Dollars and Cents.
Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you. A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care for yourself, in fact a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.

NATURE NEVER IN A HURRY
Waking Lesson From Wise Old Mother, Man Will Learn to Curb His Foolish Impatience.

We sometimes get impatient at the slowness of world improvement. We see the cruelties of a great war, cruelties beyond belief, and we are sick at heart to think the world is not in a mood overnight to abolish war. We see ignorance leading to poverty and wretchedness and we wonder that education is not made universal at once. We see preventable sickness producing disability and suffering and we are hopeless at the slow dissemination of modern medical knowledge and preventive measures.

And then it is borne in on us that Nature never is in a hurry. Out in Colorado the Rocky mountains turn a tumbling sea of peaks toward the sky. Standing on the summit of Pike's or Long's and looking off of that chaos of rock one naturally thinks some frightful convulsion of Nature threw up these mighty peaks.

But that thought is wrong. Geologists have learned that the mountain ranges were slowly and imperceptibly carved out by the action of rain and snow and frost and ice. First the highlands slowly emerged from the ocean. Then the rains and streams and glaciers made gullies and left the peaks. An observer returning at century intervals probably would have seen slight change. But eventually the work was done and the mountains made.

That is the way Nature operates. She can afford to curb his impatience. —Kansas City Star.

Mr. Eddie Flippin, one of the best citizens of the community, died at his home about two miles out from town on last Saturday night. Pneumonia was the cause of his death. He is survived by his wife and three small daughters. The deceased was never very strong physically but lived to be thirty-nine years of age.

The funeral services were held at the Primitive Baptist church, Rev. Rawley Stanley of Banner Town, his pastor and Rev. J. W. Combs officiating.

He was a faithful member of Sulphur Springs Baptist Church and remarked before he died that he had no fears of death whatever. His body was laid to rest in Mountain View Cemetery Monday afternoon.

He belonged to the Junior Order the members of which conducted the burial services.

The spelling bee, given under the auspices of the Civic League at the High School building Friday night, proved to be an occasion of much enjoyment to the large number of pupils and parents present. The "Old Blue Back Speller" was used throughout the evening. About every one missed at least one word and of course got turned down.

The Mission study class of the Young Peoples Missionary society of the M. E. Church met with Miss Cora Hiatt Thursday night, Jan. 29th. Twelve members and four visitors being present. The new book "Making America Safe" was taken up for study. The lesson was very interestingly explained by the efficient superintendent Miss Flora Hutchens. It was decided at this meeting to meet twice each month. Miss Myrtle Harris is to have the next meeting Feb. 4th.

A good many of the citizens attended court at Dobson this week.

Little Miss Laura Combs entertained about a dozen of her friends about her age on last Saturday evening, it being the occasion of her sixth birthday. Games were enjoyed for a time after which delightful refreshments were served.

The High School here and also the schools of the county have been suspended for two weeks by order of the county health officers as a precaution against the flu. There are so far only two very mild cases in town.

Misses Clarice Nelson and Maud Fulk who are teaching at Shoals spent the week-end with home folks here.

Mr. Clark Callum and wife moved to Winston-Salem last week.

Mrs. S. A. Forkner of Ararat is the guest of her daughter Mrs. S. W. Fulk. She will also visit her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Beasley, near Richmond before returning home.

Rev. J. W. Combs attended quarterly conference at Pinnacle last Friday.

J. S. Patterson attended a good roads meeting at Dobson Monday.

Miss Flora Hutchens, teacher of the eighth and ninth grades spent the week-end with relatives at Yadkinville.

J. Rierson Smith of Winston-Salem was the guest of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bell have been on the sick list for a few days.

Mrs. Robert Boyles and little son of Winston-Salem attended the burial of Mrs. Boyles' brother, Mr. Eddie Flippin Monday.

The Junior Order has bought of C. M. Bernard a two story brick building on Main street and will fit up the second story to be used as a lodge room. The lower story will be used as a store.

Mysterious Radio Waves May Emanate From Venus

Washington, Jan. 29.—If wireless messages are being received on the earth from some other planet, as suggested by William Marconi, it is not Mars sending the signals, but most probably Venus, says Dr. C. G. Abbott, director of the Smithsonian astrophysical observatory and assistant secretary of the Smithsonian institution.

Dr. Abbott makes no claim that the mysterious wireless signals do come from another planet, but says if they do, Mars is eliminated as a possibility because known conditions on that planet probably would not permit the existence of any form of living creature.

Teachers Honored

Misses Sallie and Jamie Hadley entertained at 5:30 o'clock Friday at a three course luncheon in honor of the out of town teachers. Covers were laid for twelve. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Eugene Paddison, music was furnished by the victrola and vocal selections rendered by Miss Johnson.

PASSENGER SHIP FROM GERMAN PORT ARRIVES

It Is The First Vessel From German Port To America Since July, 1914

New York, Feb. 2.—The first passenger ship to sail from a German port to the United States since July, 1914, and the first American passenger ship in many years to undertake a similar voyage, reached here today when the American line steamer Manchuria docked. She sailed from Hamburg January 9, calling at Southampton, and brought 39 passengers, all from the English port.

Captain Adrian Zeeder, master of the Manchuria, said he could have filled his ship to overflowing at Hamburg with passengers for America had passport regulations and restrictions as to travel permitted. Applications were numerous and Germans voiced their regrets that they could not come to this country.

It required eight days of 24 hours each, working three 8-hour shifts, to discharge at Hamburg the five thousand tons of cargo the Manchuria took with her to Germany, officers of the ship said. This work could have been done before the war in about 24 hours and the delay was said to be due to the listless manner in which the German dock workers labored. The officers said they were low of spirits, apparently suffering from malnutrition and displayed little ambition.

Food was said to be scarce, but those with money have no trouble in getting all they want, ship's officers declared. A party of five from the Manchuria dined at a prominent Hamburg hotel and paid for their meal 490 marks. On the other hand a story was told of one of the German dockers begging from the steward of the ship a piece of frozen beef which he eagerly devoured raw.

The Manchuria brought with her from Germany 200 bags of mail and a quantity of cargo, including phosphates.

MUST A CHILD BE PALE?

Pallor, "Tired-outness and Poor Appetite Almost Always Remedied by Pepto-Mangan

It Builds Up the Blood and Thus Improves the Appetite and Strengthens the Body

There is but one legitimate excuse for a pale, run-down, listless child, and that is some serious disease of one or more of the vital organs, which of course, needs the prompt attention of a competent physician. Unless such condition exists, the weak, white youngster who takes no pleasure in romping or playing can be very materially helped by a course of that thoroughly dependable blood enricher and general tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This standard remedy for Anemia (Bloodlessness) has been continuously prescribed by physicians all over the world for nearly thirty years, to restore the weakened, watery blood to its normal condition, and thus improve appetite, add color to pale lips and cheeks and impart strength to the whole body. Gude's Pepto-Mangan can be had in both liquid and tablet form (no difference in its effect), the liquid, of course being preferable for young children. When buying Pepto-Mangan, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

An Austrian Executed.

Paris, Feb. 2.—Lieutenant Funck, an Austrian, who, during the war, was employed in a bank here, and reported to the German points at which shells of their long range gun fell, was executed today. Louis Guas pare, a German spy, was also to have been executed, but at the last moment made revelations to the authorities and his execution was postponed 48 hours.
