FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

C. S. Rhoads, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "For the past two years I have hardly known what it was to have a sweet, restful night's sleep. Care and overwork seemed to weigh me down more than it should or would had I been able to get my proper rest. My doctor was unable to help me and ordered me South for a complete rest and change. As this was simply out of the question, and as I had heard several of the men under me speak of how much Peruna had helped them, I decided to try it and am glad indeed that I did. Six bottles made a new man of me. I sat well, sleep well and get up feeling refreshed and rested."

C. S. Rhoads

A Prominent Business Man of Indianapolis Restored to Health and Vigor by Pe-ru-na. He says: "Pe-ru-na made a New Man of Me." Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital street, Washington, D. C. "I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna as a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions." Mrs. Amanda Morrill, 120 Reid street, Elizabeth, N. J., writes: "I have been sick over two years with nervous prostration and general debility, and heart trouble. Have had four doctors; all said that I could not get well. I had not walked a step in nine months, suffering with partial paralysis and palpitation of the heart every other day, and had become so reduced in flesh as to be a mere skeleton, weighing only 45 pounds." "Up to this date I have taken Peruna for seven months. It has saved my life as I can safely testify. I have not felt so well in five years, having walked over one mile without ill result, and have also gained thirty pounds since commencing to take Peruna. In fact, I cannot praise it too highly." Mrs. Amanda Morrill.

GREAT Sacrifice Sale IN CLOTHING

We have bought an immense line of fall and winter clothing, for men and boys, and in order to clear our space before our fall goods arrive, we have decided to offer our entire line of spring and summer suits for the next 30 days at actual cost, and when we say cost we mean actual bill cost, with freight added and no more. We have some extra special values selected from four of the largest factory lines in the United States, and from these lines we selected only the cream, hence we believe we have the best that can be bought and it would be to the interest of all to see our stock before making purchases elsewhere. We must close our summer goods during the next 30 days.

We are also offering special inducements in the Heer Oxfords for ladies and Barry Oxfords for men and included in these values we have thrown our line of summer dress goods, which must be closed during the next 45 days.

Our fall stock will be a decided improvement on any line ever shown in Mt. Airy and we are very desirous of making the room necessary to handle our fall business, this alone necessitates this, the greatest clearance sale ever held in Mt. Airy.

Remember also that we have the most complete line of heavy groceries carried in this section of North Carolina all of which are offered at rock bottom prices. Merchants will do well to see us and get our prices before buying.

Our Queen of Patents Flour is the best to be had and the price is below others called "the best." Every pound guaranteed. Our Red Rooster and Farmer's Choice are excellent values and will give the most skeptic entire satisfaction.

In considering our claims remember that our goods were bought for cash and all cash discounts saved, which enables us to give full value received for every dollar invested with us.

Try us once and you will come again. Make yourself feel at home when in our store.

SOMETHING ABOUT LOGAN.

How He Acted When He Held up a Train and Robbed it of $40,000.

A Knoxville dispatch says: Harvey Logan alias Kid Curry alias a dozen other things is one of the nerviest humans who ever breathed the air of the Black Hills of Montana. His escape from the jail at Knoxville Saturday afternoon was clever and daring—if he was not aided by outside connivance.

When Logan and three or four pals held up a Great Northern express train at Wagner, Montana, two years ago next Friday, the bandit who is credited with full twenty murders, the most of them in cold blood, showed what sort of disciplinarian he was and the manner of man with whom the Knoxville sheriff recently had to deal.

One man held the horses near the railroad track, after the train had been flagged, another covered the engineer and fireman, a man on each side of the train shot along the coaches in the direction of the Pullman to keep the people from putting their curious heads out of the windows, while Logan cracked the express safe and took a cool $40,000.

Express Messenger Smith, in describing it afterwards, in the United States court at Knoxville, said Logan was as cool as if he was taking a bath under his own vine and fig tree.

When the desperado, who has a face like a fox, showing, perhaps, a strain of Indian blood, came to several bolts of fine silk he dumped them in a sack where he placed the $40,000.

"Just take that to make my girl a dress," he said with a languid smile. There were a number of watch cases in the express safe. Logan looked at them a moment thoughtfully.

