GOOD FOODS

Everybody likes a good potato salad, but why will good cooks sometimes serve cold potatoes unpalatable and unseasoned and call the dish salad? As the potato cut into cubes, small ones too, takes some time to absorb the flavor of dressing and other vegetables added to it, it is reasonable to let them stand some time in a marinade (thin French dressing) - just enough to lightly moisten the potato. With onion, cucumber, a few shredded almonds, and finally a good highly seasoned dressing, the salad will be palatable.

Oak Hill Potato Salad.—Cut cold boiled potatoes into small cubes; to two cups add one-half cupful of finely cut celery and a medium-sized apple cut into dice. Mix with a good French dressing and let stand until ready to serve, then add enough thick mayonnaise or boiled dressing to coat each bit of the salad and serve.

Potato Salad.—Cook potatoes in their jackets, to have a good flavored potato. Peel and cut into dice twelve medium-sized potatoes. Cut one cucumber into dice after peeling, and shred the heart of a bunch of celery which has been crisped in cold water. Cut three hard-cooked eggs into eighths, then into slices. Mix all together with a good cooked salad dressing and let stand two or three hours to season. Serve on lettuce garnished with a sprig of the dressing. If wished especially crisp add the cucumber or another one cut into cubes at the time of serving with a few shredded almonds.

Baked Rhubarb.—Wash stalks of rhubarb, wipe and cut into inch pieces without removing the skin. Arrange in layers with sugar sprinkled on each, in a baking dish, and bake until the rhubarb is tender. Add one or two tablespoonsful of water at first, cover and bake for a few minutes, then remove the cover.

GOOD HEALTH NECESSARY Many Busy Women Owe Their Health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Fifty years ago there were few occupations for women. Some taught school, some did housework, some found work to do at home and a few took up nursing. Today there are very few occupations not open to women. Today they work in factories with hundreds of other women and girls. There are also women architects, lawyers, dentists, executives, and legislators. But all too often a woman wins her economic independence at the cost of her health. Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain who works in the Unionall factory making overalls writes that she got "wonderful results" from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Chamberlain lives at 508 Monmouth St., Trenton, N. J. She recommends the Vegetable Compound to her friends in the factory and will gladly answer any letters she gets from women asking about it. If Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you?
