

"Our Family Medicine"

"I WILL WRITE you in regard to Black-Draught liver medicine, as I have been using it more than 18 years," says a letter from Mr. S. F. Mintz, of R. F. D. 2, Leland, N. C. "I keep it in my home at all times, for it is really our family medicine. When we begin to feel feverish or sluggish, with trouble from the liver or stomach, we take a dose of Theodor's Black-Draught and the trouble is soon over. I usually buy a dollar package at a time, and it has saved me many a bill." Theodor's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable remedy, acting on the liver, stomach and bowels. It is made from selected herbs and roots, and contains no alcohol or other mineral drugs.

It has been found of great value in indigestion, stomach trouble, sick headache, constipation, and lazy liver, helping to relieve the symptoms caused by these troubles, and to put the digestive system into proper working order.

British Sportsmen Find Several Huge Specimens Who Will Be Trained.

London, Sept. 27.—England is fine-combing her ranks of youth and strength in search of a man of sufficient physique to meet the heavyweight champion of the world. For 25 years the country has failed to produce a real heavyweight leader. It is on this account that Tex O'Rourke, who has trained some of America's best fighters, has been brought to England to lend his advice to British pugilistic promoter and sporting clubs in their quest for a "British hope."

At a recent meeting of boxing enthusiasts held in London to celebrate the "movement" the American expert gave an interesting account of the adventures he encountered in his search for a contender for the championship.

All the towns and villages of England, Mr. O'Rourke explained have been searched for the right man. The plan is, when a heavyweight of potentialities is discovered, to pay him the same salary he has been earning and put him through the most rigorous training that an English boxer has ever experienced. He will be taught "the whole business" and, when he is fit, start fighting at the bottom rung of the ladder until his experience is such that he may have some chance of beating whoever the champion of the time happens to be.

O'Rourke said, in his search of England, that he had discovered four or five young men with the desired physical qualities coupled, an far as could be known at this stage, with the necessary mental qualities. The first discovery to pass the test was Leslie Price, son of a Bristol hotel-keeper, weighed 220 pounds, and is 20 years of age. In the same town was found Henry Walter McCran, 6 feet 3 inches tall, 217 pounds in weight, aged 22. "I have never seen a man 'in the raw' possessed of more aggression than this one," said Mr. O'Rourke.

From Birmingham comes William Prestage, 6 feet 3 inches, 196 pounds, with exceptionally large hands and a very long reach. Liverpool has given Isaac Ingleton, a giant of 6 feet 5 inches, who has been accustomed at

You need Balance for Quick Starting and those other VITAL gasoline qualities

YOU can easily measure the high motive power of "Standard," the balanced gasoline, with the proper apparatus. But it would be hard to estimate its great moral force in eliminating those harsh, cruel words usually addressed to a slow-starting motor. "Standard" users have forgotten what slow starting means.

If your engine is right, your switch on, and the choke out for a moment, "Standard" gives you instant starting, because it's balanced, which means that it has exactly the right proportion of low, quick-catching fractions that ignite instantly in the coldest motor.

This balanced gasoline also gives you the snappy power for pick-ups, the hard-pulling power for hills and the lean-mixture power for long mileage that have made "Standard" the regular choice of hundreds of thousands. Test it out and see for yourself—next time you fill up.
