TIGHT FEELING

Ministerial Merchant Remembrance Black-Draught For The Symptom Of Indigestion.

Mr. D. W. Huff, a retired merchant of Centerville, Miss., and very well known in his part of the state, makes the following statement, in regard to his experience with Theodor's Black-Draught:

"About thirty years ago, I found myself in need of a medicine and I began using Black-Draught, as it had been highly recommended to me. I found it good.

"I used to have a tight feeling in my chest, after meals, suffered from indigestion, and was very uncomfortable. I would feel tired, not like working. I could take a few doses of Black-Draught, and feel like work. I call it 'my medicine'."

Let Theodor's Black-Draught be your medicine, too. Sold everywhere. One cent a dose.

Shugart-Click.

Elkin Tribune, Feb. 2.—Interesting to many friends here and throughout the state was the wedding on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Statesville of Mrs. Grace Tatum Shugart, of High Point and Mr. A. G. Click, of this city, the nuptial ceremony being solemnized at the home of the bride's brother, Dr. Roy C. Tatum. The bride's brother-in-law of the First Baptist Church of Lumberton, officiated, the impressive ring service being used. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the members of the immediate families being present. The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. M. A. Biggs and Mrs. E. G. Click, daughters of the bridegroom. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Click sang "Deep In My Heart." While the vows were being taken, Mrs. Biggs played very softly "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile." Immediately following the ceremony a buffet dinner was served, Mr. and Mrs. Click leaving at once for his home in this city, where they are residing.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Ida H. Tatum and the late Samuel Tatum of Coolestee, and is a young woman of exceptional strength of character. Possessing a striking personality, as well as a rare graciousness and sincerity of manner she is greatly admired wherever she is known.

The bridegroom, a prominent manufacturer, banker and orchardist, is prominently known throughout North Carolina and other states and long has been recognized as one of the most successful business men of this city, having been one of the staunchest supporters of every movement looking to the progress and upbuilding of the town and community.

Mr. and Mrs. Click are now at home to their friends at their beautiful residence on West Main street.

MUST GET MAN TOO TO SECURE REWARD

Bill Would Stop Paying of $20 For Still Unless Operator Is Caught.

Raleigh, Feb. 2.—Thirty per cent of North Carolina's counties Tuesday went homebound in favor of requiring prohibition officers to bring home the bacon when they take a still, and probably all of North Carolina would have diffeed these doings, had not Representative Turlington with his eagle prohibition eye not seen a possible let-down in the enforcement morals.

The bill was purely local when Representative Toby Connor brought it to the house. Mr. Connor had swarmed of paying sheriffs and others $20 for every coffee pot and tin can which officials brought into town with nothing but an evil smell as evidence that once this was a still. So for Wilson he resolved that hereafter an officer taking a still must get him a man. Nat Townsend into opponent of Mr. Connor, asked first to get in the select class. Then the house tumbled. It was suggested that this measure become state-wide. It is a money-saver. But Mr. Turlington did not wish it for Ireland.

So it stopped at about thirty or so counties. The bill merely provides that when an officer gets a still he must catch his man and convict him. The high court must sustain the conviction. Mr. Connor explained how wide open is the present law. The catcher of the still gets any old makeshift and is rewarded. He must make good now.

DEAF, DUMB, BLIND, ONE DRINK'S WORK

Young Charlotte Man, Unable To Get Work, Sought Chair of Liquor.

Charlotte, Feb. 5.—Calvin B. Smith, 20, of Charlotte, tonight was deaf, dumb and blind and paralyzed as a result, his parents said, of taking a drink of what he thought was corn liquor.

His physician, Dr. George C. Wingate, said the youth probably would recover. He declared he had been called on a number of such cases recently and that every one of the patients recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith, his parents, said their son had been out of work for months and that he had been trying to obtain a position. All of yesterday was spent in attempting to get a job, they declared, but he was unsuccessful.

"I guess he was so blue he thought he ought to have a drink" the mother said.

Some friends were met late that afternoon it was explained and the young man was given some liquor.

Early last night the father found his son at a filling station and they walked home together it was stated. Mr. Smith said his son then was not very drunk but when the youth reached home and began to undress he "went raving crazy."

According to the father, he begged to be allowed to kill himself, saying he was dying anyhow and that he might as well be out of his misery. He grew blind gradually, the father explained and then came deafness and loss of speech and finally paralysis.