"Go in to take 'em!" politely inquired the express messenger. "None," replied Logan, "they don't look good to me."

After finishing his work he started to leave the car. "Say," the polite express messenger said, "aren't you going to leave me something as a souvenir?"

"Let's see," said the hold-up man, taking his time for it, as he did everything else.

Then he slowly took one of the 38 Smith & Wesson revolvers from his belt and started to hand it to the messenger.

"Wait a minute," he said, and he turned to the door and fired all the loads from the gun, "guess I'd better not leave those in there," and he was gone. This train from which Logan took $40,000 was three hours late.

"Say," vouchsafed the outlaw as he passed the engine on his way to where the horses were in readiness for escape, "you engineer! the next time I'm going to hold up your train you want to have it on time."

That was the last seen of Logan, except by his pals, until he was arrested near Knoxville in December, 1901, by a twenty year old boy, a resident of Jefferson City on a bitter cold day. Logan was nearly frozen to death and could not resist, besides he was not armed.

A Negro's Brave Deed.

A Beaufort dispatch says: Mr. Joseph and family, from Kingston, who are stopping at the Manson House, came near being drowned to-day on the Birds' Shoal, about a quarter of a mile from Beaufort. They were in bathing and one of the party accidentally stepped in deep water, and the other members of the family went to the child's rescue and they were soon over their heads and in great danger of losing their lives as none of them could swim. Palmer Davis, a colored boatman, went to save them, and he succeeded only by good judgment and heroic efforts. They were all nearly exhausted and Mr. Joseph was so completely overcome he had to be laid on the shore until he recovered sufficiently to be taken to the hotel. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph and their two children. They are all right now.

For a lazy liver try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They invigorate the liver, aid the digestion, regulate the bowels and prevent bilious attacks. For sale by C. E. Galloway and J. W. McPherson & Co.

It is said that the scarcity of cotton has caused many English mills to shut down. The Winston Sentinel says: "The scarcity of cotton may be indirectly the cause, but the chief reason is that in the past few years the mills have multiplied at a rapid rate in that country where the need of increasing their number was not apparent as has been the case in the South."

Brutally Tortured. A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Bobolick of Colusa, Cal., writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by C. E. Galloway, Drugist.

The Value of Expert Treatment. Everyone who is afflicted with a chronic disease experiences great difficulty in having their case intelligently treated by the average physician. These diseases can only be cured by a specialist who understands them thoroughly. Dr. J. Newton Hathaway of Atlanta, Ga., is acknowledged the most skillful and successful specialist in the United States. Write him for his expert opinion of your case, for which he makes no charge.

DIGNIFY THE FARM.

Beautify the Home Surroundings and Make Them Attractive.

If life is simply and only a matter of hoeing cotton, eating fat meat and soggy bread, and of going to bed, then let's commit harikari at once and end the matter. It were better.

The man who does not lift his life above the clouds and out of the furrows does not care how he lives. His home with environments is the surest index of his character. Men and houses are interchangeable types, the one for the other. Where are so large a proportion of all our farm boys going to? Why don't they continue on the farm? Why is the farm unattractive?

If called upon for an answer, I should say that one of the factors in the case is that we do not sufficiently dignify the farm. We do not efficiently respect the farm; we do not give it the air and atmosphere of respectability! The whole business and outfit gives us the impression of drudgery and humdrumness.

As I look back at the various farms that I have seen, the English farm, I believe, has most impressed me. A boy, and growing up on it, I believe here it is that I would have been most apt to remain as a man. I have seen hundreds of thousands of farms elsewhere that I, as a 12 year old lad, would have run away from to escape such a life and such a home. No man could love, nor could he tolerate, a thing he could not respect.

An outline of this English farm may be helpful. In the first place, every place is one "estate"—the place's name is its dignity. The approach to it is through a gate with dignified and great pillar posts, no matter how rude and rustic. On the gateway posts is the estate's name. It may be or need not be fanciful and high sounding. The name often is chosen to designate some individuality of the estate. The house always has a setting—no matter how humble the house. This setting consists of a little path of walks and grass, shrubbery and trees, and not one of them, perhaps, from florist or nurseryman.

