

Relief is Found From Stomach Trouble

Hope for the millions of unfortunate men and women who are victims of stomach trouble is sounded by W. T. Hornbarger, 56 Pine St., Clifton Forge, Va. Mr. Hornbarger was a victim of stomach trouble in its worst form but was completely restored to health by taking Tanlac. He says: "I have actually gained thirty-six pounds by taking Tanlac and I'm able to work regular now for the first time in four years. I don't believe there is a man living who ever had stomach trouble worse than I did. I lived in dread of those spells all the time and life was almost unbearable. I am now in the best of health. Tanlac gets credit for it all."

Undigested food ferments on the stomach and soon the entire system is filled with poisons. Tanlac was designed to restore the stomach to a healthy condition and build up the whole body. Millions everywhere have acclaimed its wonderful power. Get a bottle today. For sale by leading druggists.

CO-OPS PLANNING MANY SUITS AND IT MEANS MERRY WAR

Threaten Libel Suits Against Man Who Has Been Attacking The System

Raleigh, Sept. 22—Co-operative marketing which had not found the courts a necessity thus far in the enforcement of covenants between the association and the growers, is now resorting to the law to hold growers to their agreement and having thus instituted suits the association now has itself fairly before the public.

In Raleigh the most interesting rumor is that Mallis A. Griffin, who has written a most irreverent article at he co-ops, is to be sued by the association. Mr. Griffin lives at Wendell in a very sizable tobacco community and a letter a few days ago from Burgess and Joyner intimating action against him brought a most defiant response. He welcomes the suit and talks powerfully at his threatened suitors.

Judge C. C. Lyon has heard the preliminary stages of these actions. The co-operative association applied before him for a restraining order Wednesday against Z. A. Harrell, of Edgecomb, and W. T. Jones, of Nash. These restraining orders are returnable before Judge Frank Daniels October 9, when the defendants will show cause why these injunctions should not be made permanent. Mr. Harris is said to have 25,000 pounds in the big pool and Mr. Jones 10,000. Besides the injunction, the association will sue for the penalty of 5 cents on all tobacco sold outside the co-operative houses.

The purpose of the association is to protect growers who are signed up from pressure on the part of the outsiders. These actions will be followed by others involving quite a big lot of money. Martin and Pitt counties are said to have many contract-breakers. And besides the overt act of breaking the contract, the association is disposed to prosecute those who have sought to procure the breach. Therein lies the possibility of a terrific fight. The outsiders who distrust the co-operative plan are going to insist on the right of free speech and will contend that any legislative act abridging the right of the auctioneers to use persuasion against the co-operatives, is an unwarranted invasion of constitutional rights.

The warfare will become hot right there and if there is any falling down of the co-operatives in their effort to hold in line 90,000 growers in the association, it will make easy the amendment if not the repeal of the present law which makes reprisals against the men who talk derogatory stuff against the association. But it is highly doubtful whether resort to the courts will not hurt more than it helps. Feeling is bitter in more than one county.

ARMENIANS BLAME FRANCE

Also Charge The U. S. With Furnishing The Turks

Boston, Sept. 20.—Turks engaged in the present effort to exterminate the Christians in Asia Minor are declared to be wearing uniforms made in America and to be using American-made munition bought of the United States Government at the close of the World War in a statement given out today at Boston headquarters of the Armenian National Union of America, attempting to show the attitude of France toward the Turkish armies.

Further attempt to show the French position is made in the added statement that Marshal Foch told the Armenian Bishop of Montreal on his visit to the Canada city last spring that if the Armenians wanted liberty they must fight for it. The statement says further:

"At that time the Armenians had been led to disarm while Turkey had armed, and 100,000 Armenians in Cilicia had been driven out and ruined. Most of these had sought refuge in Asia Minor only to be massacred."

Promises of protection for the Armenians given by J. J. Jusserand, French Ambassador at Washington, to officials of the Armenian organization, caused the organization to stop the propaganda it had begun to circulate. France, it believes, is behind the whole of the present devastation.

The following telegram sent to President Harding today was signed by the Armenian National Union of America:

Monstrous tragedy unparalleled in the history of the human race, and probably extermination confronts the remnant population of Christian Armenians in Asia Minor. The merciless Turk has added 150,000 lives to his toll of 1,500,000 massacred during the Great War. Only beautiful women and girls are spared to a fate worse than death. Bowed in grief, Armenians in America through the Armenian National Union fervently entreat your Excellency for at least some public expression of sympathy.

The moral support of the people of the United States whose hands are ever extended to suffering peoples of all creeds and races may do more in this calamitous crisis to stem the flood of plunder, pillage and assassination than the armed forces of Europe. Turkish newspapers published in this country boldly threaten the extermination of all Christian Armenians and Greeks. Mosques and citadels are to be built of the skulls of the victims.

Can America with moral integrity maintain an attitude of silence when another colossal tragedy is casting its shadows before, and the life and the peace of the world is again in imminent danger?

MAYNARD HAD PRESENTMENT.

Rutland Flights Were to Be His Last and He Attempted to Cancel These.

Wallace, Sept. 10.—When Mrs. Edward Gould, of New York, had a presentment that Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard would lose his life in an airplane accident, she asked her husband, a great admirer of Maynard, to give the "flying parson" $10,000 for the Saranac tubercular hospital and urge him to quit flying, according to statements made here today by A. P. Schlaske, representing the New York, American legion, at the funeral of Lieutenant Maynard.

Lieutenant Maynard had taken much interest in the tubercular sanitarium at Saranac and had made many flights for its benefit. Mr. Schlaske said. His heart seemed to be in the institution and it was thought that when he completed his flights at Rutland he would then stop forever.

Lieutenant Maynard had been urged by Mrs. Maynard to quit flying. He had promised her that he would, the airman having also had a presentment that something would happen to him. He attempted to cancel the engagement at Rutland but was urged by the management of the fair and thousands of people of that section not to do it. According to their request, he met his death just prior to the closing of the fair.

Mrs. Maynard first heard of her husband's death as she sat in her home at Queens, N. Y.

Funeral service for Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, the "flying parson," who lost his life in Vermont last week, was held at the Maynard family burying ground near Harrell's Store this afternoon.

One of the largest assemblages ever gathered for a funeral in this section of the state was there to hear the last sad rites said for one of Sampson county's most famous sons.

HOW human it is to be grateful to the defenders of our country in time of war, and to give stant appreciative thought to the soldiers and sailors who serve in time of peace.

A similar attitude is sometimes taken toward the services of the funeral director. Yet the very fact that he is professionally trained, modernly equipped and fully prepared to serve us in the crisis we could in no wise face without him is in itself a service to us all.

In the time of need he answers every call, no matter at what hour of the day or night it comes, no matter how far it takes him, to what dangerous or disagreeable tasks it leads him, or what suffering he must witness and, being human, must share.

Then it is that you find in him a friend and counselor, and because he has been called so many times into homes where sorrow has called first, he understands just what to do in the way that makes the last tribute a comforting memory.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my ... I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as lief be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well."

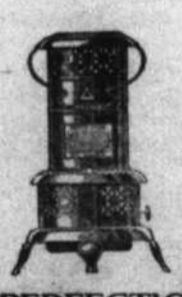

Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.
