

Texas Pastor Alters Marriage Ceremony

Bonham, Tex., March 14.—It used to be "until death do us part." Now it is "as long as this union shall last."

Believing that the traditional phrase used in marriage ceremonies deliberately places men and women in a position that later may cause one or both to violate their marriage oaths or toll a lie, Rev. Aubrey Hess, pastor the First Congregational church here, has rewritten the words he uses in ceremonies.

There might be a divorce of a separation, Rev. Hess says, either of which would result in a violation of the oath if the old phrase were used.

Instead of the word "to love, honor and obey," Hess uses "to love, forgive for, to make a home for and to remain clean, true and spotless."

For thirst and fatigue drink a bottle of PEPSI-COLA—you'll be surprised at the result.

PAID BY HUSBAND TO BOB HER HAIR

Marshall Woman Receives $1,000 To Part With Priced Adornment

Asheville, March 9.—Reserve English on the usual stand of the lowly husband as to whether or not his wife may bob her hair has originated at Marshall. The seductive lure of money has claimed another victim. She is Mrs. F. E. Freeman, well-known Marshall woman, who for a wonder, did not want her hair bobbed. And her husband, president of the City Milling Company, large flour and meal plant in Marshall, wanted her to bob it.

This reversal of the usual order of domestic opinions continued in status quo for quite a while, with Mr. Freeman offering his wife considerable inducements if she would wear her hair short. He thought it was quite the proper and attractive thing for women.

Now the wife has "gone and done it." If you see her today you will take particular note of the bob, for it cost Mr. Freeman exactly $1,000 in addition to the barber's charges. When her husband's offer reached this astonishing figure, she couldn't resist any longer. She got the money in advance. Then she let the barber use his shears on her hair. Then she cried a bit over the loss of it.

But she seems to be quite reconciled to the idea after a few days of it, for everyone tells her it is becoming.

BANDITS BLOW UP AUTO TO GET $102,000

Payroll Car Wrecked And Guards Disabled Leaving Bandits Easy Escape—Attack Had Been Carefully Planned.

Pittsburgh, March 11.—Planting dynamite bombs expertly under a highway, nine bandits today wrecked two armored automobiles by setting off the explosives as the machines passed and escaped with a $102,000 payroll of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company.

Most of the five drivers and guards of the two cars, an armored truck carrying the money and a lighter escorting car, were knocked unconscious by the blast but one of them, retaining his senses, had a pistol held at his head by one of the robbers until the others had gathered up the money. All the custodians of the payroll were injured, one seriously.

The holdup occurred as the payroll cars neared the Coverdale Mine, nine miles from Pittsburgh. Castle Shannon, three miles from Coverdale, was the scene of a holdup Christmas, 1925, when a $48,000 payroll of the same coal concern was stolen and a guard killed.

All officers in western Pennsylvania tonight sought the robbers, who were reported to have escaped in two automobiles. State police and Allegheny County detectives, augmented by groups of other officers, sped along the principal highways searching for them.

Cutting of all telephone lines in the vicinity of the holdup gave the robbers more than an hour's start.

The robbery apparently was carefully planned. Starting out with $175,000 in the armored truck, $73,000 had been delivered to two mines when the two machines, the second acting as an escort, left the Library road, a main highway, and turned into the old Bethel road to deliver the Coverdale payroll before proceeding to two other mines for the same purpose.

Two charges of dynamite had been planted in the Bethel Road approximately 100 yards from the main highway.

As the cars passed over them, the two bombs, more than 30 feet apart, were set off with an electric battery by the bandits, hidden nearby. Both automobiles were blown into the air, overturning as they fell shattered wrecks near holes several feet deep where the dynamite had been placed.

Howard Blackstone, W. H. Tarr and Edward Herbster were in the armored truck containing the money and William Learzaf and Lester Staudinger were in the lighter machine. Blackstone, the most seriously injured, suffered a fractured skull when he was blown from the car and alighted on his head. The injuries of the others, who were also thrown from the machines, were considered of a minor character.

Tarr was the first to regain consciousness. As he climbed to his feet one of the robbers ran to him and forced him at the point of a pistol to lie face downward. While the one bandit remained at Tarr's side, the others scooped up the money, which was intact, in the armored truck, placed it in two automobiles and disappeared along the Old Bethel road. Police learned that one of the machines carried Pennsylvania License 502-896, which was issued to H. B. Light, R. D. 4, Myerstown, Lebanon County. The car is reported to have been stolen.

Almost all of the world's supply of camphor, an important ingredient in the manufacturer of modern explosives for high-power guns comes from Formosa.
