Now for a Rest.

Ye editor has been on the job for a good many years and has never yet found the time and disposition to take a rest. But the time has come at last when he has been able to turn loose and get away from business and let the boys show their hand. They have already shown that they are plenty able to manage the job here at the office and we have not the least fears about their being able to get along without the old man. Maybe they will get along better without him.

Be that as it may ye editor is making all plans these days to hit the rails for Arizona to spend a vacation with a sister, Mrs. W. E. Woodruff, who lives at a place called Verde, Arizona.

Out there they say there is plenty of game and fish and all the days are cloudless and brimming full of sunshine. Anyway we are going out to see her and may stay a month or two months or until we get a hankering for the good old state again.

The boys here are masters of the game, for they have played it from youth and will be able to serve the people in an acceptable way beyond question in our mind, for they have already shown the ability to make good.

In a few weeks or months we hope to be back on the job with renewed vigor and again do our part in making this one of the most desirable parts of the earth.

The Election.

As we go to press, Wednesday afternoon, reports are slow coming in from the western states, but the Republicans are claiming that Harding is elected president by a large majority but just what the majority will be no one is able to tell. The first reports to reach this section are from the New England states and the Democrats usually expect the Republicans to carry them. In the western states where the voters disregard party affiliation and vote their consciences Democrats are expecting Cox to pull a large part of the vote on account of his stand for the League of Nations. However it will be necessary for him to carry most of these states as their vote is not as heavy as that in the Northern States which Harding will get.

In the state election the Democratic ticket has been elected by the largest majority in our history. Republicans admit their defeat in the state by a fifty thousand majority, while Democrats expect to pass the seventy-five thousand mark, and some are even claiming the result as an admission that the Democrats have a hundred thousand majority.

For the first time in our history, the Democrats have elected a Governor and a Lieutenant Governor. It was a real triumph for the Democrats. The Democratic ticket was elected by a large majority. The Democrats were never able to effect an energetic organization in the county and therefore were unable in many instances to answer these statements.

Republicans claim their majority will be around 1500, but the Democrats say this figure will be greatly reduced when the final returns are in. It seems there is no doubt but that they have elected their entire County ticket, although W. J. Byerly, Democratic candidate for County Commissioner, failed of election by only a small margin. This cutting down of the majority for the Republican candidates for Commissioners is evidence that even the Republican voters would like to see a more efficient management of county affairs.

In Mount Airy township the democrats elected their ticket by majorities ranging from 30 to 200. T. B. McCargo Sr., led the ticket when he was elected Judge of the Recorder's Court over his opponent, A. L. Sparger. Joe Moody defeated his Republican opponent, Claud Childress, for Constable. The following Democratic candidates were elected as Justices of the Peace: J. M. Parker, B. D. Beese, Sam Patterson, W. M. Jordan, S. C. Stewart, N. S. Caudle and Peter Beathrage.

Postmaster R. J. Lewellyn of Elkton was a visitor here Sunday to hear Dr. Lynch of Athens Ga. who preached at the First Baptist church. Dr. Lynch is a relative of Postmaster Lewellyn.

First Monday at Dobson.

Politicians who attended commissioners meeting at Dobson Monday of this week were disappointed in the crowd they found to greet them. The day was ideal and this connected with the interest in the election led the party leaders to expect to see large crowds there. But such was not the case. People who are accustomed to attending these gatherings say they never saw as small a crowd in Dobson on Monday before election.

One feature of the day of interest to many was the destruction of some 24 stills by Sheriff Belton. These stills had been captured by the sheriff and his deputies and stored in the county jail to await their destruction in the presence of the County Commissioners. To one who has never seen a lot of stills together the scene is interesting. You would picture in your mind seeing nice, bright copper stills, all smooth, washed out and fit to cook a dinner in. But not so in fact they are not all of copper in this day. On the grounds were stills made of zinc washing tubs, Texaco oil barrels, iron wash pots, wooden boxes with sheet iron bottoms, and the good house-wife's oil can. In the lot was one fine copper still that the officers said has been in service for more than fifteen years, and only recently had they been enabled to find it. Always before the owners were in luck enough to have it in hiding when the officers made their raid.

With the destruction of these 24 stills Sheriff Belton says they make a total of 151 destroyed during the term of his office.

WHITE CONCEDES THE ELECTION OF HARDING.

Democratic Chairman Also Concedes Republican Congress And Congratulates Mr. Harding.

New York, Nov. 2.—George White chairman of the Democratic national committee, conceded election of Senator Harding at 11 o'clock tonight.

Mr. White also conceded the election of a Republican Congress.

Mr. White's telegrams of congratulation follows:

"Senator Warren G. Harding, Marion, Ohio.

"The American people have overwhelmingly chosen you. Accept my congratulations and best wishes for a successful leadership of this great nation in its critical hour."

New York, Nov. 2.—On the face of returns showing the growing landslide for Harding, Governor Cox's own newspaper, the Dayton Daily News and Chairman White, of the Democratic national committee, soon after 11 o'clock tonight conceded the election of Senator Harding. Without waiting for returns from the west, which four years ago elected Wilson in the face of pluralities for Hughes throughout the east, the Democratic candidate and his chief manager conceded that in the "solemn referendum," which President Wilson declared would decide the league of nations question, American voters had preferred Harding who favored "staying out" to Cox who favored "going in."

Governor Cox, who was in his newspaper office when the concession of Senator Harding was published, said he would issue no statement. Senator Harding at his home in Marion said he was "more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part" than he was to exultation.

At 11:15 eastern time, with the west and middle west still scarcely heard from, the Harding landslide in the east was continuing with gathering momentum.

At the rate the Harding column was growing at that hour the Republican plurality in the state of New York would be around the unprecedented figure of more than a million. New York city, normally Democratic, was going for Harding by at least half a million.

Pennsylvania returns at that hour showed Harding leading Cox three to one and Senator Penrose elected. Massachusetts was promising Harding the greatest plurality ever given a presidential candidate in that state. Boston had gone for a Republican for the second time in its history, and had given Harding a greater lead over Cox than it gave McKinley over Bryan in 1896.