You respect the whole outfit—place and owner—the moment you see it. The boy grows up with the same feelings you have for it. Every farm in North Carolina is worthy (dignity means worthiness) of just such settings as above.

You may say that this is not practical and that it is only an appeal to the imagination. But the moment you leave imagination out of your life, I would not give a farthing for your life. And if your boy is about to leave the old farm and you want him to settle about you and not go away—then a plan that keeps him and holds him—even though it be imagination—becomes a practical way.

We should not give up this beautiful country to the negro cropper. If the four or five children of every man in the country could only be made by some means to settle in the country in the place of going to town—then what a great future the South would have!—Southern Cultivator.

A Strange Case.

Mr. Sam Milwee, the young man who The News stated yesterday was bleeding to death at his home in Lower Steel Creek, is at the point of death and it is feared that he will not survive through to-day.

The cause of the young man's sad plight was told of in yesterday's News. He was cut on the foot by the falling of a small piece of glass from a broken window pane. The wound, a very slight one, commenced bleeding soon after the accident and all attempts to stop the flow have proved unsuccessful.

A telephone message to The News this afternoon from Long's store states that the young man is in extremities and that his life has been despaired of.

Mr. Milwee is the 18 year old son of Mr. John Milwee, of Steel Creek. He is a young man of many excellent parts and his sad condition is much to be regretted.—Charlotte News.

At R-binson church, Mecklenburg county, lives Mrs. John Wilson with her three children. Last Tuesday night about 11 o'clock two negroes passed the Wilson home and stopped. One went in and grabbed the youngest child, an infant of twelve or thirteen months old, and ran in the direction of the woods. The other negro went in another direction. Mrs. Wilson ran after the man but could not catch him. She screamed, but her cries only served to quicken the pace of the fleeing negro. She ran until she was completely exhausted, but never overtook the negro with her child. She then returned home and gave the alarm and several people went in search of the negro and baby, but could not learn anything of either. Next morning early the child was found in a deep hollow some distance from its mother's home. The little one was fast asleep, having cried until thoroughly exhausted. Aside from this it was not injured in the slightest.

Catarrh of the Stomach. When the stomach is over loaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Biles, Coppell, Texas. Sold by I. W. West, druggist, Mt. Airy, N. C.

Electric Railways.

There seems to be "big money" in electric railroads.

They are not only more cheaply built, maintained and operated than steam roads, but they go into places and create business that the more ponderous steam road could never reach. The Street Railway Journal prints figures showing not only a remarkable increase in mileage of electric roads during the past twelve months, but an immense increase in earnings, as well. For instance thirty-eight of the large traction systems showed gross earnings last year of a hundred and ninety-eight million dollars as compared with a hundred and eight millions the year before—a gain of 90 per cent in a year. And yet the trolley has by no means reached its full development or attained the capacity of which it is capable, either for entertainment or for business. In the line of the utilities it is going to be some day that fresh farm products will come to town by trolley as a regular thing. Milk and vegetables will travel that way because of its superior convenience and its simpler and prompt transportation. And the same is true of it as a means of transportation of persons.—Asheville Citizen.

Hot Times in Ashe.

A correspondent writing to the Charlotte Observer from Warrenville says: At Pine Grove church last Sunday, J. O. Wilcox and his brother, Henry, got into a row with Dave and Jesse Rowland and others, in which Jesse Rowland was seriously cut about the face and head. Dave was hit on the head with a rock by Henry Wilcox and perhaps fatally hurt. J. O. Wilcox was arrested, but Henry, it is charged, by the assistance of the officer, made his escape to parts unknown. The officer, John Miller, was arrested to-day and bound over to court for aiding his escape. All the parties were drunk.

Alex. Woodard undertook to whip his wife last Friday morning, when she struck him across the back of the neck with a rolling pin and instantly killed him. They lived just across the Tennessee line. The woman was taken to Mountain City and placed in jail.

One hundred persons were killed or drowned Sunday night in Spain by the falling of a bridge. Two engines and sixteen cars went down carrying 300 passengers 50 feet below. At least half those who escaped death are injured, many fatally.

No Pity Shown.
