Miss Anna Prescott, in a letter from 216 South Seventh street, Minneapolis, relief I experienced after taking one bottle was truly wonderful. "I continued its use for five weeks, and am glad to say that my complete restoration to health was a happy surprise to myself as well as to friends."-Anna Prescott.

GREAT

We have bought an immense line of fall and winter clothing, for men and boys, and in order to clear our space before our fall goods arrive, we have decided to offer our entire line of spring and summer suits for the next 30 days at actual cost, and when we say cost we mean actual bill cost, with freight added and no more. We have some extra special values selected from four of the largest factory lines in the United States, and from these lines we selected only the cream, hence we believe we have the best that can be bought and it would be to the interest of all to see our stock before making purchases elsewhere. We must close our summer goods handle our fall business, this alone necessitates this, the great-

Remember also that we have the most complete line of heavy groceries carried in this section of North Carolina all of which are offered at rock bottom prices. Merchants will do well to see us and get our prices

Our Queen of Patents Flour is the best to be had and the price is below others called "the best." Every pound guaranteed. Our Red Rooster and Farmer's Choice are excellent values and will give the most

In considering our claims remember that our goods were bought for cash and all cash discounts saved, which enables us to give full value

Honor Above Curiosity.

One family in this county certain y holds honor higher than curiosity, and has not the least desire to open a sealed package that has been in its possession for over 30 years.

In 1869 a man who gave his name as Madison M. Tyler and said he was from Brooklyn, N. Y., came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mc Auley, who live near Huntersville, and lessed a vacant store-room that was on the premises.

There was an air of mystery about the man. He never, or rarely ever, spoke of his past life, and he conducted all his correspondence through the postoffice at Harrisburg, which was some distance away. He managed his store successfully and seemed to be making money.

In the second year of his life at Huntersville Tyler borrowed $300 from Mrs. McAuley. Six months later she saw him making some preparations that indicated his departure. Before she had time to get unessy about the discharge of the debt, Tyler walked into the house and paid her the money with interest. Then be gave to her the sealed package, asking her to keep it for him. He said the parcel was valuable and that he would certainly re turn for it. This happened in 1871. Tyler left and has never been heard from since his departure. Some years ago Mrs. McAuley died, but before she died she gave the package to her sister, Miss Martha Black, and asked her to keep it until Tyler returned for it or sent for it. The parcel is now in the posession of Miss Black. She still holds it for the owner. Not even the paper that covers the box has been touched harsbly by corious hands. The pack age is 18 inches long, three inches thick and quite heavy; that much Miss Black and her relatives know,

The postal scandal grows. Seven indictments, involving nine persons, have been returned by turns. At last, modestly, he dated the revolution of his life, and told its causewhich to him never ceased to be a miracle. In a dream, that August night, he had seen the Saviour.

The behavior of the renewed man was evidence enough of his sincerity. It was not until thirity-five years later that he died, a beloved and humble old Christian, having outlived all of his family and become totally blind.

If it was an imagined vision that changed the sot into a saint the fancy was no less a divine visit. It was such a dream as the Hebrew poet defines in the thirty third chapter of the Book of Job .-Youth's Companion.

Man's Inhumanity to Man.

Man's inhumanity to man is no new theme nor thing, but there is not often a more striking illustration of it than is found in a story which comes from Hammond, Ind. A man who had taken a box of strychnine tablets was found dying near that town and was taken to a hospital where he regained consciousness long enough to say that he had just been discharged from a hospital, that his home was in New York and that he was trying to make his way there. After he died this note was found pinned to his coat.

"To the Public-I was in a yard in Hammoned to-day and asked a cel? Why, the reputation of the lady for something to eat. I was McAuleys and Blacks was established long ago. Unless the owner comes or sends that box will be held threw me out of the yard and kicked resisted arrest and stabbed the officer me. I am tired of the struggle, and do not want to live any longer.
