

Sale of Land by Commissioner.
 By virtue of the power contained in an order of the Superior Court of Wilkes County, in special proceedings entitled Ross Stephens and others, against Vance Deavenport and others, made Nov. 4th, 1925, appointing the undersigned as commissioner to sell the real estate belonging to the estate of the late J. F. Stephens, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises in Pilot Mountain, N. C. on Saturday, December 11th, 1926, at one o'clock P. M., the following real estate:
 1. Lot on Main Street, fronting about 140 feet on Main Street and running back to Marion Street and fronting about 300 feet on Marion Street.
 2. Lot 75 by about 150 feet, fronting on Marion Street, and running back along Key street. Nice dwelling house on this lot.
 3. Two lots on Stephens street and running back to railroad. Lots numbers 11 and 12 of Town Plat. These lots are situated on railroad near Key street, and valuable sites for storage buildings.

 4. Lots on street leading to Duran, fronting 500 feet on this street and running back to S. W. Park and Charles Street.
 5. Tract of land containing about 2 acres, on south side of road leading to Duran and bounded as follows: Beginning at J. B. Smith's corner in edge of street thence with street N. 51 E. 487 feet to Lora Sorenson corner, thence with her line S. 54 E. 280 feet to Key street, thence with Key street S. 91 W. 61 links, thence with another street S. 54 E. 233 feet to Hub Wilson corner S. 91 W. 517 feet, S. 70 E. 90 links to railroad right-of-way, S. 65 W. 930 feet, then with J. B. Smith's line N. 3 E. 830 feet to beginning.
 6. All other lands belonging to the estate of J. F. Stephens, not heretofore sold.
 Terms of sale one fourth cash, balance in two equal payments in one and two years. Deferred payments to draw interest at 6 per cent.
 This November 9th, 1926.

INCREASE PAY OF 5-DAY WEEK MEN
Ford Says Shorter Week Spiritually Sound; Reports of Lay-Offs Denied.
 Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—Raises in pay to offset the reductions brought about by the five-day work week have been granted to 92,468 employees of the Ford Motor Company and are gradually being put into effect throughout the entire organization, officials of the company announced today.
 The number to whom the increases so far have been granted represent about one-third of the employees of the motor company branch of the Ford organization. By spring officials indicated, they expect that every employe in the organization will have been brought under the new work plan.
 Although not formally announced until a few weeks ago, the Ford five-day week plan has been in process of experimentation for more than a year and officials indicated they were satisfied of its success.
Helps Business.
 It is the contention of the Ford organization that the two days' leisure each week, workers turn out more and better work and in addition point out that this leisure time helps the automobile business.
 "This is not philanthropy," Charles E. Sorenson, superintendent of the main Ford factory here said. "It is simply good business. More leisure gives people more time to spend on automobiles and the more leisure there is to spend in riding the more cars will be needed in which to ride."
 "The process of turning out six days work in five days in our plants will not be done by slave driving. It will be done by eliminating the drones. Slack is being taken up. Some of the work is being redistributed. There will be some changes in machinery."
Not Hard Hit.
 Mr. Sorenson denied reports that the Ford company had been hard hit by competition, especially by the General Motors Corporation, and for that reason had not been publishing figures. He also denied that there had been large lay-offs in men.
 "We have 11,100 more men in our employ now than at the peak of employment of previous years. Also, we have been producing 6,500 cars a day this year on a five-day basis."

 Viewing the five-day week more aside from the light of a solid business proposition, Henry Ford is quoted in an article in yesterday's issue of his publication, the Dearborn Independent, as saying the spiritual benefits will probably outweigh other profits derived by the workers.
 "It is just as sound from the spiritual standpoint. The church will be one of its chief beneficiaries."
 "Leisure to be effective must be properly directed. The church will receive rewards from this new leisure commensurate with the force it exerts in directing the intelligent use of it.
 "Men have been giving an undue influence to play. They have stressed the physical to the neglect of the spiritual. In the squirrel cage round of work and recreation which they have devised they have left no place for the church. The physical aspect of Sunday has been gaining predominance over the spiritual."
 With but one day of leisure, Mr. Ford was quoted as saying, men are prone to rest and neglect the spiritual aspect of the Sabbath.
 "The sixth day of the week should be spent in leisure leaving the seventh for moral and religious observance."

Mountain Park Observes Armistice Day.
 Mountain Park Institute, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day was celebrated at Mountain Park Institute, Mountain Park, N. C. The chapel hour was devoted entirely to this cause. A very impressive program was rendered consisting of patriotic songs, brief addresses by members of the faculty and student body. Not only those who gave their lives for their country were remembered, but also those who gave their service in any way. On Armistice Day we try to impress on the minds of the hearers, principles that tend to make peace, so that nations may be neighborly and friendly in order that we may not have an experience of another World War. — Student.
