FATHER KILLED BY HIS CRIPPLE SON

Is Shot Through Heart While Choking Young Daughter

High Point, June 11.—Domestic difficulties growing out of alleged misconduct with women of ill-repute brought death to Pink Brown, 45-year-old resident of Jamestown, Monday evening at 6 o'clock when his crippled son, Clay Brown, shot him through the heart with a revolver at their home in Jamestown.

The elder Brown, according to the story told officers who went to the scene of the tragedy, was choking his 18-year-old daughter, Miss Clara Brown, for unbraiding him for riding with women Sunday afternoon, when the girl's brother pulled a revolver from a bureau drawer and shot his father dead in his tracks.

Monday night, in city jail at High Point where he is held on a charge of first degree murder, young Brown requested police officers to secure for him the cartridge from which he fired the fatal bullet that snuffed out his father's life.

The dead man, it was said, was seen Sunday riding in an automobile with women of bad repute and Monday his young daughter was attempting to take him to task for his conduct when he flew into a rage, grabbed her by the throat and started choking her. Her brother, who is but 22 years of age and is crippled as a result of a motor car accident some months ago, is said to have grabbed his pistol and without uttering a word fired one shot point-blank into the breast of his father.

The only eye-witness of the tragedy in addition to the three principals is the wife and mother, Mrs. Ella Brown, who is prostrated with grief and shock and has made no statement concerning the case.

Other than requesting that he be given the empty cartridge as a memento of the murder young Brown has made no statement and refuses to talk concerning the tragedy.

The elder Brown is survived by the widow and one small daughter in addition to the two children said to be principals in the tragedy.

North Carolina, Surry County.
Mrs. Mattie Green Jessup, vs. James Jessup.

In Superior Court. Before the Clerk. Order of Publication.

This cause coming on to be heard before the undersigned at his office in Dobson, and it appearing that summons has been issued in the said case and that the complaint has been filed, and from the complaint it appears to the court that the action is for divorce from the defendant and that he is a necessary party to this action; and—

It further appearing that the defendant is a non-resident of the State and cannot, after diligent search and inquiry, be found in the state:

It is therefore Ordered by the court that notice be published in the Mount Airy News, a newspaper published in the town of Mount Airy, North Carolina, for four successive weeks, notifying the defendant that the complaint in the above case has been filed and further notifying said defendant to appear before the undersigned at his office at Dobson, Surry County, on the 20th day of July, 1923, and answer or demur to the complaint filed or the relief asked for in said complaint will be granted.

Witness my hand and official seal, this 11th day of June, 1923.

(Signed) F. T. LEWELLIN
Clerk Superior Court

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require and internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.

FORD STRAW ALL OVER WORLD

Used in Composition of Fordite, For Steering Wheels for Cars.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—Invisible, yet daily gripped in the hands of millions of persons, straw from the farm of Henry Ford is literally scattered to the four corners of the earth. Strange as this statement may seem, it is true.

Out on the Ford farm at Dearborn, Mich., operated entirely by Fordson tractor power, there was no use for the great loads of straw annually harvested there with the grain until the Ford Motor company, given to doing unusual things, found a use for it.

The straw is used as an ingredient in the composition of Fordite, a material of flint-like hardness and a development of the Ford Motor company, from which steering wheels are made and the Fordite plant at Highland Park supplies these steering wheels for all Ford cars and trucks, where ever assembled throughout the world—in the United States, Canada and abroad—and also for use on Fordson tractors.

The Fordite plant, begun about four years ago something as an experiment, is at present producing an average of 8,500 of these steering wheels daily under the manufacturing schedule of three eight-hour working shifts six days a week.

The straw from the Ford farm, which is sufficient in quantity for only about nine months' manufacture, after which straw must be purchased outside, is utilized, following a shredding process, as a binder in making that corner of Fordite which forms the corner of the steering wheel, insuring a rim of exceptional strength. The daily consumption at present is about a ton and a half a day.

Manufacture of Fordite begins with the raw materials. In preparing the core stock, the straw, rubber base, sulphur, silica and other ingredients are mixed in batches of 150 pounds each, which then go to the rubber mills, where they are mixed between heated rollers for a period of 45 minutes. By that time the substance is ready for the tubing machines into which it is fed in small strips and from which it emerges through a round die, much as sausage from a sausage-grinding machine. As it comes out it is cut into lengths of 52 inches and then is ready to be rolled into the outside covering of fine rubber-like substance.

After the core has been wrapped into the covering, affording a double cover, the whole is secured in circular form and sent to steel molds the exact size of a steering wheel.

Held fast in these molds under hydraulic pressure of 2,000 pounds to the square inch, these Fordite steering wheels are subjected to a heat treatment of 68 pounds of steam for a period of fifty minutes. Hot as they come from the steam ovens, they are soft and pliable, but within a short time after they are placed on the cooling racks they assume a flint-like hardness that remains.

Next, the Fordite steering wheels go to the finishing room, where they are smoothly trimmed and polished.

The pressed steel "spider" or cross piece, is then placed in the wheel and securely fastened on by a machine which in one operation bores a small hole and in the next screws in the screw. The steering is then ready for shipment and assembly on the car.

Having Trouble With Your Roses

Raleigh, N. C. June.—Mildew on roses may be checked by dusting flowers of sulphur over the bushes or vines. The sulphur will not remove the mildew already present but it will prevent further spreading, suggests G. W. Fant, extension plant pathologist for the State College and State Department of Agriculture. He advises that the sulphur be dusted on the plants several times after blossoming this year, preferably while dew is on the plant, and then repeated next spring before blossoming. With this care the rose plants should be free from mildew by the time they begin blossoming next season.

Mr. Fant says that considerable complaints have come in to the College this year about mildew and leaf blotch on roses. He recommends the dusting in early spring to prevent the mildew getting a start. If one has a spray outfit, the use of commercial lime-sulphur spray will be found more effective than the flowers of sulphur. In that case the liquid should not be allowed to strike the painted surface of the house as it acts on the paint. It will also remain as a stain on the foliage until washed off by the rain and for this reason should not be applied just before blossoming.

"Well established rose bushes represent a considerable amount of trouble, are very beautiful and therefore should be given the proper preservative care," says Mr. Fant.
