JULY IN SOME PLACES ENDED WITH FLOODS.

Detroit Has Heaviest Rainfall in Years and Rio Grande Valley is Menaced By High Water.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—July in the summer column of months has made its exit more in the manner of the proverbial March lion. Heavy rains, floods, extremely low temperature for the season and even a snowfall at El Paso marked the parting blow of a normally stalling month.

At Detroit the heaviest rainfall in years caused damage estimated at $500,000 to $1,000,000. Transportation service was crippled, industrial plants, residences and streets suffered from the downpour and valuable records were ruined when two feet of water flooded the basement of the city hall. A motorboat was driven over lawns and streets in the vicinity of East Jefferson street.

Menace of a flood on the Rio Grande at El Paso kept relief crews at work most of the night strengthening weak spots in the dikes along the river near the city.

It was expected that these precautionary measures would ward off danger. A considerable area of farm land near Juarez, Mexico, was flooded Thursday when high water broke part of the dike on the Mexican side. Railroad washouts were reported at two places in New Mexico.

Although no especial damage was caused by rain all day and night in New York and vicinity, sporting events were cancelled.

Temperatures in the 50's and 60's were distributed generally throughout the east central states.

At El Paso where snow flurries fell for six hours, overcoats and other heavy clothing were hastily sought by residents who had sweated under a 100 degree temperature early in the week.

The only cities qualifying in the high mercury column were Boise, Idaho, Fresno, Cal., and Walla Walla, Wash., where the thermometer registered 100 or more.

Bryan Wrote Out Prayers He Said Before His Meals.

Dayton, Tenn., July 31.—A speech made by William Jennings Bryan at Columbia in 1918 sowed the seeds of a friendship which brought him to live his last hours and there to die in the home of Richard Rogers, Dayton pharmacist.

Mr. Rogers, a soldier in Camp Jackson, near Columbia, heard the address of the Commoner and became at once an admirer of the great man. He followed Bryan's career with keen interest thereafter and when Mr. Bryan was asked to come to Dayton to take part in the Scopes prosecution, the young pharmacist wrote to the Floridian and invited him to be his guest during the stay here.

The fundamentalist spokesman accepted the invitation, and when he arrived here July 17, he established himself in the quiet little residence in Market street. He and young Rogers became close friends through their association. When Mrs. Bryan and other members of her household arrived the Rogers family moved over to a neighbor's house in order that the visitors might have entire and comfortable occupancy of the house of five rooms.

Sunday last, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Bryan went to church together. After the dinner which followed, and perhaps an hour or less before his death, Mr. Bryan dictated to his friend and host three short prayers which the Commoner had been accustomed to offer as grace before meals. Mr. Rogers had taken an interest in the unusual wording and sentiment of the table blessings.

These are the brief petitions Mr. Bryan was accustomed to use, one before each meal, as he dictated them to his friend before he lay down for his short nap from which he never awoke:

"God is great, and God is good, and we thank Him for food. By His hand must all be fed; give us, Lord, our daily bread."

"Be present at our table, Lord; be here and everywhere adored. These mercies bless and grant that we may feast with Thee in Paradise."

"We thank Thee, Heavenly Father, that Thou dost supply Thy children's needs. May we in return give Thee our consecrated lives."

Beware of Drunken Drivers.

Hickory, Aug. 2.—Max Little, 9-year-old son of Charles Little, of Claremont, died at a local hospital early this morning as a result of an accident late yesterday afternoon when the car driven by Giden Moser pinned him to a building on a main thoroughfare here. Moser is being held on a charge of manslaughter and the preliminary hearing is set for tomorrow morning. It is understood from police headquarters that Moser will also be charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

I SHALL NOT PASS AGAIN THIS WAY

(Much worn, this poem was found in the desk of Mr. Daniel S. Ford, the proprietor and editor of the Youth's Companion after his death when his desk was cleared by loving hands. It explains much of Mr. Ford's wide and generous benefactions.)

The bread that giveth strength I want to give;
The water pure that bids the thirsty live;
I want to help the fainting day by day;
I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give the oil of joy for tears,
The faith to conquer cruel doubts and fears,
Beauty for ashes may I give always;
I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give good measure running o'er,
And into angry hearts I want to pour
The answer soft that turneth wrath away;
I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.

I want to give to others hope and faith;
I want to do all that the Master saith;
I want to live aright from day to day;
I'm sure I shall not pass again this way. —Selected.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Bad Backs Bring Suffering to Many Mount Airy Folks

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Mount Airy folks.

Mrs. E. R. Sawyer, 148 Orchard St., Mount Airy, says: "I had an annoying, dull ache in my back and sometimes, lightning like pains flashed through my back so I could hardly get around. I became nervous and the least thing annoyed me. I had headaches and dizzy spells, too. My kidneys didn't act right. I felt tired and worn out all the time. I began using Doan's Pills from the Mt. Airy Drug Co. and they rid me of the trouble."

Why Burden Your Wife?

Perhaps your wife has shared many of your business decisions, as many wives do, and because she is your chief beneficiary, you are thinking of making her your executor and trustee. Unless she is a woman of exceptional business training, accustomed to making safe investments, she will find this a perilous task. Moreover, a mere outline of the consecutive steps that must be taken in settling an estate, after the legal authority to act has been granted, would show that as your executor she must attend promptly to many details of management at a time when it may be difficult for her to think of business matters. Why burden your wife with these details, even if, in your opinion, she is competent to attend to them?

"Ever had the magnets recharged?"

"She shouldn't be so hard to crank. How long have you had her? Two years? Well, the magnets have probably weakened. They call them 'permanent magnets' but that don't mean they'll last forever. We'll test these for you and recharge them if they need it". The experienced Fleet Boss knows that poor starting is often blamed on the "gas" when as a matter of fact it is the fault of the spark.

Oil gets blamed for lots of things, too, that are not its fault. Take carbon, for instance. Do you know that often over 60% of the alleged carbon in your cylinders is just plain road dirt? We know, because we've had it analyzed. Of course some oils leave more carbon than others. That is why it pays to buy the best oil. Ask for "Standard" by name. Have you tried our special brand for Ford cars only? Easy start. Easy stop. Quiet bands.
