RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the Surry County Committee of churches on War Savings at Central Methodist Church, the following resolution was adopted:

1. That this Committee is in full and complete sympathy with the methods being used by the government looking to the production and conservation of food, the practice of economy and the raising of war funds by means of Liberty Bonds, War Stamps and Thrift Stamps.

2. That the requirements of the government to meet the exigencies of the times are in harmony with the Bible doctrine of self-denial, the outcome of which will prove a lasting blessing to our people.

3. That, in as much as our people are coming to see things in a large way and are taking hold of large ideas and have had brought to their attention the necessity and advantage of hearty co-operation in large undertakings, this is the most opportune time to project our work on a large scale; and, in as much as our government cannot successfully meet the great responsibilities resting upon it without a deep sense of moral responsibility on the part of our people, we, therefore, pledge our faithful services as ministers of the Gospel at this particular time in trying to arouse our people to the great need of prayer strong faith in God, Who alone is able to deliver us from the hand of the enemy.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . ."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

NOTICE

To the voters of Surry County: I wish to make a statement to my friends, as well as to those who are not my personal or political friends.

No man, friend or foe, can say that I have not, at all times, acquiesced to the wishes of the Republican party when it was to the upbuilding of the same.

In 1884, when it was conceded that there was no hope of election, I accepted the nomination for the Legislature and succeeded in defeating one of the best men in Surry county. Since that time I have belonged to the Republican party, and acquiesced with their wishes, and not the party to me.

I appreciate what my friends have done for me, and would not at this time refuse to make the race for the position of Register of Deeds for Surry County for the third term, after having been pressed by my old time friends, and when I say old time friends I mean the men who have made the party in Surry County what it is today (their influence has reaped a great reward) were it not for the fact that I see it would cause some friction as some years ago our convention in Dobson assembled adopted a resolution to give an officer two terms of office and no more. This, in my opinion, is wrong. All County Officers should have the same number of years as a term of office, that is, if you give them two terms and two years as a term, give them all the same. If you give four years as a term, put them all on an equality. This, in my opinion, is fair. I am only speaking as I see it.

In conclusion, I wish to say that I am profoundly thankful to those who have repeatedly urged me to make this third term race, and hope that they can and will see it in the same light that I do. Party success should always and at all times be paramount to personal ambition, and for this reason I decline to make the race for Register of Deeds of Surry County for a third term.

Again I wish to thank each and every man who so loyally and freely supported me in the past, and I would indeed be ungrateful if I did not profoundly thank the men who, I am sure, would bring victory if I would only say yes—to you, let's put interest of party ahead of individuals, and victory will crown our efforts.

With best wishes,
S. G. BRIM.

U-Boat Chasers are on the way

Detroit, Mich.—Eagles, the new submarine chasers which Henry Ford is building, will soon be turned out at the rate of one a day in the great new plant which is being rushed to completion on the River Rouge. The first eagle, a sample boat, was completed within three months after Mr. Ford received two sketches from the Navy Department with the request that he build such boats.

Work on a plant to produce the boats was started simultaneously with the preparation of drawings for the plans. The parts of the new craft were standardized, which is the secret of the Ford automobile production. Motor production was then cut from 3000 to 1500 a day, and half of the human and mechanical resources of the great Highland Park automobile factories were turned into the production of the standardized eagle parts.

These standard parts great trainloads of them, are hauled around the City of Detroit to the River Rouge plant and distributed by trains along the north end of three long building shops. At one end of these shops a keel is laid on a great moving platform, mounted on railroad trucks, which acts as an indoor dry dock. The ribs are attached next, and the platform moves slowly along the shop, each stop meaning the addition of some standardized parts, by one of the several gangs of experts in their particular task.

At the south end of the three shops is a slip across which at right angles slides another great platform. It receives the completed hulls of eagles from all the shops and shunts them on to a track down which they slide beside the fitting shops, where cabins, superstructures, fittings and rigings are put on. Then the completed boats one each day, swing around in a great turning basin and feel their way out a concrete canal into the Detroit River.

Endorses Marshall.

Published by request of friends of Mr. S. E. Marshall.

Give us Sam Marshall for the Senate, and we'll win. Since boyhood I have known Sam Marshall. He has been a Republican all his life. He has made speeches in the olden days when Republicans were scarce articles in Surry County, and when it was dangerous for a man to uphold Republican principles. He has been a loyal member of his party ever since. Four years ago he would have been the nominee of the party for Congress if he had had a fair deal. Some men of prominence in the Republican party in Surry County, who owe their prominence to his influence, for some reason joined in a combination of politicians and took from him the nomination he was entitled to and which he would have received had he received a fair deal. He deserves the confidence and support of his party which he has ever been loyal to and which he has ever supported. He should be nominated for the Senate. He is a friend of the people, and deserves their support.

Go out to the primaries June 1st and vote for Hon. Same E. Marshall. This April 23, 1918.

Goodbye in Germany.

While the people of the United States are agitating the cutting out of German studies in the public schools, the German Government has gone ahead and boycotted all language other than that of what was once popularly known as "the Fatherland." The German people are not even allowed to say "goodbye" in any other language than that of Germany. The simple and soft-sounding "adieu" had been in popularity and possibly for that reason the Kaiser has ordered its abandonment. It is now somewhat of a performance to say goodbye in Germany, although the native has choice of a number of selections of speech. He may say either Gott beschutzte, or Goot Rich, to keep in good favor with the Kaiser, or he may drop down to the language of the common people with auf wiedersehen.

If he is not in a hurry he may tarry to draw out auf baldigeswiedersehen, or he may elaborate still further with the auf sehr baldigeswiedersehen. If the train is not just about to pull out he may signalize his departure and his abandonment to despair by saying ever seeing him again by the more elaborate form of bowing himself away with auf ein rechterzugesfrohes baldigeswiedersehen. Perhaps this latest edict of the Kaiser was taken merely with the view that it might serve as another device for keeping the mind of the people off the war.—Charlotte Observer.

Only a slacker could stand idly on the sidewalk and criticize the army of workers marches by.

Perspiring for an Imaginary Ideal

SO many men have not yet enjoyed the comfort of special apparel for hot weather wear, that with every advertisement we write, we feel we are influencing men toward a common sense idea.

It seems many men imagine that wool—all wool and a vest are the first requisites of correct attire.

Not so today—we are showing many splendid fabrics of feather weight—excellently tailored and designed, that instead of impairing man's appearance, improve it.
