancey, Clay, Jackson and Surry, 8,000. There are many localities in this State where peaches are seldom killed, and especially is this the case in the thermal belt region. Apples are kept all winter in ordinary crates. It is destined to be the greatest apple growing region in America. Let our people wake up. They have all about them a veritable Land of Goshen. To abandon North Carolina for another state is folly.—Wilmington Messenger.

As to that portion of the above statement which refers to Surry's shipment of apples, it is erroneous. Mount Airy, the metropolis of Surry county, has alone already shipped about 15,000 barrels, and will ship several thousand additional barrels before the season closes.

Cranks Are Not Successful.

No successful man is a crank. Look over the cranks of your acquaintance and you will be surprised to notice that not one of them does anything well. They are not prominent citizens; they are not prominent socially; they do nothing for the general good. A crank who is a lawyer is not a good lawyer; a crank is usually a crank because he is a failure. After demonstrating that he lacks ordinary common sense a crank pretends that he knows everything, and that other people do not know anything; that society has learned nothing from experience, and that the world should be turned upside down to accept some of his untried theories. If you can avoid being a crank you'll better do it.—Greensboro Patriot.

Better Than Kleenex Sold

Is health and strength gained by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. It fortifies the whole system and gives you such strength that nervous troubles cease, and work which seemed wearying and laborious, becomes easy and is cheerfully performed. It has done this for others, it will for you.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic. Gentle, reliable and sure.

Rioting in Prague, Bohemia.

A Prague, Bohemia, special of late date says: There was a renewal of the rioting here the other evening. The windows of the German theatre, German schools, restaurants, residences and newspaper offices were broken. The troops cleared the streets. Many persons were injured and a number of arrests were made. During the afternoon the riots increased. The synagogue windows were smashed as well as the windows of the houses of Jews displaying German trade signs in several streets of the Jewish quarter. Since 6 o'clock this evening the streets have been held by two battalions of infantry and a squadron of hussars. All traffic is suspended and the shops and business houses are closed.

In spite of the military, a large Czech mob made a descent during the evening upon the German quarter and plundered houses and shops in several streets. The furniture of a well known German grocer was piled up in the street and set on fire. When a detachment of troops approached to disperse the rioters the soldiers were greeted with a shower of stones, broken glass and other missiles. The officer in command ordered his troops to prepare to fire, but at the urgent request of a police official the order was not carried into effect.

Shortly after 9 o'clock a mob attempted to storm a cartridge factory at Ziskow, a suburb of Prague, on the other side of the Moldau. The troops stationed at the factory poured a volley into the crowd. It is known that at least two persons were killed outright and it is feared that others were killed or wounded. The same body of rioters set fire to a house at Ziskow, but the flames were soon quenched. In various other parts of the city and the suburbs windows were smashed and the German sign boards demolished. It is said that the mob was incited by articles in the Czech newspapers and by a false report that the German students had organized an attack upon the Czech Theatre.

There is no medicine in the world equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the cure of throat and lung diseases. This is a fact that has been proven in numberless cases. Here is a sample of thousands of letters received: "I have tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy while suffering from a severe throat trouble, and found immediate and effective relief. I can unhesitatingly recommend it."—EDGER W. WHITRENSON, Editor Grand Rivers (Ky.) Herald. For Sale by J. W. West and Taylor & Banner, Mt. Airy, Dr. J. B. Smith, Pilot Mountain.
