REPRIEVE AT MIDNIGHT SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Raleigh, May 22.—Governor McLean signed an order at midnight last night that gave a three weeks reprieve to Will Williams, Scotland county negro, who had been put in readiness for going to the electric chair at 10:30 o'clock this morning for the murder of Frank Green, a negro farmer.

The governor granted the reprieve after attorneys for Williams had urged postponement of the execution date to permit a further inquiry for new evidence.

Everything had been made ready yesterday afternoon for the execution. Williams head was shaved, a minister had administered final religious rites to him and the paraphernalia for operating the electric chair had been put in place.

Williams new execution date falls on June 5.

Alex Rodman, Mecklenburg negro, whose electrocution had been scheduled for this morning, and who was reprieved yesterday afternoon, will also die on June 5, unless the governor intercedes.

Shower for Bride-Elect

A pretty compliment to Miss Mary Thompson, a June bride-elect, was the miscellaneous shower given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Ruth Sargent Martin.

This delightful affair was given in the lovely Sargent home on North Main Street and bridge was played at five tables, score being kept on bridal place cards.

The favors were tiny bags of rice and the shower was presented in a large bag, a duplicate of the favors.

The high score prize, a bottle of Houbigant perfume, was won by Mrs. William Sydnor.

Sandwiches and tea followed by an ice course were temptingly served.

Mrs. Dixon Hostess to Bridge Club

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club and other friends were guests of Mrs. E. H. Dixon at a lovely party Tuesday afternoon.

A gorgeous floral display made fragrant and beautiful the living room, dining room and porch.

The top score club prize, a cut glass bell was won by Mrs. E. C. Bivens, and two lovely linen towels were presented to Miss Mary Thompson a bride elect.

Delicious refreshments consisting of tomato cases stuffed with chicken salad, wafers, chess straws, frozen penches with whipped cream dressing, pickled cherries and iced tea, were served.

THAT WHICH IS DUE.

In order to do justice, and to give due credit, to our townsman, Doctor S. A. Conduff, I wish to say that a short time ago I developed some trouble with one of my eyes. I consulted this gentleman. He diagnosed the case and prescribed accordingly. But when I found that he regarded the case as a serious one and was not particularly optimistic, I became a bit alarmed.

Naturally I wished to consult Doctor R. V. Brawley, of Salisbury, who is a ranking specialist of the State and who had treated me from time to time for more than a score of years. He kept me for about four hours and after an exhaustive examination, he told me to say to Doctor Conduff that he agreed with him entirely. That meant in his diagnosis and his treatment.

I wish to say this, not only because Doctor Conduff has been very kind to me, but because it is due him as a specialist and one who has not been with us long enough to get well acquainted.
