Visiting Lady Meets With Fatal Accident

An accident occurred in this city last Saturday night on North Main Street which caused the sudden death of Mrs. C. L. Bray, of Liberty, and brought a pall of sadness over the throngs that were on the streets at that hour. Mr. and Mrs. Bray were spending a few days in this city with their only child, Mrs. E. R. Stout, and the entire party had all their plans to return home Sunday, the daughter and little grandchild going with them. Mr. Bray and Mr. Stout walked down the street soon after supper. A little later Mrs. Stout took her little girl and mother and started from her home on North Main Street to join her father and husband down town, driving her closed car. While driving at a moderate rate of speed in front of the home of Mrs. J. H. Prather the door of the car suddenly flew open and the three-year-old child of Stout, that was sitting in its grandmother's lap, fell to the pavement. In an effort to catch the child Mrs. Bray either lost her balance or jumped to get the child, and was thrown violently to the pavement her head striking first, fracturing her skull and causing almost instant death.

Mrs. Stout also jumped from the car in her desire to rescue her mother and child, in her excitement failing to stop the car, it proceeding on down the street under its own power and direction later coming to a stop without doing any damage. Mrs. Stout and the child escaped with only a few bruises. Mrs. Bray was rushed to the hospital but life was extinct before she arrived there. The body was prepared for burial and the sad party left here Sunday morning and carried it to Liberty where the funeral was held Tuesday. Mrs. Bray was 49 years of age, and was counted one of the most lovable characters of her community. Her husband is a prominent business man of his town and the accident brought sadness to the hearts of a great concourse of friends and relatives.

Chautauqua A Big Success

The Home Talent Chautauqua program given under the direction of Mrs. J. D. Jenkins at the National Theatre, Friday evening, has been the subject of much favorable comment, and all those on the program and contributing in any way to its success are to be congratulated on the high class and well rendered program. The effort started for the purpose of furthering a very worthy charitable cause and the idea seems to have taken root in the minds of many that a home talent league should be organized to cultivate and improve the latent musical and dramatic talent of our citizens, with short public programs given from time to time. This would be a means of cultivating appreciation of our local talent and also a means of developing and making better our already fine talent.

Well Known Citizen Passes Away

John W. Jones, of this city died at Martin Memorial hospital last Thursday morning after an illness of about two months. The funeral was held at Salem Methodist Church, Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. V. Peise and Rev. J. H. Brown and the body laid to rest in the cemetery near by. Mr. Jones was well known in this city and surrounding country and for many years had engaged in concrete work, being one of the first to engage in that profession when the city started laying sidewalks here 25 years ago. He leaves a wife and several children. He was a member of the Salem Methodist Church and of the Mount Airy High School.
